been a pivotal problem since Plato implicating notions of mimesis and representation and raising a series of debatable issues Do literary texts relate only to the fictional world and not to the real one Do they not only describe but also perform and thus create and transform reality Is literature a mere reflection expression of society a field and a tool of political manipulations a playground to exercise ideological and social power Herbert Grabes seminal essay Literature in Society Society and Its Literature which opens this volume perfectly captures the essential functions of literature in society whether it be Derridean belief in a revolutionary potential of literature the power of literature to say everything or Hillis Miller s view of literature having the potential to create or reveal alternative realities or according to Grabes the ability of literature to offer to society a possibility of self reflection by way of presenting a double of what is held to be reality and last but not least the ability of literature to considerably contribute to the joy of life by enabling a particular kind of pleasure the pleasure of reading literature The subsequent essays collected in this volume deal with complex relations between Literature and Society approaching this issue from different angles and in various historical epochs They are on diverse thematics and written from diverse theoretical perspectives differing in scope and methodology

The Politics and Poetics of Everyday Life Kristin Ross, 2023-05-02 The texts in this volume represent Kristin Ross's attempt to think the question of the everyday across a range of discourses practices and knowledges from philosophy to history from the visual arts to popular fiction all the way to the forms taken by collective political action in the territorial struggles of today If everyday life is as many have come to believe the ideal vantage point for an analysis of the social it is also the crucial first step in its transformation The volume opens with a return to Henri Lefebvre's powerful attempt to think the everyday as both residue and resource as the site of profound alienation and by the same token the site where all emancipatory initiatives and desires begin The second section focuses on our attempts to represent our lived reality to ourselves in cultural forms from painting and literature and film to an analysis of the contemporary transformations of the sub genre most embedded in the deep superficiality of everyday life detective fiction The final section turns to present day ecological occupations in the wake of the zad at Notre Dame des Landes and locates the everyday as a site for rich oppositional resources and immanent social creativity

Anamnesia Peter Collier, Anna Magdalena Elsner, Olga Smith, 2009 Memory has always been crucial to French literature and culture as a means of mediating the relationship between perception and knowledge of the individual coming to terms with his identity in time Relatively recently memory has also emerged as the key force in the creation of a collective consciousness in the wider perspective of French cultural history This collection of essays selected from the proceedings of a seminar on Memory given by Dr Emma Wilson at the University of Cambridge offers a fresh evaluation of memory as both a cultural and an individual phenomenon in modern and contemporary French culture including literature cinema and the visual arts Anamnesia the book's title develops the Aristotelian concept of anamnesis recollection as a dynamic and creative process which includes forgetting as much as remembering concealment as much as imagination Memory in this extremely diverse range of essays is therefore far from being presented as a straightforward process of recalling the past but emerges as the site of research and renegotiation of contradictions and even aporia

written for this volume on the poetry reading the sound of poetry and the visual performance of poetry While the performance of poetry is as old as poetry itself critical attention to modern and postmodern poetry performance has been surprisingly slight This volume featuring work by critics and poets such as Marjorie Perloff Susan Stewart Johanna Drucker Dennis Tedlock and Susan Howe is the first comprehensive introduction to the ways in which twentieth century poetry has been practiced as a performance art From the performance styles of individual poets and types of poetry to the relation of sound to meaning from historical and social approaches to poetry readings to new imaginations of prosody the entries gathered here investigate a compelling range of topics for anyone interested in poetry Taken together these essays encourage new forms of close listenings not only to the printed text of poems but also to tapes performances and other expressions of the sounded and visualized word The time is right for such a volume with readings spoken word events and the Web gaining an increasing audience for poetry Close Listening opens a number of new avenues for the critical discussion of the sound and performance of poetry

Fallible Authors Alastair Minnis, 2013-02-12 Can an outrageously immoral man or a scandalous woman teach morality or lead people to virtue Does personal fallibility devalue one's words and deeds Is it possible to separate the private from the public to segregate individual failing from official function Chaucer addressed these perennial issues through two problematic authority figures the Pardoner and the Wife of Bath The Pardoner dares to assume official roles to which he has no legal claim and for which he is quite unsuited We are faced with the shocking consequences of the belief standard for the time that immorality is not necessarily a bar to effective ministry Even more subversively the Wife of Bath who represents one of the most despised stereotypes in medieval literature the sexually rapacious widow dispenses wisdom of the highest order This innovative book places these fallible authors within the full intellectual context that gave them meaning Alastair Minnis magisterially examines the impact of Aristotelian thought on preaching theory the controversial practice of granting indulgences religious and medical categorizations of deviant bodies theological attempts to rationalize sex within marriage Wycliffite doctrine that made authority dependent on individual grace and raised the specter of Donatism and heretical speculation concerning the possibility of female teachers Chaucer's Pardoner and Wife of Bath are revealed as interconnected aspects of a single radical experiment wherein the relationship between objective authority and subjective fallibility is confronted as never before

