and welcome the author whose expertise can help our audience of readers The Cinematic Challenge: Filming Colonial America John P. Harty, Jr. ,2016 Why did cinema largely ignore the colonial era and the Revolutionary War The Cinematic Challenge asks this question and studies four films from the 1930s and 1940s to consider other queries such as How did Darryl F Zanuck make a film about the American Revolution Drums Along The Mohawk without indicating that the British were the enemy Why was Northwest Passage never completed How did Cecil B DeMille begin production on a film Unconquered based on a book that did not yet exist In addition we ll learn how accurate the depictions of colonial life were in each film and whether the political and economic climate affected the finished products Volume one of The Cinematic Challenge also includes information about the general state of the film industry during this period technological advancements and rival theories about historical filmmaking making it the most in depth resource available today on colonial movies Cinema by Design Lucy Fischer,2017-03-14 Art Nouveau thrived from the late 1890s through the First World War The international design movement reveled in curvilinear forms and both playful and macabre visions and had a deep impact on cinematic art direction costuming gender representation genre and theme Though historians have long dismissed Art Nouveau as a decadent cultural mode its tremendous afterlife in cinema proves otherwise In Cinema by Design Lucy Fischer traces Art Nouveau s long history in films from various decades and global locales appreciating the movement s enduring avant garde aesthetics and dynamic ideology Fischer begins with the portrayal of women and nature in the magical trick films of the Spanish director Segundo de Chom n the elite dress and d cor design choices in Cecil B DeMille s The Affairs of Anatol 1921 and the mise en sc ne of fantasy in Raoul Walsh s The Thief of Bagdad 1924 Reading Salome 1923 Fischer shows how the cinema offered an engaging frame for adapting the risqu works of Oscar Wilde and Aubrey Beardsley Moving to the modern era Fischer focuses on a series of dramatic films including Michelangelo Antonioni s The Passenger 1975 that make creative use of the architecture of Antoni Gaud and several European works of horror The Abominable Dr Phibes 1971 Deep Red 1975 and The Strange Color of Your Body s Tears 2013 in which Art Nouveau architecture and narrative supply unique resonances in scenes of terror In later chapters she examines films like Klimt 2006 that portray the style in relation to the art world and ends by discussing the Art Nouveau revival in 1960s cinema Fischer s analysis brings into focus the partnership between Art Nouveau s fascination with the illogical and the unconventional and filmmakers desire to upend viewers perception of the world Her work explains why an art movement embedded in modernist sensibilities can flourish in contemporary film through its visions of nature gender sexuality and the exotic Production Design & the Cinematic Home Jane Barnwell,2022-05-10 This book uses in depth case studies to explore the significance of the design of the home on screen The chapters draw widely upon the production designer s professional perspective and particular creative point of view The case studies employ a methodology Barnwell has pioneered for the analysis of production design called Visual Concept Analysis which can be used as a key to decode the design of any given film Through the nurturing warmth of the

Brown's home in Paddington the ambiguous boundaries of secret service agent homes in Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy and the singleton space occupied by Bridget Jones Barnwell demonstrates that the domestic interior consistently plays a key role. Whether used as a transition space, an ideal, a catalyst for change or a place to return to, these case studies examine the pivotal nature of the home in storytelling and the production designers' significance in its creation. The book benefits from interviews with production designers and artwork that provides insight on the creative process.

The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry Anthony Slide, 2014-02-25 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry is a completely revised and updated edition of Anthony Slide's The American Film Industry originally published in 1986 and recipient of the American Library Association's Outstanding Reference Book award for that year. More than 200 new entries have been added and all original entries have been updated; each entry is followed by a short bibliography. As its predecessor, the new dictionary is unique in that it is not a who's who of the industry but rather a what's what: a dictionary of producing and releasing companies, technical innovations, industry terms, studios, genres, color systems, institutions, and organizations, etc. More than 800 entries include everything from Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences to Zoom Lens from Astoria Studios to Zoetrope. Outstanding Reference Source American Library Association.

Production Design Jane Barnwell, 2019-07-25 Production Design: Architects of the Screen explores the role of the production designer through a historical overview that maps out landmark film and television designs. From the familiar environs of television soap operas to the elaborate and disorientating Velvet Goldmine, Jane Barnwell considers how themes, motifs, and colours offer clues to unravel plot, character, and underlying concepts. In addressing the importance of physical space in film and TV, the book investigates questions of authenticity in detail: props, colours, and materials. The design codes of period drama, more playful representations of the past, and distinctive contemporary looks are discussed through the use of key examples ranging from musicals of the 1930s to cult films of the 1990s. The book also includes interviews with leading production designers and studies of Trainspotting, The English Patient, and Caravaggio.

