Dawson, 2023-04-06 This book examines treasure law and practice from the rise of the new science of archaeology in the early Victorian period to the present day Drawing on largely unexamined state records and other archives the book covers several legal jurisdictions England and Wales Scotland Ireland pre and post independence and post partition Northern Ireland From the Mold gold cape 1833 to the Broughton hoard 1896 from Sutton Hoo 1939 to the Galloway hoard 2014 the law of treasure trove and the Treasure Act 1996 are considered through the prism of notable archaeological discoveries and from the perspectives of finders landowners archaeologists museum professionals collectors the state and the public Literally and metaphorically treasure law is revealed as a ground breaking chapter in the history of the legal protection of cultural property and cultural heritage in Britain and Ireland

British and Irish Experiences and Impressions of Central Europe, c.1560-1688 David Worthington, 2016-04-15 Whilst much recent scholarly work has sought to place early modern

British and Irish history within a broader continental context most of this has focused on western or northern Europe In order to redress the balance this new study by David Worthington explores the connections linking writers and expatriates from the later Tudor and Stuart kingdoms with the two major dynastic conglomerates east of the Rhine the Austrian Habsburg lands and Poland Lithuania Drawing on a variety of sources including journals diaries letters and travel accounts the book not only shows the high level of scholarly interest evidenced within contemporary English language works about the region but how many more British and Irish people ventured there than is generally recognised As well as the soldiers merchants and diplomats one might expect we discover more unexpected and colourful characters including a polymath Irish moral theologian in Vienna an orphaned English poetess in Prague a Welsh humanist in Cracow and a Scottish physician and botanist at the Vasa court in Warsaw This examination of the diverse range of Irish Scottish Welsh and English religious intellectual political military and commercial contacts with central Europe provides not only a more balanced view of British and Irish history but also continues the process of reintegrating the histories of the European regions Furthermore by extending the focus of research beyond widely studied areas towards other more illuminating international aspects the book challenges scholars to analyse these networks within less parochial and more transnational settings
