Nigerian Women In Politics 1986-1993:

Nigerian Women in Politics, 1986-1993 Clara Osinulu, 1996 Untold Histories of Nigerian Women Tayo Agunbiade, 2023-12-07 This book is a curation of insightful and engaging narrations aimed at freeing women from the margins of Nigeria's history. It chronicles their protest movements against colonial administrations including monster petitions on taxation and food price controls. It details a string of remarkable political landmarks which highlight women's historical credentials as nationalists as well as their voice in early male dominated legislative institutions. It also narrates more contemporary episodes in women's resistance against oil exploitation, environmental pollution and anger over the mass abduction of school girls. This timely preservation of the voice and agency of Nigerian women from a wide variety of colonial and contemporary documents will benefit readers interested in African history and gender and women's studies. Ibadan Market Women and Politics, 1900-1995 Mutiat Titilope Oladejo, 2015-12-16 Ibadan market women were active in political mobilization and they engaged in eclectic political actions during the decolonization process. Their leaders significantly swayed the electorate both in and beyond the market places. This study examines the historical development of the roles of Ibadan market women in politics between 1900 and 1995 with a view to establishing their contributions. By a thorough historical analysis, Ibadan Divisional and Provincial papers and newspapers of the nationalists era (1945-1960), Nigerian Tribune and Southern Nigerian Defender from the National Archives, Ibadan were consulted for information on the activities of Ibadan market women. Secondary data were obtained from the Women Research and Documentation Centre and other resource centres. Simultaneously, Ibadan market women were involved in party politics of the National Council for Nigeria and Cameroon's NCNC Action Group (AG) and traditional power politics. Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2016-03-04 African women's history is a vast topic that embraces a wide variety of societies in over 50 countries with different geographies, social customs, religions and historical situations. Africa is a predominantly agricultural continent and a major factor in African agriculture is the central role of women as farmers. It is estimated that between 65 and 80 percent of African women are engaged in cultivating food for their families and in the past that percentage was likely even higher. Thus, one common thread across much of the continent is women's daily work in their family plot. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 700 cross-referenced entries on individual African women in history, politics, religion and the arts, on important events, organizations and publications, and on topics important to women in general: marriage, fertility, employment and to African women in particular: market women, child marriage, queen mothers. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Women in Africa. Promoting Gender Equality in Political Participation Damilola Taiye Agbalajobi, 2021-03-17 This book analyses patterns of women's political participation and evaluates disparity between levels of women's participation in politics and representation in governance in Nigeria. It also examines the causes of women's underrepresentation in governance and decision making as well as their implications for the country's socioeconomic development and describes strategies for increased women's representation in governance and decision making in Nigeria. This study relies on political culture and liberal feminist theory and adopts a mixed method research design involving quantitative and qualitative methods. It uses multistage sampling in selecting Nigeria's South East, North West and South West geopolitical zones and 1206 women of electoral age for the study survey conducted using structured questionnaire and in depth interview. The Political Economy of Colonialism and Nation-Building in Nigeria Samuel Ojo

Oloruntoba, 2021-09-28 This book examines the ways in which colonialism continues to define the political economy of Nigeria sixty years after gaining political independence from the British. It also establishes a link between colonialism and the continued agitation for restructuring the political arrangement of the country. The contributions offer various perspectives on how the forceful amalgamation of disparate units and diverse nationalities have undermined the realization of the development potential of Nigeria. The book is divided into two parts. The first part interrogates the political economy of colonialism and the implications of this on economic development in contemporary Nigeria. The second part examines nation building, governance and development in a postcolonial state. The failure of the postcolonial political elites to ensure inclusive governance has continued to foster centrifugal and centripetal forces that question the legitimacy of the state. The forces have deepened calls for secession, accentuated conflicts and predispose the country to possible disintegration. A new government approach is required that would ensure equal representation, access to power and equitable distribution of resources. Political Science in Africa, 2023-12-28 Bringing together African and international scholars, this book gives an account of the present state of the discipline of political science in Africa, generating insights into its present and future trajectories and assessing the freedom with which it is practiced. Tackling subjects including the decolonization of the discipline, political scientists as public intellectuals and the teaching of political science, this diverse range of perspectives paints a detailed picture of the impact and relevance of the political science discipline on the continent during the struggles for democratization and the influence it continues to exert today. Nigeria Under Democratic Rule, 1999-2003 Hassan A. Saliu, 2005

Family Matters Nkiru Uwechia Nzegwu, 2012-02-01 Prior to European colonialism, Igbo land, a region in Nigeria, was a nonpatriarchal, nongendered society governed by separate but interdependent political systems for men and women. In the last one hundred fifty years, the Igbo family has undergone vast structural changes in response to a barrage of cultural forces. Critically rereading social practices and oral and written histories of Igbo women and the society, Nkiru Uwechia Nzegwu demonstrates how colonial laws, edicts and judicial institutions facilitated the creation of gender inequality in Igbo society. Nzegwu exposes the unlikely convergence of Western feminist and African male judges' assumptions about traditional African values where women are subordinate and oppressed. Instead, she offers a conception of equality based on historical Igbo family structures and practices that challenges the epistemological and ontological bases of Western feminist inquiry

The Principle of Subsidiarity in Catholic Social Thought Simeon Tsetim Iber, 2010-11

The Principle of Subsidiarity in Catholic Social Thought Implications for Social Justice and Civil Society in Nigeria provides a theoretical and practical framework for a just vision of society. It focuses on how support for individuals and social groups in Nigeria can foster the building of their communities through the practice of social justice. Social justice will ensure the building of trust across ethnic lines, challenge corruption, encourage accountability, and servant leadership protect minority tribes from larger ones and promote grassroots self-help tribal communal religious and non-governmental associations as agents of positive social change and development. These dynamics interact within a healthy federal structure that respects its constituent parts for the common good. This volume is recommended as a graduate text for courses in theology, religious education, and social philosophy and for all interested in promoting the common good.

Security Disarmed Barbara Sutton, Sandra Morgen, Julie Novkov, 2008

In Security Disarmed, scholars, policy planners, and activists come together to think critically about the human cost of violence and viable alternatives to armed conflict. Arranged in four parts, alternative paradigms of security, cross-national militarization, militarism in the United States, and pedagogical and cultural concerns, the book critically challenges militarization and voices an alternative encompassing vision of human security by analyzing the relationships among gender, race, and militarization.
