Rulership in 1st to 14th century Scandinavia Dagfinn Skre, 2019-12-16 This book seeks to revitalise the somewhat stagnant scholarly debate on Germanic rulership in the first millennium AD. A series of comprehensive chapters combines literary evidence on Scandinavia's politics, kings and other rulers with archaeological, documentary, toponymical and linguistic evidence. The picture that emerges is one of surprisingly stable rulership institutions, sites and myths, while control of them was contested between individuals, dynasties and politics. While in the early centuries Scandinavia was integrated in Germanic Europe, profound societal and cultural changes in 6th century Scandinavia and the Christianisation of Continental and English kingdoms set northern kingship on a different path. The pagan heroic warrior ethos essential to kingship was developed and refined only to recur overseas embodied in 9th-10th century Vikings. Three chapters on a hitherto unknown masonry royal manor at Avaldsnes in western Norway, excavated in 2017, concludes this volume with discussions of the late medieval peak of Norwegian kingship and its eventual downfall in the late 14th century. This book's discussions and results are relevant to all scholars and students of 1st millennium Germanic kingship, politics and societies. The Formation of the Hebrew Bible

Empowering Women after the Arab Spring Marwa Shalaby, Valentine M. Moghadam, 2016-11-09 This book sheds light on some of the most critical issues impeding the advancement of women's rights post Arab Spring, such as patriarchy, barriers to women's agency in the legal and socioeconomic realms, women's access to the decision-making process, citizenship rights and the impact of conflict on women's status. It offers a distinct perspective that takes into account the diversity of the Arab world and presents a theoretical framework on the study of women's empowerment amid the transformations that have shaped the social and political fabrics of Arab societies. Empowering Women after the Arab Spring represents cutting-edge research from a variety of academic disciplines: anthropology, political science and sociology, and presents comparative analyses from places including the United Arab Emirates, Syria, Egypt and Tunisia. This volume offers one of the first systematic efforts to combine qualitative and quantitative research to draw a more accurate picture of the realities of Middle Eastern women.
