Gontarski, 2014-02-07 A landmark collection showcasing the diversity of Samuel Beckett's creative output The 35 original chapters in this Companion capture the continued vitality of Beckett studies in drama music and the visual arts and establish rich and varied cultural contexts for Beckett's work world wide As well as considering topics such as Beckett and science historiography geocriticism and philosophy the volume focuses on the post centenary impetus within Beckett studies emphasising a return to primary sources amid letters drafts and other documents Major Beckett critics such as Steven Connor David Lloyd Andrew Gibson John Pilling Jean Michel Rabate and Mark Nixon as well as emerging researchers present the latest critical thinking in 9 key areas Art The Body Fiction Film Radio Global Beckett Language Writing Philosophy Reading and Theatre Performance Edited by eminent Beckett scholar S E Gontarski the Companion draws on the most vital ground breaking research to outline the nature of Beckett studies for the next generation Mića Popović, Time, Friends Dobrica Ćosić, 2005 Slobodan Milošević and the Destruction of Yugoslavia Louis Sell, 2003-08-04 Focusing on the life and career of Slobodan Milošević from the perspective of both a diplomatic insider and a scholar this text provides first hand observations of Milošević during his rise to power and later in the endgame of the Bosnian war Mića Popović, Time, Friends Zoran Gavrić, 2006 Yugoslavia National Intelligence Council (U.S.), 2006 Mića Popović Zoran Gavrić, Mića Popović, 1987 Post-Yugoslav Cinema Dino Murtić, 2015-09-15 Drawing primarily on selected filmic texts from former Yugoslavia the book examines key social and political events that triggered the Yugoslav wars in the 1990s Yugoslav politics and society are set within the broader artistic and cinematic strategies that helped stabilise post Yugoslav territories strategies that were part of the national desire of looking forward to a time of perpetual peace and its subsequent cosmopolitan norms It argues that filmic texts demonstrate the degree to which nationalism was at the heart of the violent disintegration of Yugoslavia Yet the concern of the argument is not simply to offer a filmic critique but to develop an alternative to nationalism namely a theoretical framework through which cosmopolitan humanism is at the forefront of addressing former Yugoslavia s political wounds

Crisis and Ontological Insecurity Filip Ejdus,2019-07-01 This book develops a novel way of thinking about crises in world politics By building on ontological security theory this work conceptualises critical situations as radical disjunctions that challenge the ability of collective agents to go on These ontological crises bring into the realm of discursive consciousness four fundamental questions related to existence finitude relations and autobiography In times of crisis collective agents such as states are particularly attached to their ontic spaces or spatial extensions of the self that cause collective identities to appear more firm and continuous These theoretical arguments are illustrated in a case study looking at Serbia s anxiety over the secession of Kosovo The author argues that Serbia s seemingly irrational and self harming policy vis vis Kosovo can be understood as a form of ontological self help It is a rational pursuit of biographical continuity and a healthy sense of self in the face of an ontological crisis triggered by the secession of a province that has been constructed as the ontic space of the Serbian nation since the late 19th century

Power And Persuasion Carol S Lilly,2018-02-13 When the Communist Party of Yugoslavia CPY took power after the Second World War it had a vision for a new and better society in which all humans would live together in peace and prosperity and in which their mutual exploitation would be eliminated That vision required changes not only in the country s political and economic structure but in its citizen s values morals goals aesthetics and social behavior Based on extensive archival research Lilly s study describes the CPY s struggle to realize that social and cultural transformation by means of oral written and visual persuasion in the first nine years after the war Lilly s descriptions of party policies in such media as newspapers journals educational curricula group activities like parades workplace competitions and volunteer labor brigades and the production of both high and popular culture depict the evolving form and content of the party s persuasive rhetoric Her archival work moreover reveals both societal reaction to such rhetoric and the extent to which party leaders adapted their persuasive policies in response to feedback from below In this respect Lilly places her work at the intersection of cultural history cultural studies and politics by discussing how individuals and different groups perceive digest and remake culture from above in their own image Ultimately then this study not only modifies current understandings of Yugoslavia s postwar history but informs us about the nature of state society relations in dictatorial regimes and the complexities of cultural change Moving beyond an interpretation of Yugoslavia s political and cultural history in the 1940s it addresses broader questions like How do dictatorial regimes maintain power and support How do subject populations express their views and exert influence even under oppressive conditions When and how does persuasive rhetoric work and what are its limits

