Meurtres pour mémoire Didier Daeninckx, 1984      Multidirectional Memory Michael Rothberg, 2009-06-15

Multidirectional Memory brings together Holocaust studies and postcolonial studies for the first time to put forward a new theory of cultural memory and uncover an unacknowledged tradition of exchange between the legacies of genocide and colonialism      Murder In Memoriam Didier Daeninckx, 2012-10-16 On the evening of October 17 1961 twenty thousand Algerians marched in Paris in defiance of and in protest against a curfew imposed by Maurice Papon chief of the Paris Metropolitan Police The protesters were met with ferocious and uninhibited violence Eleven thousand were arrested more than one thousand injured as many as three hundred were killed many of them thrown into the Seine from which their bodies were later recovered In recreating the scene of the atrocities in Murder in Memoriam his controversial alarum first published in 1984 Didier Daeninckx introduces a fictional observer of the riot Roger Thiraud a middle aged history teacher in a public school only steps from his home and his waiting pregnant wife In the first few minutes of the demonstration he will be assassinated in cold blood by a member of the anti terrorist secret police For nearly forty years after October 1961 France would deny the killings Upon the independence of Algeria in 1962 an amnesty put its perpetrators safely beyond prosecution The records were buried In 1981 Bernard Thiraud Roger's son is researching the archives in Toulouse intent on completing his father's history of his birthplace Drancy now notorious as the site of a detention and transit camp from which Jews were deported to Auschwitz One afternoon after leaving the town hall he too is murdered the victim of what appears to investigating officers to be a professional killing When inspector Cadin of the Toulouse prefecture learns of the unsolved murder of the young man's father he suspects a connection But why would anybody want to kill two bourgeois politically unconnected history teachers Didier Daeninckx has located the link between the two murders in the history that France had yet to confront in its colonial racism and its complicity in genocide Daeninckx made this connection in fiction deliberately provoking its acknowledgment in fact Murder in Memoriam anticipated by more than a decade the shocking revelations provided by the exposure trial and conviction of Maurice Papon the Parisian chief of police in 1961 and the never named villain whose real crimes unrevealed at the time of its first publication haunt this account for crimes against humanity for his part in the administration of the deportation of the Jews from Bordeaux to Auschwitz      Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000      The Roman Noir in Post-war French Culture Claire Gorrara, 2003 The Roman Noir in Post War French Culture offers a lively introduction to the post war French roman noir from a cultural studies perspective A populist and widely disseminated genre the French roman noir has suffered from a reputation as a minor genre with its roots in American popular culture In this study Claire Gorrara challenges such preconceptions and examines how selected writers have appropriated the roman noir as a critical response to formative concerns and debates in post war French society Starting with the first truly French roman noir L o Malet's 120 rue de la gare 1943 and concluding with Maud Tabachnik's feminist thriller Un t pourri 1994 Gorrara analyses both texts and film in relation to their specific historical and cultural context From the heritage of the Second World War and France s wars of decolonisation to the rise of consumer culture and questions of gender and sexual equality the roman noir operates in dialogue with its times mediating social change and transformation with stories of crime transgression and marginality All the novelists studied were published initially in popular collections such as the S rie noire but they have been chosen for the innovation of their work and the exciting ways in which they resist tired conventions and offer new ways of representing social reality One of the first English language studies of this popular genre The Roman Noir in Post War French Culture offers much more than close readings of these fascinating texts it demonstrates the important contribution of the roman noir to the cultural histories of post war France

Clues: A Journal of Detection, Vol. 39, No. 2 (Fall 2021) Elizabeth Foxwell, 2021-11-05 For over two decades Clues has included the best scholarship on mystery and detective fiction With a combination of academic essays and nonfiction book reviews it covers all aspects of mystery and detective fiction material in print television and movies As the only American scholarly journal on mystery fiction Clues is essential reading for literature and film students and researchers popular culture aficionados librarians and mystery authors fans and critics around the globe

Palimpsestic Memory Max Silverman, 2013-02-01 The interconnections between histories and memories of the Holocaust colonialism and extreme violence in post war French and Francophone fiction and film provide the central focus of this book It proposes a new model of palimpsestic memory which the author defines as the condensation of different spatio temporal traces to describe these interconnections and defines the poetics and the politics of this composite form In doing so it is argued that a poetics dependent on tropes and techniques such as metaphor allegory and montage establishes connections across space and time which oblige us to perceive cultural memory not in terms of its singular attachment to a particular event or bound to specific ethno cultural or national communities but as a dynamic process of transfer between different moments of racialized violence and between different cultural communities The structure of the book allows for both the theoretical elaboration of this paradigm for cultural memory and individual case studies of novels and films

