An Historian in Peace and War T.G. Otte, 2016-04-15 The First World War and subsequent peace settlement shaped the course of the twentieth century and the profound significance of these events were not lost on Harold Temperley whose diaries are presented here An established scholar and later one of Britain s foremost modern and diplomatic historians Temperley enlisted in the army at the outbreak of the war in August 1914 Invalided home from the Dardanelles campaign in 1915 he spent the remainder of the war and its aftermath as a general staff officer in military intelligence Here he played a significant role in preparing British strategy for the eventual peace conference and in finalising several post war boundaries in Eastern Europe Later in the 1920s and 1930s Temperley was to co edit the British diplomatic documents on the origins of the war and the vicissitudes of modern Great Power politics were to be his principal preoccupation Beginning in June 1916 the diary presents a more or less daily record of Temperley s activities and observations throughout the war and subsequent peace negotiations As a professional historian he appreciated the significance of eyewitness accounts and if Temperley was not at the very heart of Allied decision making during those years he certainly had a ringside seat Trained to observe accurately he recorded the concerns and confusions of wartime conscious always of the historical significance of what he observed As a result there are few sources that match Temperley's diary which presents a fascinating and unique perspective upon the politics and diplomacy of the First World War and its aftermath
