Lord, 2021-05-03 This book examines the relationship between concepts of heroic gallantry as projected by the British honours system and the sociocultural political military and international transitions of the supposed Sixties cultural revolution In so doing it considers how a conservative hierarchical and state orientated concept both evolved and endured during a period of immense change in which traditional assumptions of deference to elites were increasingly challenged Covering the period often defined as The Long Sixties from 1955-79 this study concentrates on four distinct transitions undergone by both state and non state gallantry awards including developments within the welfare state class and gender discrimination counterinsurgency and decolonisation It ultimately sheds fresh light upon the importance of postwar decades to the continued evolution of concepts of gallantry and heroism in British culture using a range of underexplored government and media archives It will be of interest to scholars students and general researchers of heroism in modern Britain the Sixties revolution postwar military history and both the social and political evolution of British honours decorations and medals A Time for Tea Piya Chatterjee, 2001-11-29 An innovative ethnography of the production circulation and consumption of tea centered on the lives of the mostly women workers who produce it The English Landed Estate in the Nineteenth Century David Spring, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1963 The English Landed Estate in the Nineteenth Century Its Administration deals principally with the administration of large landed estates during the years from 1830 to 1870 The book also throws new light on the work of the Inclosure Commissioners who as a department of the central government supervised agricultural improvements made by landowners who borrowed from the government and from land companies Author David Spring argues that the British government intervened in agriculture much more than is commonly thought In describing the hierarchy of estate management Spring relies wherever possible on hitherto unused family papers and estate documents Especially important is his material on the Dukes of Bedford and on the domestic economy and financial position of the Russell Family The chapter titled The Landowner based on the seventh Duke of Bedford's correspondence with his agent is a case study of a single estate and provides insight into the workings of a great landowner's mind The remaining chapters dealing with lawyers land agents and the Inclosure Commissioners include other individual portraits Among these are Christopher Haedy the Duke of Bedford's chief agent James Loch king of estate agents in nineteenth century England Henry Morton the Earl of Durham's land agent and William Blamire and James Caird two of the Inclosure Commissioners New Serial Titles, 1966 A union list of serials commencing publication after Dec 31 1949 TID., 1963 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index, 1964-10 Annual Report of the Commissioner of Insurance, to the Legislature of Connecticut Connecticut.