Devising Order Bruno Boute, Thomas Småberg, 2012-10-31 In the past two decades scholarship in the Humanities and in the Social Sciences has witnessed the synchronic and often tangled rise of Ritual and Performance Studies This interdisciplinary collection of essays in disciplines ranging from Theology to Anthropology to Business Administration offers an insightful guide to assumptions approaches and methods that underpin much of cutting edge research in the field with the help of case studies spanning four continents and covering a long haul period from the High Middle Ages to the Present

Jewish Glass and Christian Stone Eric C. Smith, 2017-11-15 In recent years scholars have re evaluated the parting of the ways between Judaism and Christianity reaching new understandings of the ways shared origins gave way to two distinct and sometimes inimical religious traditions But this has been a profoundly textual task relying on the writings of rabbis bishops and other text producing elites to map the terrain of the parting This book takes up the question of the divergence of Judaism and Christianity in terms of material the stuff made used and left behind by the persons that lived in and between these religions as they were developing Considering the glass clay stone paint vellum and papyrus of ancient Jews and Christians this book maps the parting in new ways and argues for a greater role for material and materialism in our reconstructions of the past

Intercultural Theology Judith Gruber, 2017-12-04 Recent years have seen a paradigm shift in Christian self understanding In place of the eurocentric model of Christendom a new understanding is emerging of Christianity as a world movement with considerable cultural variety Concomitant with this changing self perception a new theological discipline begins to take shape which analyzes the inter and transcultural character and performance of global Christianity Intercultural Theology Judith Gruber discusses this nascent theological approach in two parts She first gives a critical analysis of its historical development in the first part of the book two theological sub disciplines of particular relevance are analysed 1 missiology and its reflection on the encounter of Western Christianity with other cultures in the context of colonialism 2 contextual theologies which focus on the particularity and dignity of the diverse cultural contexts of theological practice but fail to sufficiently integrate the universal dimension of Christianity into their theological reflections Secondly this study offers a constructive theological approach to intercultural theology It does that by bringing systematic theology into conversation with cultural studies This interdisciplinary approach adds significant complexity to existing reflections on Intercultural Theology Re reading the theological history of Christianity within the critical framework of cultural theories exposes a host of disparate and conflictive Christianities underneath its dominant master narrative and moreover it no longer allows a recourse to essentialist concepts of Christian identity with which previous approaches to Intercultural Theology have mitigated this unsettling cultural plurality of Christianity After the Cultural Turn which has made a metaphysical epistemology untenable new ways for thinking the unity and universality of Christianity have to be paved The book draws on Paul Ricoeur s and Michel Foucault s concept of the event and on Michel deCerteau s proposal of a Weak Christianity in order to develop such a post metaphysical framework which allows to conceive of the unity and universality of Christianity without concealing its cultural plurality and contingency

The Strategic Smorgasbord of Postmodernity Deborah Bowen, 2011-05-25 Contemporary Christian critique often talks about postmodernism apocalyptically in terms of cultural crisis and decline instead the contributors to this volume believe that there is a new place for Christian entries on the academic Smorgasbord of postmodernity and they see the postmodern turn as an opportunity for fresh perspectives on the spiritual dimensions of reading literature These twenty scholars are an eclectic group differing in theological and theoretical commitments but all identifying as Christian In this collection they enter into dialogue with a wide range of contemporary literary theorists and theoretical perspectives and offer new readings of primary texts informed by both these theoretical constructs and their Christian faith The manuscript strikes out in important new directions in its sympathetic reading of postmodern theory from a Christian perspective and even more significantly in its careful and measured dialogic approach to the relationship of Christian thought and contemporary literary theory Daniel Coleman Canada Research Chair in Critical Ethnicity and Race Studies Department of English and Cultural Studies McMaster University Too often Christian literary critics and theologians have preemptively dismissed postmodern theory even as secular critics have been equally dismissive about the contributions that the Christian faith tradition makes to the study of literature This volume successfully brings these two worlds together in innovative at times challenging and always rich ways I do not know of a similar volume in existence a work that gathers in one convenient publication a wide ranging set of discussions of contemporary literary theory by Christian scholars The editor has gathered an impressive and important set of papers here and I believe the volume will raise much interest and provoke a good deal of constructive debate Susan VanZanten Gallagher Professor of English Director Center for Scholarship and Faculty Development Seattle Pacific University
