The Long Honduran Night Dana Frank, 2018-11-27 This powerful narrative recounts the tumultuous time in Honduras that witnessed then President Manuel Zelaya deposed by a coup in June 2009 told through first person experiences and layered with deeper political analysis It weaves together two perspectives first the broad picture of Honduras since the coup including the coup itself its continuation in two repressive regimes and secondly the evolving Honduran resistance movement and a new broad solidarity movement in the United States Although it is full of terrible things this not a horror story this narrative directly counters mainstream media coverage that portrays Honduras as a pit of unrelenting awfulness in which powerless sobbing mothers cry over bodies in the morgue Rather it s about sobering challenges and the inspiring collective strength with which people face them Dana Frank is a professor of history at the
