The Cowboy Cavalry Gordon Errett Tolton, 2011 When

Native and Métis unrest escalated into the Northwest Rebellion of 1885 white settlers in southern Alberta's cattle country were terrified Three major First Nations bordered their range and war seemed certain In anticipation 114 men mustered to form the Rocky Mountain Rangers a volunteer militia charged with ensuring the safety of the open range between the Rocky Mountains and the Cypress Hills The Rangers were a motley crew from ex Mounties and ex cons to retired high ranking military officials and working ranch hands Membership qualifications were scant ability to ride a horse knowledge of the prairies and preparedness to die The Rangers were resolutely prepared to fight as mounted cavalry should the rebellion spread This is their story inextricably linked to the dissensions of the day rife with skirmishes corruption jealousies rumour innuendo and gross media sensationalizing all bound together with what author Gordon Tolton terms a generous helping of gunpowder Settling the Canadian-American West, 1890-1915 John William Bennett, 1995-01-01 This anthropological history tells the story of homesteading and community organization in the Canadian American West through personal reminiscences and locally written histories John W Bennett and Seena B Kohl interpret those stories through the lenses of history and social science and they present a view of settlement experience as one phase of the evolving postfrontier society and culture of western North America Settling the Canadian American West 1890 1915 contains a synthesis of Canadian and U S settlement experiences giving to the extent possible equal space to both sides of the international boundary The experiences of people in these adjacent territories were virtually identical with emigrant populations from the same countries and socioeconomic strata Among other aspects of the homesteading experience the authors explore the interactive adaptation that developed in the West Networks of mutual aid reverently remembered by the voices found in these pages eased the inevitable hardships Metis Julia Diane Harrison, 1985 History of the Métis people in Canada Spiraling Webs of Relation Joanne DiNova, 2005-09-16 This work builds on indigenous theory as evident in the writing of Willie Ermine Gregory Cajete Craig Womack Jace Weaver Laurie Anne Whitt Linda Tuhiwai Smith Voila Cordova Dennis McPherson and others It works towards a criticism that in accordance with the precepts of such theory is community oriented It argues for a examination of literature in terms of its function for or against the community in the expansive sense of the term southern Alberta as the Canadian West transitioned to a sedentary agricultural and industrial economy MacKinnon provides rare insight into their lives demonstrating the contributions Metis women made to the building of the Prairie West This is a compelling tale of two women s acts of quiet resistance in the final days of the British Empire Resources for Métis Researchers Lawrence J.
