Chinese Macrosecuritization Juha A. Vuori, 2023-11-10 This book provides a holistic picture of Chinese global security discourses with a focus on macrosecritizations The work examines how the People's Republic of China PRC has aligned itself within global security discourses This is approached through the theory of securitization specifically by using the notion of macrosecritization as the lens for its analysis The book offers the first full account of Chinese macrosecritization discourses and alignments and it aims to discern what security speech with referent objects such as humanity civilization or nature has done in the domestic and international politics of China Specifically the work focuses on the discourses of the Cold War anti nuclear weapons climate change and the Global War on Terror which have all been postulated in the literature as macrosecritizations In addition it examines discourses with global referent objects that have been put forth by the PRC so that we can see whether its proposals for global security governance take the form of or are legitimated through macrosecritization The overall argument in the book is that the way contemporary China uses macrosecritization discourses provides for ontological security as its position in relation to other major powers is undergoing transformation by allowing it to maintain a consistent narrative of its international self that abides by its own set of moral values and sense of worth This book will be of interest to students of critical security studies Chinese politics and International Relations The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons

Allison, 2015-01-31 Using a framework of norm diffusion to determine the EU's international actorness in the context of its relations with ASEAN this book provides a timely and in depth analysis of EU ASEAN relations By investigating three aspects of regionalism support by the EU it presents a comprehensive account of norm diffusion between the EU and ASEAN Chinese Television and Soft Power Communication in Australia Mei Li, 2019-12-16 Chinese Television and Soft Power Communication in Australia discusses China's soft power communication approach and investigates information handling between China and its targeted audiences in the eyes of key influencers intermediate elites public diplomacy policy elites in particular in China and Australia It explores CGTN with staff from several professional cultures and conducts a systemic test of how successful unsuccessful China's soft power message projection is in terms of congruence between projected and received frames as a pivotal factor of its power status The analysis is based on a case study of frames in the messaging on Chinese international TV about China's Belt and Road Initiative and in the minds of Australian public diplomacy policy elites The question raised is whether and how Australia is listening Reconstructing Urban Economics Franklin Obeng-Odoom, 2016-08-15 Neoclassical economics the intellectual bedrock of modern capitalism faces growing criticisms as many of its key assumptions and policy prescriptions are systematically challenged Yet there remains one field of economics where these limitations continue virtually unchallenged the study of cities and regions in built environment economics In this book Franklin Obeng Odoom draws on institutional Georgist and Marxist economics to clearly but comprehensively show what the key issues are today in thinking about urban economics In doing so he demonstrates the widespread tensions and contradictions in the status quo showing how to reconstruct urban economics in order to create a more just society and environment Agricultural Development in Jiangnan, 1620-1850 Li Bozhong, 1998-07-13 For centuries the Yangzi delta has acted as the locomotive of China's economic growth This book examines the surprising phenomenon of a long period of economic growth from 1620 to 1850 in the traditional agriculture of this extremely densely populated area when no new land was available and no major technological breakthroughs occurred Intensification of farming and rationalizations of resources saw an optimum model of peasant family economy become the norm The contrast with western patterns of development improves our understanding of China s economic performance past and present

Geography, Culture and Education Rod Gerber,M. Williams,2013-04-17 An important challenge for our world is to understand how cultural understanding and geographical education can be linked and used to improve the global society We readily accept that our world is constituted by numerous groups of people who are organised by committees tribes regions nations or continental entities How these groups interact show concern for each others well being and progress is still an unpredictable activity Intercultural tensions racial conflicts and religious clashes have all led to the challenges for enacting a constructive world Fundamental perspectives challenge moderate ones and the resulting tensions produce elements of fear doubt and distrust The extremist views of terrorist groups exaggerate these tensions to the extent that some different cultural groups do not prefer to live in peace with their neighbours Deep seated intercultural tensions predominate over peaceful co existence Such challenges may easily dominate the interaction between racial groups tribes indigenous peoples and colonisers However we know that through the sound practice of intercultural understanding cultural groups in different contexts around the world can interact and co exist successfully and productively In fact they can work together to seek to improve their society This does not mean that one group will dominate the other Rather it means that both groups work together to improve their collective lives Education has played an important role in the long term achievement of such harmony This volume has been developed to demonstrate that geographical education can be a potent force in the development of cultural understanding in different societies

Re-Orienting Australia-China Relations Nicholas Thomas,2017-03-02 Drawing on contributors from academic and policy communities this volume explores the major aspects of Australia China relations The frequently overlooked connection between Australia and Taiwan is also considered to allow readers to reach a full appreciation of the restraints engendered by the relationship with China as well as its many benefits Moving beyond the traditional state centric analysis the work incorporates new material on sub state relations as well as examining the impact of global economic and social forces on the Australia China friendship In addition to providing a contemporary understanding of the bilateral ties this work also provides a benchmark against which Australia s other relations with the countries of East Asia can be measured