Violent Histories David Gascoigne, 2007 This series aims to publish new research monographs and essays into relationships and interactions between culture and identity The notions of both culture and identity are broadly conceived interdisciplinary and theoretically diverse approaches are encouraged in a series designed to promote a better understanding of the processes of identity formation both individual and collective

May '68 and Its Afterlives Kristin Ross, 2008-11-26 During May 1968 students and workers in France united in the biggest strike and the largest mass movement in French history Protesting capitalism American imperialism and Gaullism 9 million people from all walks of life from shipbuilders to department store clerks stopped working The nation was paralyzed no sector of the workplace was untouched Yet just thirty years later the mainstream image of May 68 in France has become that of a mellow youth revolt a cultural transformation stripped of its violence and profound sociopolitical implications Kristin Ross shows how the current official memory of May 68 came to serve a political agenda antithetical to the movement's aspirations. She examines the roles played by sociologists, repentant ex-student leaders and the mainstream media in giving what was a political event a predominantly cultural and ethical meaning. Recovering the political language of May 68 through the tracts, pamphlets and documentary film footage of the era, Ross reveals how the original movement concerned above all with the question of equality gained a new and counterfeit history, one that erased police violence and the deaths of participants, removed workers from the picture and eliminated all traces of anti-Americanism, anti-imperialism and the influences of Algeria and Vietnam. May 68 and Its Afterlives is especially timely given the rise of a new mass political movement opposing global capitalism from labor strikes and anti-McDonald's protests in France to the demonstrations against the World Trade Organization in Seattle.

The Pleasures of Crime David Platten, 2011-12 For 150 years the French public and literati have enjoyed a love affair with crime fiction. This book investigates the nature of this relationship and how, through periods of dramatic social and political change in France, it has flourished. It challenges the conventional view of a popular genre feeding a niche market, depicting crime fiction instead as a field of creative endeavour which has gradually matured into one of considerable literary fertility. By inviting us to share secrets and crack codes, creating suspense and at times not shirking from presenting horrific events in graphic language, the crime story brings into play the intellect and emotions of its readership. This book explores both this intrinsic literary value of the crime novel and its extrinsic witness to historical events and cultural trends, arguing that these apparently distinct aspects are in fact dynamic, interrelated parts of the same whole. This blend of cultural history with literary analysis allows for the discussion of themes such as politics, memory, the urban environment and youth cultures, mixed with case studies of major French crime writers including Gaston Leroux, Georges Simenon, Jean-Patrick Manchette, Daniel Pennac and Fred Vargas.

Critical Mass Steven Ungar, 2018-08-21 Thirty-five years of nonfiction films offer a unique lens on twentieth-century French social issues. Critical Mass is the first sustained study to trace the origins of social documentary filmmaking in France back to the late 1920s. Steven Ungar argues that socially engaged nonfiction cinema produced in France between 1945 and 1963 can be seen as a delayed response to what filmmaker Jean Vigo referred to in 1930 as a social cinema whose documented point of view would open the eyes of spectators to provocative subjects of the moment. Ungar identifies Vigo's manifesto, his 1930 short Propos de Nice, and late silent era films by Georges Lacombe, Boris Kaufman, Andr  Sauvage and Marcel Carn  as antecedents of postwar documentaries by Eli Lotar, Ren  Vautier, Alain Resnais, Chris Marker and Jean Rouch, associated with critiques of colonialism and modernization in Fourth and early Fifth Republic France. Close readings of individual films alternate with transitions to address transnational practices as well as state and industry-wide reforms between 1935 and 1960. Critical Mass is an indispensable complement to studies of nonfiction film in France, from Georges Lacombe's La Zone (1928) to Chris Marker's Le Joli Mai (1963).

