Rowland Pocket Guide to Ottawa Chris Collie, 1989      Museums and the Representation of Native Canadians Moira McLoughlin, 2018-10-24 If we were to think about museums as three dimensional maps as spaces to be divided defended and privileged what would they tell us about the place of Native Canadians within the larger nation Utilizing a combination of exhibit analysis and interviews this book explores how Canadian history anthropology and art museums have situated Native Canadian history and culture within a larger narrative of nationhood Until very recently these museums have with few exceptions perpetuated the continued isolation of Native Canadians on the Other side of carefully demarcated boundaries of time space and culture Despite a living and highly politicized presence outside their walls inside these museums Native Canadians have remained fixed and isolated in time and space This book discusses how this particular image of Native Canadians has been translated into the numerous dichotomies and borders of the museum between modern and traditional past and present myth and science progress and stasis active and passive and ultimately us and them However in tribal museums and more recent programming at the larger museums we are able to identify alternative maps that realign these borders and give voice to alternative constructions of these histories The past decade has seen enormous change in how museum curators educators and directors imagine their role in these museums and more particularly in the construction of a history of Native Canadians This book considers how museums and those who work within them have responded to the challenge of writing a more complex and multivocal history for the nation Ph D dissertation the Annenberg School for Communication University of Pennsylvania 1992 revised with new preface bibliography and index      Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler, 2002-02      National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1992      Canadian Books in Print , 2000      Beyond "Understanding Canada" Melissa Tanti, Jeremy Haynes, Daniel Coleman, Lorraine York, 2017-04-21 The dismantling of Understanding Canada an international program eliminated by Canada s Conservative government in 2012 posed a tremendous potential setback for Canadianists Yet Canadian writers continue to be celebrated globally by popular and academic audiences alike Twenty scholars speak to the government s diplomatic and economic about face and its implications for representations of Canadian writing within and outside Canada s borders The contributors to this volume remind us of the obstacles facing transnational intellectual exchange but also salute scholars persistence despite these obstacles Beyond Understanding Canada is a timely trenchant volume for students and scholars of Canadian literature and anyone seeking to understand how Canadian literature circulates in a transnational world Contributors Michael A Bucknor Daniel Coleman Anne Collett Pilar Cuder Dom nguez Ana Mar a Fraile Marcos Jeremy Haynes Cristina Ivanovici Milena Kali anin Smaro Kamboureli Katalin K rt si Vesna Lopi i Bel n Mart n Lucas Claire Omhov re Lucia Otr salov Don Sparling Melissa Tanti Christl Verduyn Elizabeth Yeoman Lorraine York      Much Ado about Culture Archibald Lloyd Keith Acheson, Christopher John Maule, 2009-10-27 Examines trade disputes between Canada and the United States over the cultural industries and proposes a way to resolve such conflicts Quill & Quire, 1998 A Bibliography of Works on Canadian Foreign Relations, 1991-1995 Jennifer McNenly, Canadian Institute of International Affairs, 1998 History of the Book in Canada History of the Book in Canada Project, 2004 The History of the Book in Canada is one of this country's great scholarly achievements with three volumes spanning topics from Aboriginal communication systems established prior to European contact to the arrival of multinational publishing companies Each volume observes developments in the realms of writing publishing dissemination and reading illustrating the process of a fledgling nation coming into its own The third and final volume follows book history and print culture from the end of the First World War to 1980 discussing the influences on them of the twentieth century including the country's growing demographic complexity and the rise of multiculturalism Crucial to creating a sense of identity during this period was the Royal Commission on National Development in the Arts Letters and Sciences whose report of 1951 led to the establishment of influential cultural institutions such as the Canada Council for the Arts and the National Library of Canada Other key developments included the initiation and growth of library systems the expansion of film radio and television the burgeoning of children's literature enhanced opportunities for writers the Quiet Revolution in Quebec and the rise of Canadian studies and Canadian literature as respected fields for teaching and research In English Canada mainstream book publishing flourished during the 1920s suffered severely during the Depression went through a period of renewal and advance after the Second World War but became imperilled by the 1970s Small literary presses and allophone publishers in turn grew increasingly significant during the 1960s a decade in which Quebec's new cultural policies began to foster ongoing support for francophone book culture In addition to telling the stories of Canada's recent book history this volume pays due attention to multifarious developments in print culture including book prizes sports writing pulp magazines the alternative press Coles Notes the international success of Harlequin and the unprecedented influence of Les insolences du Fr re Untel the famous cry for education reform in 1960s Quebec Volume three of the History of the Book in Canada marks the successful completion of an extraordinary project that documents the country's achievements for generations of scholars and readers to come Scientific Canadian Mechanics' Magazine and Patent Office Record Canada. Hertrampf, F. Piedad-Pascual, 2012-12-06 Current growth in global aquaculture is paralleled by an equally significant increase in companies involved in aquafeed manufacture Latest information has identified over 1 200 such companies not including those organizations in production of a variety of other materials i.e. vitamins minerals and therapeutics all used in varying degrees in proper feed formulation Aquaculture industries raising particular economically valued species i.e. penaeid shrimps and salmonids are making major demands on feed ingredients while relatively new industries such as tilapia farming portend a significant acceleration in demand for properly formulated aquafeeds by the end of the present decade and into the next century As requirements for aquafeeds increases shortages are anticipated in various ingredients especially widely used proteinaceous resources such as fish meal A variety of other proteinaceous commodities are being considered as partial or complete replacement for fish meal especially use of plant protein sources such as soybean meal In the past five years vegetable protein meal production has increased 10% while fish meal production has dropped over 50% since 1989 largely attributed to overfishing and serious decline in wild stock Throughout fisheries processing industries traditional concepts as waste have given way to more prudent approaches emphasizing total by product recovery Feed costs are a major consideration in aquaculture where in some groups i e salmonids high protein containing feeds using quality fish meal can account for as much as 40 to 60% of production costs
