expected or required and no longer being sure of what is personally meaningful And we fail to realize that expressing our real feelings and needs is not the same as being narcissistically entitled Thus expressing the real self takes courage and requires a healthy sense of self esteem self efficacy and agency and involves capacities for closeness intimacy creativity self soothing and repair Many of us are afraid to take the chance That is why this book was written Letting Go and Taking the Chance to be Real is about the processes involved in becoming real again or perhaps for the first time Sherron Lewis LMFT and Shelley Stokes Ph D Sherron Lewis LMFT and Shelley Stokes Ph D have accomplished what few other authors have namely they have written a book that is at once both profoundly practical and at the same time firmly anchored in rigorous psychoanalytic theory regarding disorders of the self Their work is replete not only with insightful clinical anecdotes but also with courageous and deeply illuminating revelations of their own emotional lives by which they model for their readers that authenticity which is an antidote to the toxic shame both which keeps our patients false selves perched precariously in place and which makes us less effective as therapists This product of their collaboration a combination of many years of experience and clinical wisdom by two master clinicians is a superb gift to the psychotherapy community and is essential reading for every therapist Avak Howsepian MD Ph D Psychiatry and Neurology Veterans Affairs Central California Assistant Professor of Psychiatry Univ of California San Francisco This new book by Sherron Lewis and Shelley Stokes represents the latest synthesis of James Masterson s work integrating it with other contemporary writers in a way that results in a practical guide for both the lay person interested in personal growth or the clinician on the critical subject of becoming your real self It s a very engaging and meaningful book a must read Joseph P Farley MFT Director of the Masterson Institute
