Between professions and countries. Highly skilled Latin American migrants and the negotiation of cultural capital Ilana Nussbaum Bitran, 2020-11-10 The migration of highly skilled individuals brings together two important and well developed institutional systems on the one hand the organization of professions and on the other hand the state and its migration and integration regime Therefore professional migrants move between two levels of regulation The first one applies to their specific professional group and regulates the acquisition of knowledge as well as the participation in the labor market The second one controls the access to and settlement in a given country Taking the examples of medicine and the information technologies IT in Germany and Chile the present research asks how different institutional settings shape the cultural capital negotiation strategies of highly skilled Latin American migrants Using Bourdieu's relational theory and especially his concepts of field and capital this book seeks to understand professions as fields and to follow the trajectories of highly skilled Latin American migrants within two transnational professional fields Using a reconstructive praxeological approach this book presents three typologies showing how the interaction between transnational professional fields and national regulations creates different possibilities for highly skilled migrants to negotiate their capital and the strategies they develop to reach a good position in their host country's labor market

Communication in Personal Relationships Across Cultures William B. Gudykunst, Stella Ting-Toomey, Tsukasa Nishida, 1996-08-07 Filling the void in interpersonal and intercultural communication Communication in Personal Relationships Across Cultures examines the communication practices of non Western cultures The international cast of contributors assembled here leaves behind the biases typical of most research and theorizing done in this area of communication and enables the reader to develop a thorough understanding of how people communicate in non Western societies Chapters focus on communication practices in China Japan Korea Mexico Brazil Iran Africa and totalitarian societies Through both emic and etic approaches this groundbreaking volume explores how members of a culture understand their own communication and compares the similarities and differences of specific aspects of communication across cultures Covering all major theories in this expanding field and suggesting areas for future research this engaging collection will interest both students and professionals in communication psychology and sociology
