New Directions In Religious Education:

New Directions in Religious Education John Hull, 2018-12-21 First published in 1982 This book brings together some of the most influential articles which had moulded British religious education The articles are divided into specialised sections dealing with various aspects of the subject so that the main developments are clearly indicated The first section of the book deals with research into the religious psychology of childhood This is followed by two collections of articles dealing with the search for a philosophy of religious education and with the problems created for the teaching of religion in Britain by our pluralist society The fourth section deals with the problems of designing a curriculum in religious education while the final part gives some examples of methods in the teaching of religion The book thus provides both the general reader the student teacher and the specialist religious education teacher an easily accessible collection of many of the materials which had created British religious education

New Directions in Religious Education Finola Cunnane, 2004 Is religious education a thing of the past or is it something whose time has not yet arrived In New Directions in Religious Education Finola Cunnane details her conviction that religious education is one of the most important issues facing our world to

New Directions in Religious and Values Education Leslie J. Francis, David W. Lankshear, Stephen Parker, 2021 This volume brings together 15 studies reporting the latest international research on developments and trends in religious education Together these 15 studies illustrate recurrent themes affecting the development of religious education in diverse locations and also illustrate the distinctive trajectories of locations shaped by different histories and by different contemporary contexts These contributions were brought together in a recent seminar convened by the International Seminar on Religious Education and Values the leading international association for religious educators and values educators across the world This volume has selected key contributions made to the seminar spanning both conceptual and empirical perspectives rooted in both religious and secular traditions

Religious Education L. Philip Barnes, Andrew Davis, 2015-08-27 Religious Education Educating for Diversity raises issues that are central to the theory and practice of education and in particular religious education in modern liberal democracies characterized by diversity in its different forms What kind of religious education is best equipped both to challenge prejudice and intolerance in society and to develop responsible and respectful relationships between people from different communities or with different commitments Two eminent educators address this question and propose contrasting answers Attention is given to the aims of education and the contribution of religious education to the curriculum historical forms of religious education the nature of diversity in society the roots of prejudice different methodologies in religious education and their philosophical and religious commitments and to positive strategies to enable religious education to realise its potential and contribute to the social and moral aims of liberal education

Rethinking Religious Education and Plurality Robert Jackson, 2004 How should schools deal with religions in matters of curriculum procedure and policy As Western society becomes increasingly multicultural in character schools must reassess the provision of religious education and look at how they might adapt in order to accommodate students diverse experiences of plurality This book offers a critical view of approaches to the treatment of different religions in contemporary education in order to devise approaches to teaching and learning and to formulate policies and procedures that are fair and just to all Beginning with a contextual overview of the religious social and cultural changes of the past fifty years the book goes on to illuminate and assess six different responses to the challenges posed by religious plurality in schools Conclusions are drawn from the various positions explored in this book identifying what the character of religious education should be how it should be taught and addressing the issues raised for policy practice and research Rethinking Religious Education and Plurality argues for a plural approach to education and will be a valuable resource for students and researchers studying courses in religious education as well as teachers education advisers and policy makers

International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity

International Handbook of the Religious, Moral and Spiritual Dimensions in Education Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Kathleen Engebretson, Robert Jackson, Andrew McGrady, 2007-06-04 In today's pluralistic world many cultures feel a shift in the relationship of people with religious traditions A corresponding movement is a resurgence of interest in human spirituality This Handbook presents the views of education scholars who engage these concepts every day in a collection of essays reflecting the international state of the discipline Out of these rises a vision for the emergence of a just and peaceful world
