Settlers And The Agrarian Question Capitalism In Colonial Australia:

Settlers and the Agrarian Question Philip McMichael, 1984 An original interpretation of the development of Australian colonial society and economy Applied Multilevel Analysis Jos W. R. Twisk, 2010-03-26 This is a practical introduction to multilevel analysis suitable for all those doing research Most books on multilevel analysis are written by statisticians those books are difficult for non mathematical researchers In contrast this volume provides an accessible account on the practical application of multilevel analysis in research Many worked examples with computer output are given to illustrate and explain this subject Datasets of the examples are available on the internet so the reader can reanalyze the data This approach will help bridge the conceptual and communication gap that exists between researchers and statisticians Globalising Australian Capitalism Robert Catley, 1996-10-07 Tells the story of Australia's integration into the international economy It traces the Australian economy from Federation to its downturn the 1970s and assesses the current state of play Topics include the rise of economic rationalism demographic and social repercussions of globalisation and the emerging power of the Asia Pacific region Opposing Australia's First Assisted Immigrants, 1832-42 Melanie Burkett, 2021-10-26 This book unravels the paradoxical denigration of the first significant group of free non convict working class emigrants to the Australian colony of New South Wales in the 1830s Though their labour was sorely needed the colonial elite rejected the new arrivals on the grounds that they were lazy and immoral These criticisms stemmed from political economic and cultural motivations that ultimately sought to protect legitimise and cement the elite's financial and social hegemony The author seeks to explore the ulterior motives behind the public denunciations of immigrants by exposing the conflicting and opportunistic rationales used Brought to Australia from Britain and Ireland through the experiment of government assisted migration these immigrants are often remembered as brave pioneers today but this book exposes the deep antagonistic attitudes toward immigration that remain entrenched in Australian society Uncovering early forms of class antagonism in Australia this book presents useful insights for those researching Australian history and migration studies as well as scholars of colonial history by providing a model for re evaluating and confronting a long standing pattern in most settler societies hostility toward immigrants Settler Society in the Australian Colonies Angela Woollacott, 2015 Examines the rising numbers of free settlers from the 1820s to the 1860s their dependence on Aboriginal immigrant and convict under paid laborers and the slow development of representative government Foucault and Family Relations Malcolm Voyce, 2019-05-14 Foucault and Family Relations Governing from a Distance in Australia analyzes how notions of property ownership were instrumental in maintaining family stability and continuity in rural Australia outlining how inheritance and divorce laws functioned to govern the internal relationships of families to assist the state to rule from a distance Using a selection of Foucault's ideas on the family sexuality race space and economics this book shows how property operated as a disciplinary device which was underpinned by technical ideas such as surveying and cartography This book uses legal judgments as a form of ethnography to show how property as a socio technical device allowed a degree of local freedom for owners This aspect of property allowed the state to stimulate ideas of local freedom to assist in ruling from a distance demonstrating how the rural family as a domestic unit became a key field of intervention for the state as the family represented a bridge to larger relationships of power

Case Studies in the Origins of Capitalism Xavier

Lafrance, Charles Post, 2018-09-19 This edited volume builds and expands on the groundbreaking work of Robert Brenner and Ellen Meiksins Wood on the origins of capitalism Whereas Brenner and Wood focused mostly on the emergence of capitalism in the English countryside agrarian capitalism this book utilizes their approach to offer original theoretically sophisticated and empirically informed accounts of transitions to capitalism both agrarian and industrial in a wide range of countries in order to provide within a single volume a diverse collection of relatively brief yet detailed case studies of the historical transition to capitalism distributed across three continents Offering a new and highly original analysis of the global spread of capitalism this book will be a unique contribution to the longstanding debate on the transition to capitalism

