Making Do:

Making Do Mardi Reardon-Smith, 2025-10-21 Cape York is a remote and biodiverse peninsula in northeastern Australia that has been inhabited by Aboriginal communities for thousands of years. Since colonization much of the peninsula has been used for large scale cattle farming. It is also a place of global significance as the site of multiple environmentally protected bioregions with ongoing efforts to recognize them as UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Despite the very human role in shaping the landscape of Cape York the region remains widely thought of as a wilderness to be conserved and protected. In this context what counts as natural and native matters crucially as does who gets to decide how species and people are categorized and accordingly how they are controlled. Based on long term field research with Aboriginal traditional owners settler descended cattle herders and park rangers Making Do investigates complex ways in which people form maintain and transform relationships to changing environments. How do we know the places in which we live and how do we care for them among the ruptures created by forces like climate change settler colonialism and structural inequalities. To address these questions Mardi Reardon Smith traces issues such as the history of land tenure changes the identification and control of weeds and feral pigs and wildfires and Aboriginal cultural burning. Mardi Reardon Smith argues that caring for land a sprawling messy and sometimes violent process is not just about repair restoration or maintenance rather it is about bringing into being workable landscapes livable worlds and possible futures.

World War II was a call to arms and in 1943 Johnny eagerly joined the Eighth Air Force before being shipped to England. After an intense four months and three missions over Germany including a crash landing his crew was shipped back to the states. Masks, Misinformation, and Making Do Wendy Welch, 2023-01-24 The firsthand pandemic experiences of rural health care providers who were already burdened when COVID 19 hit raise questions about the future of public health and health care delivery. This volume comprises the COVID 19 pandemic experiences of Appalachian health care workers including frontline providers administrators and educators. The combined narrative reveals how governmental and corporate policies exacerbated the region's injustices stymied response efforts and increased the death toll Beginning with an overview of the SARS CoV 2 virus and its impact on the body the essays in the book's first section provide background material and contextualize the subsequent explosion of telemedicine the pandemic's impact on medical education and its relationship to systemic racism and related disparities in mental health treatment Next first person narratives from diverse perspectives recount the pandemic's layered stresses including the scramble for ventilators masks and other personal protective equipment the neighbors friends and family members who flouted public health mandates convinced that COVID 19 was a hoax the added burden the virus leveled on patients whose health was already compromised by cancer diabetes or addiction the acute ways the pandemic's arrival exacerbated interpersonal and systemic racism that Black and other health care workers of color bear not only the battle against the virus but also the growing suspicion and even physical abuse from patients convinced that doctors and nurses were trying to kill them These visceral personal experiences of how Appalachian health care workers responded to the pandemic amid the nation's deeply polarized political discourse will shape the historical record of this unprecedented time and provide a glimpse into the future of rural medicine Contributors Lucas Aidukaitis Clay Anderson Tammy Bannister Alli Delp Lynn Elliott Monika Holbein Laura Hungerford Nikki King Brittany Landore Jeffrey J LeBoeuf Sojourner Nightingale Beth O Connor Rakesh Patel Mildred E Perreault Melanie B Richards Tara Smith Kathy Osborne Still Darla Timbo Kathy Hsu Wibberly      Making Do and Hanging On Bruce L. Foxworthy, 2008-10 No place in America escaped the impacts of the Great Depression from 1929 to 1939 Even the quiet orchard filled Entiat Valley of the author's boyhood suffered its cruel effects Making Do and Hanging On Growing Up in Apple Country Through the Great Depression presents the author's recollections during those mean years memories of local conditions and events and of his family's coping with seemingly endless setbacks in its struggles upward These memoirs sometimes stark sometimes poignant sometimes touched with humor call up thought provoking parallels to modern events

Working Hard and Making Do Margaret K. Nelson, Joan Smith, 1999-05-24 The economic recovery of the 1990s brought with it a surge of new jobs but the prospects for most working Americans improved little Family income rose only slightly and the period witnessed a significant degradation of the quality of work as well as in what people could expect from their waged employment In this book Margaret K Nelson and Joan Smith take a look inside the households of working class Americans to consider how they are coping with large scale structural changes in the economy specifically how the downgrading of jobs has affected survival strategies gender dynamics and political attitudes Drawing on both randomly distributed telephone surveys and in depth interviews Nelson and Smith explore the differences in the survival strategies of two groups of working class households in a rural county those in which at least one family member has been able to hold on to good work a year round full time job that carries benefits and those in which nobody has been able to secure or retain steady employment They find that households with good jobs are able to effectively use all of their labor power they rely on two workers they engage in on the side businesses and they barter with friends and neighbors In contrast those living in families without at least one good job find themselves considerably less capable of deploying a complex multi faceted survival strategy The authors further demonstrate that this difference between the two sets of households is accompanied by differences in the gender division of labor within the household and the manner in which individuals make sense of and respond to their employment

Making Choices, Making Do Lois Rita Helmbold,2022-10-14 Making Choices Making Do is a comparative study of Black and white working class women s survival strategies during the Great Depression Based on analysis of employment histories and Depression era interviews of 1 340 women in Chicago Cleveland Philadelphia and South Bend and letters from domestic workers Lois Helmbold discovered that Black women lost work more rapidly and in greater proportions The benefits that white women accrued because of structural racism meant they avoided the utter destitution that more commonly swallowed their Black peers When let go from a job a white woman was more successful in securing a less desirable job while Black women especially older Black women were pushed out of the labor force entirely Helmbold found that working class women practiced the same strategies but institutionalized racism in employment housing and relief assured that Black women worked harder but fared worse Making Choices Making Do strives to fill the gap in the labor history of women both Black and white The book will challenge the limits of segregated histories and encourage more comparative analyses

Arthur, 2022-05-09 Students of the Bible are generally comfortable with their understanding of the command make disciples Matt 28 19 Indeed most of them would argue that the Gospel writer Matthew spells out very clearly the meaning of the term in the Great Commission Matt 28 16 20 by utilizing three key words viz go ing baptizing and teaching This point of view is the result of centuries of scholarly opinion that has looked primarily if not solely to these three adjacent participles of make disciples Matt 28 19 and not to the entire Gospel of Matthew for the meaning of the command This book does not suggest that going baptizing and teaching are not to be considered in determining the essence of Christian disciple making Rather it contends that the three terms should not be our only source of meaning This problem is tackled herein by demonstrating that Matthew establishes a framework within the Great Commission itself that points to a fuller meaning of make disciples in the broader context of his Gospel and that the Gospel writer expects his reader to draw on his entire Gospel to grasp the full meaning of this important command Analog Robert Hassan, 2023-01-03 Why surrounded by screens and smart devices we feel a deep connection to the analog vinyl records fountain pens Kodak film and other nondigital tools We re surrounded by screens our music comes in the form of digital files we tap words into a notes app Why do we still crave the realness of analog seeking out vinyl records fountain pens cameras with film In this volume in the MIT Press Essential Knowledge series Robert Hassan explores our deep connection to analog technology Our analog urge he explains is about what we ve lost from our technological past something that s not there in our digital present We re nostalgic for what we remember indistinctly as somehow more real more human Surveying some of the major developments of analog technology Hassan shows us what s been lost with the digital Along the way he discusses the appeal of the 2011 silent black and white Oscar winning film The Artist the revival of the non e book
