Social Movements and Global Social Change Robert K. Schaeffer, 2014-02-06 Social Movements and Global Social Change teaches students not only about how social change occurs but also how social movements can contribute to this change The book links two concepts in sociology that are often related in real life but that can seem disconnected in traditional approaches to teaching these courses The book examines different types of social movements including those often ignored in social change textbooks such as riots migration and disorganized protest It also looks at citizens rights and inequality in connection to social movements and change The book features global perspectives and examples throughout

The Bengal Borderland Willem van Schendel, 2005 The Bengal Borderland constitutes the epicentre of the partition of British India Yet while the forging of international borders between India Pakistan Bangladesh and Burma the Bengal Borderland has been a core theme in Partition studies these crucial borderlands have remarkably been largely ignored by historians

Partitioning Palestine Penny Sinanoglou, 2019-11-22 Partitioning Palestine is the first history of the ideological and political forces that led to the idea of partition that is a division of territory and sovereignty in British mandate Palestine in the first half of the twentieth century Inverting the spate of narratives that focus on how the idea contributed to or hindered the development of future Israeli and Palestinian states Penny Sinanoglou asks instead what drove and constrained British policymaking around partition and why partition was simultaneously so appealing to British policymakers yet ultimately proved so difficult for them to enact Taking a broad view not only of local and regional factors but also of Palestine's place in the British empire and its status as a League of Nations mandate Sinanoglou deftly recasts the story of partition in Palestine as a struggle to maintain imperial control After all British partition plans imagined space both for a Zionist state indebted to Britain and for continued British control over key geostrategic assets depending in large part on the forced movement of Arab populations With her detailed look at the development of the idea of partition from its origins in the 1920s Sinanoglou makes a bold contribution to our understanding of the complex interplay between internationalism and imperialism at the end of the British empire and reveals the legacies of British partitionist thinking in the broader history of decolonization in the modern Middle East div Methods and Nations Michael J. Shapiro, 2004 Annotation Methods and Nations critiques one of the primary deployments of twentieth century social science comparative politics whose major focus has been nation building in the Third World often attempting to universalize and render self evident its own practices International relations theorists unable to resist the cognitive imperialism of a state centric social science have allowed themselves to become colonized Michael Shapiro seeks to bring recognition to forms of political expression alternative modes of intelligibility for things people and spaces that have existed on the margins of the nationhood practices of states and the complicit nation sustaining conceits of social science Terrorism in Asymmetrical Conflict Ekaterina A.

Stepanova,2008-03-13 The book's main focus is on extremist ideologies and structural capabilities of violent non state actors that employ terrorist means Ideologies and organizational patterns are seen as the main comparative advantages of such groups in an asymmetrical confrontation at all levels from the local to the global Resolution of the key issues of the armed conflict is seen as essential but this is not sufficient to undermine the foundations of terrorism generated by that conflict unless the structural capabilities of militant groups are fully disrupted and the role of extremist ideologies in driving their terrorist activities is neutralized With its central focus on Islamist terrorism the book argues that the quasi religious supra national ideology of violent Islamism especially in its most ambitious transnational forms cannot be effectively counterbalanced at the ideological level either by Western democratic secularism or by the use of moderate versions of Islam itself The author concludes that unless transnational violent Islamism is first nationalized and second transformed in organizational terms through its being coopted into a more regular political process it is unlikely to become amenable to persuasion or any external influence let alone to be destroyed by the repression on which it thrives The study also proposes an original typology of terrorism based on the overall level of a militant group's goals and the extent to which its terrorist activities are linked to a broader armed conflict It combines qualitative research with the analysis of available data on trends in modern terrorism and the use of primary sources and writings Geographies of Liberation Alex Lubin,2014 Geographies of Liberation The Making of an Afro Arab Political Imaginary bombings and academics focus on security issues the environment often takes a backseat in media reportage and scholarship In particular Pakistani women s attachment to their environment and their environmental concerns are almost always ignored Shazia Rahman traces the ways in which Pakistani women explore alternative environmental modes of belonging examines the vitality of place based identities within Pakistani culture and thereby contributes to evolving understandings of Pakistani women in relation to both their environment and to various discourses of nation and patriarchy Through an astute analysis of such works as Sabiha Sumar s Khamosh Pani 2003 Mehreen Jabbar s Ramchand Pakistani 2008 Sorayya Khan s Noor 2006 Uzma Aslam Khan s Trespassing 2003 and Kamila Shamsie s Burnt Shadows 2009 Rahman illuminates how Pakistani women s creative works portray how people live with one another deal with their environment and intuit their relationship with the spiritual She considers how literary and cinematic documentation of place based identities simultaneously critiques and counters stereotypes of Pakistan as a country of religious nationalism and oppressive patriarchy Rahman s analysis discloses fresh perspectives for thinking about the relationship between social and environmental justice

Postcolonial Disaster Pallavi Rastogi, 2020-04-15 Postcolonial Disaster studies literary fiction about crises of epic proportions in contemporary South Asia and Southern Africa the oceanic disaster in Sri Lanka the economic disaster in Zimbabwe the medical disaster in South Africa and Botswana and the geopolitical disaster in India and Pakistan Pallavi Rastogi argues that postcolonial fiction about catastrophe is underpinned by a Disaster Unconscious a buried but mobile agenda that forces disastrous events to narrate themselves She writes that in disaster fiction a literary Story and its real life Event are in constant dialectic tension In recent disasters Story and Event are tied together as the urgency to circulate information and rebuild in the aftermath of the disaster dictates the flow of the narrative As the Story acquires temporal distance from the Event such as the seventy three years since the partition of India in 1947 it plays more with form and theme to expand beyond a tale about an all consuming tragedy Story and Event are in a constant dance with each other and the Disaster Unconscious plays the tune to which they move Rastogi creates a narratology for postcolonial disaster fiction and brings concepts from Disaster Studies into the realm of literary analysis