Natural Experiments of History Jared Diamond, James A. Robinson, 2012-11 In eight case studies by leading scholars in history archaeology business economics geography and political science the authors showcase the natural experiment or comparative method well known in any science concerned with the past on the discipline of human history That means according to the editors comparing preferably quantitatively and aided by statistical analyses different systems that are similar in many respects but that differ with respect to the factors whose influence one wishes to study The case studies in the book support two overall conclusions about the study of human history First historical comparisons have the potential for yielding insights that cannot be extracted from a single case study alone Second insofar as is possible when one proposes a conclusion one may be able to strengthen one's conclusion by gathering quantitative evidence or at least ranking one's outcomes from big to small and then by testing the conclusion's validity statistically

Markets in their Place Russell Prince, Matthew Henry, Carolyn Morris, Aisling Gallagher, Stephen FitzHerbert, 2021-07-27 Markets are usually discussed in abstract terms as an economic organizing principle a generalized alternative to government planning or even as powerful actors in their own right able to shape local and national economic destinies But markets are not abstract Even as the idea of the market seduces politicians around the world to take advantage of their abstract qualities they constantly run up against material reality Markets are always somewhere in place and it is in place that the smooth theories of markets falter and fail More than simply being embedded in particular places markets necessarily emerge in the various political social cultural and environmental relations that exist in and between places Markets shape places but the reverse is also true This collection of essays approaches markets from the ground up and from a part of the world often still regarded as peripheral to global capitalism the South Pacific With a wide variety of case studies including on indigenous economies childcare agriculture wine electricity metering finance education and housing the authors show how complex local social and cultural politics matter to how markets are made within and between places and the insights that can be gleaned from studying markets in this part of the world They explore the way superficially similar markets work out differently in different places and why as well as examining how market relations are constructed in places outside and on the edges of the centres of Western capitalism and what this says back to how markets are understood in those centres The book will be of particular interest to scholars and students working in and between economic geography cultural economy political economy economic sociology and more

Temper Democratic Humphrey McQueen, 1998 Temper Democratic is an irreverent reflection on the idea of a classless Australia its achievements its limitations and its opponents Humphrey McQueen explains why no news is best scorns a national flag turns the logic of multiculturalism against ethnic chauvinists and advances a wicked redemption of political correctness

Shared Landscapes Rodney Harrison, 2004 The heritage of the pastoral industry stands as an integral symbol of identity for rural communities both black and white in New South Wales Modern changes in pastoral land management infrastructure and technology combined with broader land use changes and increased community interest in the conservation and rehabilitation of former grazing lands has meant that many former pastoral properties have been abandoned or acquired for other uses Tracking the history of these land use changes Shared Landscapes presents new ways of understanding historic heritage in settler societies through cross disciplinary case studies that examine the heritage of the pastoral industry in two national parks Assessing its current state of interpretation and management in New South Wales Rodney Harrison shows that pastoral heritage is more than just woolsheds and homesteads the showpieces of white male settler colonial economies Pastoral heritage is the product of the mutual histories of Aboriginal and settler Australians It is a form of heritage that is both in and a part of the landscape His archaeological approach to the heritage of the pastoral industry involves both recording sites and revealing attachments to community heritage demonstrating that writing shared histories and celebrating shared heritage has the creative power to reconcile Aboriginal and settler Australians in powerful and positive ways

The Social Cost of Cheap Food Sébastien Rioux, 2019-09-26 The distribution of food played a considerable yet largely unrecognized role in the economic history of Victorian and Edwardian Britain In the midst of rapid urbanization and industrialization retail competition intensified and the channels by which food made it to the market became vital to the country's economic success Illustrating the pivotal importance of food distribution in Britain between 1830 and 1914 The Social Cost of Cheap Food argues that labour exploitation in the distribution system was the key to cheap food Through an analysis of labour dynamics and institutional changes in the distributive sector Sébastien Rioux demonstrates that economic development and the rising living standards of the working class were premised upon the growing insecurity and chronic poverty of street sellers shop assistants and small shopkeepers Rioux reveals that food distribution far from being a passive sphere of economic activity provided a dynamic space for the reduction of food prices Positing food distribution as a core element of social and economic development under capitalism The Social Cost of Cheap

Food reflects on the transformation of the labour market and its intricate connection to the history of food and society
