Serving African American Children:

Serving African American Children Sheryl Brissett-Chapman, 2018-04-27 Serving African American Children was initiated to present an African American perspective on child welfare issues affecting African American children. The chapters in this volume challenge the child welfare community to ensure that all African American children receive protection, nurturing, and an improved quality of life to create and sustain mutual communication and support through program development to ensure that African American consultants are involved in the evaluation of agencies where African American populations represent a significant proportion of the service population and to increase African American leadership through education and training opportunities in preparation for executive level positions. Major chapters and contributors to Serving African American Children include Family Preservation and Support Services: A Missed Opportunity for Kinship Care by Julia Danzy and Sondra M Jackson; Achieving Same Race Adoptive Placements for African American Children by Ruth G McRoy, Zena Oglesby, and Helen Grape; African American Families and HIV/AIDS: Caring for Surviving Children by Alma J Carten and Ilene Fennoy; A Rite of Passage Approach Designed to Preserve the Families of Substance Abusing African American Women by Vanesta L Poitier, Makini Niliwaambieni, and Cyprian Lamar Rowe; and An Afrocentric Program for African American Males in the Juvenile Justice System by Aminifu R Harvey and Antoinette A Coleman. The chapters reflect a variety of policy research and practice issues, clinical techniques, and treatment models and new perspectives in child welfare. The theme that runs throughout each chapter is the grave concern about the overrepresentation of African American children and families in the child welfare system and about the limited if not missing influence of the African American perspective on policy and practice. Serving African American Children is a book of vital importance and should be read by all social workers, sociologists, African American studies specialists, and professionals in the field of child welfare. Serving African American Children

Does Family Preservation Serve a Child's Best Interests? Howard Altstein, Ruth G. McRoy, 2000-08-02 In this new volume two distinguished professors of social work debate the question of whether family preservation or adoption serves the best interests of abused and neglected children Arguing the merits of keeping families together whenever possible Ruth G McRoy examines the background theory and effectiveness of family preservation programs She provides practical recommendations and pays particular attention to the concerns of African American children Claiming that there is insufficient evidence that family preservation actually works Howard Altstein counters that children from truly dysfunctional families should be given the chance for stable lives through adoption rather than left in limbo

Welfare and the Well-Being of Janet M. Currie, 2005-07-18 An analysis of eight of the largest US welfare programmes affecting children Programmes discussed include Medicaid Aid to Families with Dependent Children the Food Stamp Program WIC and School Lunch Head Start and the Earned Income Tax Credit Addressing Racial Disproportionality and Disparities in Human Services Rowena Fong, Alan Dettlaff, Joyce James, Carolyn Rodriguez, 2014-11-11 The issue of racial disproportionality in the child welfare system particularly as it impacts African American children and families has long been a concern to practitioners and policymakers However disproportionality is not limited to the African American community Latino Native American Asian American and Pacific Islander populations experience inequities in treatment From leading voices on culturally competent care comes a cutting edge book that examines disproportionalities across all of these racial and ethnic groups Eliminating Racial Disproportionality and Disparities examines a wide range of systems that often affect and interact with child welfare Chapters are devoted to the juvenile justice system mental health the courts education and healthcare making it the only book to offer a multisystemic approach to disparities and disproportionality Filled with in depth case studies key terms study questions and resources and written to reflect CSWE mandated competencies this expansive book gives students educators policymakers practitioners and administrators new knowledge for providing culturally competent services while simultaneously addressing disproportionality across various systems of care Race and Social Policy Sandra Edmonds Crewe, 2022-11-10 Social policy is not blind It has been at the forefront of perpetuating structural inequality in many of the systems charged with serving and protecting The impact of race on social policy is linked to historical intended and unintended patterns of discrimination that have resulted in disparate impact for many across their life course This book uses critical race theory to examine key social policies The chapters give primacy to addressing the experiences of African Americans in navigating systems that are flawed by structural racism and yet too often attribute individual pathology rather than systemic injustice to the worsening life circumstances they find themselves in Using scholarship personal and professional experiences the contributors offer valuable insight on differential treatment and the resulting missed opportunities to address historical barriers that if not addressed will continue the cycle of harm for marginalized members in society The Covid 19 pandemic along with the loss of Black lives through carceral injustices have amplified the national discourse about race and social policy Additionally critical race theory has been championed by many as a framework for understanding the structural inequalities that plague our nation Others have assailed the theory as promoting hate guilt and divisiveness The contributors use critical race theory in combination with other theoretical frameworks to provide context for the persistent and pernicious injustices that have historically plagued society Their work offers context with the goal of policy changes aimed at eradicating systemic injustices that negatively impact quality of life Race and Social Policy is a significant new contribution to understanding and addressing systemic and structural racism and it will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of social work politics public policy and sociology This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Social Work in Public Health

America's First Black Socialist Nikki M. Taylor, 2012-12-01 This authoritative biography chronicles the pioneering work of a nineteenth century Black abolitionist and civil rights activist Growing up in the free state of Ohio before the Civil War Peter H Clark dedicated himself to the abolitionist cause In pursuit of equal citizenship for African Americans Clark was at various times a loyal supporter of the Republican Party and an advocate for the Democrats and the country's first black socialist Clark led the fight for African Americans access to Ohio's public schools and became the first black principal in the state America's First Black Socialist draws upon speeches correspondence and outside commentary to provide a balanced account of this influential yet neglected figure Charting Clark's changing allegiances and ideologies from the antebellum era through the 1920s this comprehensive biography illuminates the life and legacy of an important activist while also highlighting the black radical tradition that helped democratize America

Racial Disproportionality and Disparities in the Child Welfare System Alan J. Dettlaff, 2020-11-27 This volume examines existing research documenting racial disproportionality and disparities in child welfare systems the underlying factors that contribute to these phenomena and the harms that result at both the individual and community levels It reviews multiple forms of interventions designed to prevent and reduce disproportionality particularly in states and jurisdictions that have seen meaningful change With contributions from authorities and leaders in the field this volume serves as the authoritative volume on the complex issue of child maltreatment and child welfare It offers a central source of information for students and practitioners who are seeking understanding on how structural and institutional racism can be addressed in public systems