New Literary Hybrids in the Age of Multimedia Expression Marcel Cornis-Pope, 2014-11-15 Begun in 2010 as part of the Histories of Literatures in European Languages series sponsored by the International Comparative Literature Association the current project on New Literary Hybrids in the Age of Multimedia Expression recognizes the global shift toward the visual and the virtual in all areas of textuality the printed verbal text is increasingly joined with the visual often electronic text This shift has opened up new domains of human achievement in art and culture The international roster of 24 contributors to this volume pursue a broad range of issues under four sets of questions that allow a larger conversation to emerge both inside the volume's sections and between them The four sections cover 1 Multimedia Productions in Theoretical and Historical Perspective 2 Regional and Intercultural Projects 3 Forms and Genres and 4 Readers and Rewriters in Multimedia Environments The essays included in this volume are examples of the kinds of projects and inquiries that have become possible at the interface between literature and other media new and old They emphasize the extent to which hypertextual multimedia and virtual reality technologies have enhanced the sociality of reading and writing enabling more people to interact than ever before At the same time however they warn that as long as these technologies are used to reinforce old habits of reading writing they will deliver modest results One of the major tasks pursued by the contributors to this volume is to integrate literature in the global informational environment where it can function as an imaginative partner teaching its interpretive competencies to other components of the cultural landscape

Serbia Since 1989 Sabrina P. Ramet, Vjeran I. Pavlakovic, 2011-09-01 During their thirteen years in power Slobodan Milosevic and his cohorts plunged Yugoslavia into wars of ethnic cleansing leading to the murder of thousands of civilians The Milosevic regime also subverted the nation's culture twisted the political mainstream into a virulent nationalist mold sapped the economy through war and the criminalization of a free market returned to gender relations of a bygone era and left the state so dysfunctional that its peripheries Kosovo Vojvodina and Montenegro have been struggling to maximize their distance from Belgrade through far reaching autonomy or through outright independence In this valuable collection of essays Vjeran Pavlakovic Reneo Lukic and Obrad Kesic examine elements of continuity and discontinuity from the Milosevic era to the twenty first century the struggle at the center of power and relations between Serbia and Montenegro Contributions by Sabrina Ramet James Gow and Milena Michalski explore the role of Serbian wartime propaganda and the impact of the war on Serbian society Essays by Eric Gordy Maja Miljovic Marko Hoare and Kari Osland look at the legacy of Serbia's recent wars issues of guilt and responsibility the economy and the trial of Slobodan Milosevic in The Hague Sabrina Ramet and Biljana Bijelic address the themes of culture and values Frances Trix Emil Kerenji and Dennis Reinhartz explore the peripheries in the politics of Kosovo a Vojvodina and Serbia's Roma Serbia Since 1989 reveals a Serbia that is still traumatized from Milosevic's rule and groping toward redefining its place in the world Violations of the Helsinki Accords, Yugoslavia Mary Jane Camejo, 1986 Creating a Socialist Yugoslavia Hilde Katrine Haug, 2012-03-30 The Yugoslav communist leaders aspired to create a socialist Yugoslavia and when they came into power in 1945 they claimed to have introduced a socialist solution to the Yugoslav national question. But what did it imply to solve a national question and what did introducing a socialist solution to a national question entail? Creating a Socialist Yugoslavia: Tito, Communist Leadership and the National Question charts how the Yugoslav Communist leaders approached the national question and what influence the complex national relations in the multinational state of Yugoslavia had on the development of the Yugoslav communists' policies and on their post-war socialist project. From 1935 to 1990 tremendous changes took place in the Yugoslav approach to the national question and in the institutions they devised as part of this solution. There were also significant changes to the role of the republics and the relations between the different national groups within the Yugoslav state. Discussions on the national question were not absent during this period despite the communists' claim to have solved it. Debates over what kind of Yugoslav unity was the most desirable continued to be a question of contention and different groups had different visions of this. A struggle over resources also developed between different republics. This book identifies and examines four particular phases in the communists' strategies towards the national question, each marked by particular processes, issues and challenges. The claim to have solved the national question often meant that this issue could not be discussed openly and had to be expressed in a particular rhetoric approved by the Party. Creating a Socialist Yugoslavia provides an authoritative account of the Yugoslav communist leaders' national policy and attempts to deal with the challenges encountered by the communists in reconciling their aspiration to create a socialist Yugoslavia with the need to regulate national conflict within the federation.

Trauma, Experience and Narrative in Europe after World War II Ville Kivimäki, Peter Leese, 2021-12-03 This book promotes a historically and culturally sensitive understanding of trauma during and after World War II. Focusing especially on Eastern and Central Europe, its contributors take a fresh look at the experiences of violence and loss in 1939-45 and their long-term effects in different cultures and societies. The chapters analyze traumatic experiences among soldiers and civilians alike and expand the study of traumatic violence beyond psychiatric discourses and treatments. While acknowledging the problems of applying a present-day medical concept to the past, this book makes a case for a cultural, social and historical study of trauma. Moving the focus of historical trauma studies from World War I to World War II and from Western Europe to the east, it breaks new ground and helps to explain the troublesome politics of memory and trauma in post-1945 Europe all the way to the present day. This book is an outcome of a workshop project 'Historical Trauma Studies' funded by the Joint Committee for the Nordic Research Councils in the Humanities and Social Sciences (NOS HS) in 2018-20. Chapters 4, 5 and 6 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com.