Interpreting Violence Cassandra Falke, Victoria Fareld, Hanna Meretoja, 2023-03-30 Representations of violence surround us in everyday life in news reports films and novels inviting interpretation and raising questions about the ethics of viewing or reading about harm done to others How can we understand the processes of meaning making involved in interpreting violent events and experiences And can these acts of interpretation themselves be violent by reproducing the violence that they represent This book examines the ethics of engaging with violent stories from a broad hermeneutic perspective It offers multidisciplinary perspectives on the sense making involved in interpreting violence in its various forms from blatant physical violence to less visible forms that may inhere in words or in the social and political order of our societies By focusing on different ways of narrating violence and on the cultural and paradigmatic forms that govern such narrations Interpreting Violence explores the ethical potential of literature art and philosophy to expose mechanisms of violence while also recognizing their implication in structures that contribute to or benefit from practices of violence

Historical Dictionary of French Literature John Flower, 2022-05-15 With the possible exception of Great Britain France can justifiably lay claim to possess the richest literary history of any country in Western Europe This book covers the authors and their works literary movements and philosophical and social developments that have had a direct impact on style or content and major historical events such as the two world wars the Franco Prussian War the Algerian War or the events of May 1968 that are directly reflected in a substantial body of imaginative writing Historical Dictionary of French Literature Second Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross referenced entries on individual writers and key texts significant movements groups associations and periodicals and on the literary reactions to major national and international events such as revolutions and wars This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about French literature

Historical Companion to Postcolonial Literatures - Continental Europe and its Empires Prem Poddar, 2008-07-03 Regional Editors John Beverley Charles Forsdick Pierre Philippe Fraiture Ruth Ben Ghat Theo D haen Lars Jensen Birthe Kundrus Elizabeth Monasterios Phillip Rothwell Your complete reference to the postcolonial literatures of Continental European Empires Written by expert scholars in the fields of postcolonial studies the entries cover major events ideas movements and figures in postcolonial histories The entries range from the first European overseas the first explorations settlements and colonies right up to decolonisation They highlight the relevance of colonial histories to the cultural social political and literary formations of contemporary postcolonial societies and nations By outlining the historical contexts of postcolonial literatures the companion unlocks contemporary debates about race colonialism neo colonialism politics economics culture and language

Crime Scenes, 2021-11-01 The essays in this collection are based on papers given at a conference on detective fiction in European culture held at the University of Exeter in September 1997 The range of topics covered is designed to show not only the presence and variety of narratives of detection across different European countries and their different media although there is a predictable emphasis on the novel It also illustrates the fertility of the genre its openness to a spectrum of readings with different emphases formal as well as thematic Approaches to detective fiction have often tended to confine them selves to symptomatic interpretation where details of the fictional world represented are used to diagnose a specific set of social preoccupations and priorities operative at the time of writing Such approaches can yield valuable insights Nonetheless there is a risk of limiting the value of the genre as a whole solely to its role as a mirror held up to society In this perspective issues of structure and style are sidelined or if addressed are praised to the extent that they approach invisibility concision sparseness realism are the qualities singled out for praise The genre also gives much scope for formal innovation and indeed has often attracted already established mainstream writers and filmmakers for just this reason The eclectic diversity of the detective narratives considered in this volume reveal the malleability of the traditional constraints of the genre The essays bear rich testimony to the value of considering the interplay of thematic and structural issues even in the most apparently unselfconscious and popular or populist forms of narrative The patterns of reassurance the triumph of intellect and the ordered rational world of old are now challenged by the need to foreground the problems ambiguities and uncertainties of the self and of society The plurality of meanings and the antithetical imperatives explored in these detective narratives confirm that the most recent forms of the genre are not mere palimpsests of their golden age precursors The subversion of traditional expectations and the implementation of diverse stylistic devices take the genre beyond mere homage and pastiche The role of the reader spectator and critic in conferring meaning is a crucial one

Investigating Identities Marieke Krajenbrink, Kate M. Quinn, 2009 Investigating Identities Questions of Identity in Contemporary International Crime Fiction is one of the relatively few books to date which adopts a comparative approach to the study of the genre This collection of twenty essays by international scholars examining crime fiction production from over a dozen countries confirms that a comparative approach can both shed light on processes of adaptation and appropriation of the genre within specific national regional or local contexts and also uncover similarities between the works of authors from very different areas Contributors explore discourse concerning national and historical memory language race ethnicity culture and gender and examine how identity is affirmed and challenged in the crime genre today They reveal a growing tendency towards hybridization and postmodern experimentation and increasing engagement with philosophical enquiry into the epistemological dimensions of investigation Throughout the notion of stable identities is subject to scrutiny While each essay in itself is a valuable addition to existing criticism on the genre all the chapters mutually inform and complement each other in fascinating and often unexpected ways This volume makes an important contribution to the growing field of crime fiction studies and to ongoing debates on questions of identity It will therefore be of special interest to students and scholars of the crime genre identity studies and comparative literature It will also appeal to all who enjoy reading contemporary crime fiction
