Raisin In The Sun The Unfilmed Original Screenplay:

A Raisin in the Sun Lorraine Hansberry, 1995-04-01 Under the editorship of the late Robert Nemiroff with a provocative and thoughtful introduction by preeminent African American scholar Margaret B Wilkerson and a commentary by Spike Lee this completely restored screenplay is the accurate and authoritative edition of Lorraine Hansberry's script and a testament to her unparalleled accomplishment as a Black artist The 1961 film version of A Raisin in the Sun with a screenplay by the author Lorraine Hansberry won an award at the Cannes Film Festival even though one third of the actual screenplay Hansberry had written had been cut out The film did essentially bring Hansberry's extraordinary play to the screen but it failed to fulfill her cinematic vision Now with this landmark edition of Lorraine Hansberry's original script for the movie of A Raisin in the Sun that audiences never viewed readers have at hand an epic eloquent work capturing not only the life and dreams of a Black family but the Chicago and the society that surround and shape them Important changes in dialogue and exterior shots a stunning shift of focus to her male protagonist and a dramatic rewriting of the final scene show us an artist who understood and used the cinematic medium to transform a stage play into a different art form a profound and powerful film

Neo-segregation Narratives Brian Norman, 2010-01-01 This study of what Brian Norman terms a neo segregation narrative tradition examines literary depictions of life under Jim Crow that were written well after the civil rights movement From Toni Morrison's first novel The Bluest Eye to bestselling black fiction of the 1980s to a string of recent work by black and nonblack authors and artists Jim Crow haunts the post civil rights imagination Norman traces a neo segregation narrative tradition one that developed in tandem with neo slave narratives by which writers return to a moment of stark de jure segregation to address contemporary concerns about national identity and the persistence of racial divides These writers upset dominant national narratives of achieved equality portraying what are often more elusive racial divisions in what some would call a postracial present Norman examines works by black writers such as Lorraine Hansberry Toni Morrison Alice Walker David Bradley Wesley Brown Suzan Lori Parks and Colson Whitehead films by Spike Lee and other cultural works that engage in debates about gender Black Power blackface minstrelsy literary history and whiteness and ethnicity Norman also shows that multiethnic writers such as Sherman Alexie and Tom Spanbauer use Jim Crow as a reference point extending the tradition of William Faulkner's representations of the segregated South and John Howard Griffin's notorious account of crossing the color line from white to black in his 1961 work Black Like Me

Marvin Jones,2013-04-01 Is Gangsta Rap just black noise Or does it play the same role for urban youth that CNN plays in mainstream America This provocative set of essays tells us how Gangsta Rap is a creative report about an urban crisis our new American dilemma and why we need to listen Increasingly police politicians and late night talk show hosts portray today s inner cities as violent crime ridden war zones The same moral panic that once focused on blacks in general has now been refocused on urban spaces and the black men who live there especially those wearing saggy pants and hoodies The media always spotlights the crime and violence but rarely gives airtime to the conditions that produced these problems The dominant narrative holds that the cause of the violence is the pathology of ghetto culture Hip hop music is at the center of this conversation When 16 year old Chicago youth Derrion Albert was brutally killed by gang members many blamed rap music Thus hip hop music has been demonized not merely as black noise but as a root cause of crime and violence Fear of a Hip Hop Planet America s New Dilemma explores and demystifies the politics in which the gulf between the inner city and suburbia have come to signify not only a socio economic dividing line but a new socio cultural divide as well Text & Presentation, 2019 Amy Muse,2020-03-20 This volume is the sixteenth in a series dedicated to presenting the latest findings in the fields of comparative drama performance and dramatic textual analysis Featuring some of the best work from the 2019 Comparative Drama Conference in Orlando this book engages audiences with new research on contemporary and classic drama performance studies scenic design and adaptation theory in nine scholarly essays two event transcripts and six book reviews This year s highlights include an interview with playwright Branden Jacobs Jenkins and a roundtable discussion on the sixtieth anniversary of Lorraine Hansberry s A Raisin in the Sun

Edward Albee and the Emergence of Difference and Diversity in US and World Theatre David A. Crespy, Les Gray, 2025-09-08 This collection of essays seeks to present articles that examine the early ventures of the 1960s and 1970s in the progressive theatre of identity with a new contemporary view considering the intersection of race gender ethnicity economic class and sexual orientation In 1964 Edward Albee and his producers Richard Barr and Clinton Wilder produced Funnyhouse of a Negro by Adrienne Kennedy and Dutchman by Amiri Baraka then Leroi Jones and by 1968 had produced the seminal gay drama The Boys in the Band by Mart Crowley No other major American playwright of this period including Thornton Wilder Arthur Miller Tennessee Williams or William Inge produced the plays of their junior colleagues with a specific focus on difference and diversity For most scholars these productions and Albee's involvement in them are a somewhat obscure footnote in theatre history But they remain important for their early support of diverse voices Even as Albee's career was skyrocketing he and his producers had begun a producing project that sowed the seeds of diversity equity and inclusion in a decidedly anti racist decolonizing and progressive move that still resonates powerfully today While this book is not a hagiography and does not intend to paint Albee as without his own critical failings in terms of diversity in his own work and that of others this volume of theatre history dramatic literature and performance essays takes a detailed critical approach to Albee's engagement with other initiating plays productions producers theatre companies theatre artists and performances in the United States that pushed the dial toward difference and diversity in the late 1950s through the late 1970s beginning the formations of new theatres of identity across the United States This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre and performance studies