Hollyworld Aida Hozic, 2018-10-18 Hollywood is currently one of the largest and most profitable sectors of the U S economy In just a few decades it has transformed itself from a dying company town into a merchandising emporium of movies games and licensed characters It is quickly moving even further into cyberspace virtual reality and digital imaging Aida Hozic writes of these enormous changes in the film industry from a novel perspective by tracing shifts in spatial organization of film production from the enclosed worlds of old Hollywood studios through globally dispersed location shooting to digital production and distribution Hozic's fascinating tale of latter day capitalism suggests that the physical reorganization of production across the American economy but in Hollywood in particular alters material and conceptual boundaries between work and leisure public and private reality and fantasy Particular economic regimes and forms of spatial organization have specific moral implications and so the story of Hollywood's cultural production is partly a story of censorship and moral surveillance Hozic's account of industrial change in Hollywood and of its attempts at moral control over the production of fantasy is an illuminating confrontation with the peculiar nature of Hollywood's political authority and of its complex power

Film William H. Phillips, 2009-01-02 This clear well illustrated text takes the reader through the basics of film analysis drawing on a wide range of film for discussion Questions of genre and the contexts and meanings of film are considered

The Movies as a World Force Ryan Jay Friedman, 2019-02-04 Throughout the silent feature era American artists and intellectuals routinely described cinema as a force of global communion a universal language promoting mutual understanding and harmonious coexistence amongst disparate groups of people In the early 1920s film industry leaders began to espouse this utopian view in order to claim for motion pictures an essentially uplifting social function The Movies as a World Force examines the body of writing in which this understanding of cinema emerged and explores how it shaped particular silent films and their marketing campaigns The utopian and universalist view of cinema the book shows represents a synthesis of New Age spirituality and the new liberalism It provided a framework for the first official written histories of American cinema and persisted as an advertising trope even after the transition to sound made movies reliant on specific national languages

The Wrong House Steven Jacobs, 2007 Architecture plays an important role In the films of Alfred Hitchcock Steven Jacobs devotes lengthy discussion to a series of domestic buildings with the help of a number of reconstructed floor plans made specially for this book

When Blanche Met Brando Sam Staggs, 2006-07-25 Exhaustively researched and almost flirtatiously opinionated When Blanche Met Brando is everything a fan needs to know about the ground breaking New York and London stage productions of Williams Streetcar as well as the classic Brando Leigh film Sam

Staggs interviews with all the living cast members of each production will enhance what's known about the play and movie and help make this book satisfying as both a pop culture read and as a deeper piece of thinking about a well known story. Readers will come away from this book delighted with the juicy behind the scenes stories about cast director playwright and the various productions and will also renew their curiosity about the connection between the role of Blanche and Vivien Leigh's insatiable sexual appetite and later descent into breakdown. They may also for the first time question whether the character of Blanche was actually mad or whether her anxiousness was symptomatic of another disorder. A Streetcar Named Desire is one of the most haunting and most studied modern plays. Staggs' new book will fascinate fans and enrich newcomers' understanding of its importance in American theater and movie history. Creating Interior Atmosphere Jean Whitehead, 2017-12-14 This book sets out to explore the creation of interior atmosphere as seen through the lens of mise en scene. You will learn how this film theory informs the concept of staged space translated through the narrative and expressive qualities of a particular scene. Jean Whitehead quickly takes this concept beyond the screen and considers its application to the interior setting. By learning to use the ingredients that inform an interior mise en scene such as its backdrop, choice of props, use of special effects alongside the application of colour, pattern, graphics, light and shadow, an immersive atmospheric experience can be created. Packed with inspiring examples and case studies ranging from cinematic interiors and art installations to the work of notable interior designers, stylists and architects with an interior interest, this book broadens current thinking around the design of the decorated interior. It will help you to embrace the concepts that underpin an interior mise en scene through the use of softer decorative techniques and concerns. The Gothic Other Ruth Bienstock Anolik, Douglas L. Howard, 2014-09-26 Literary use of the Gothic is marked by an anxious encounter with otherness, with the dark and mysterious unknown. From its earliest manifestations in the turbulent eighteenth century, this seemingly escapist mode has provided for authors a useful ground upon which to safely confront very real fears and horrors. The essays here examine texts in which Gothic fear is relocated onto the figure of the racial and social Other, the Other who replaces the supernatural ghost or grotesque monster as the code for mystery and danger, ultimately becoming as horrifying, threatening and unknowable as the typical Gothic manifestation. The range of essays reveals that writers from many canons and cultures are attracted to the Gothic as a ready medium for expression of racial and social anxieties. The essays are grouped into sections that focus on such topics as race, religion, class and centers of power. Born to Be Hurt Sam Staggs, 2024-06-04 In a passionate and witty behind the scenes expose, the author of All About Eve takes on the classic 1959 Douglas Sirk film starring Lana Turner. Few films inspire the devotion of Imitation of Life, one of the most popular films of the 50s, a split personality drama that's both an irresistible women's picture and a dark commentary on ambition, motherhood, racial identity and hope lost and found. Born to Be Hurt is the first in-depth account of director Sirk's masterpiece. Lana Turner on the brink of personal and professional ruin, starred as Lora Meredith. African American actress Juanita Moore played her servant and dearest friend and Sandra Dee and Susan Kohner their respective daughters caught up in the heartbreak of the black passing for white daughter in the 1950s Both Moore and Kohner were Oscar nominated as Best Supporting Actress Sam Staggs combines vast research extensive interviews with surviving cast members and superb storytelling into a masterpiece of film writing Entertaining saucy and incisive this is irresistible reading for every film fan
