New Framework For Christian Belief:

Tomorrow's Faith Adrian B. Smith, 2005 Adrian Smith summarizes the differences between the old ways of Christian thinking and the new ones that will take it forward into the next century A new framework for Christian belief Adrian B. Smith, 2002 In common with all human beings as spiritual creatures Christians carry a set of beliefs about the reality which they name God which underlies existence and which is a guide through life For some the seeds of this were planted in early childhood by parents Sunday School Catechism class or early experiences of the sacred church and were thought about questioned and became more personal as these people matured For others the set of beliefs came later in life as they sought to understand what being a Christian meant Christianity Expanding Don MacGregor, 2020-10-30 All religions evolve and Christianity is evolving rapidly today Don MacGregor's book is a lucid and thoughtful guide to this process and shows how the essential core teachings of Christianity can be disentangled from unhelpful interpretations that stand in the way of a living Christian faith in the twenty first century I found this book stimulating and inspiring It is also admirably brief and clear Dr Rupert Sheldrake biologist and author of A New Science of Life Christianity Expanding Into Universal Spirituality takes us on a whistle stop tour of the areas that need updating if Christianity is to flourish in the 21st Century New science ecological concern and the need for new theology are all converging into a maelstrom of change With broad brushstrokes on a big canvas a path of personal transformation is charted drawing on the mysterious Perennial Wisdom teachings that have survived down the ages Pulling no punches Don MacGregor delves into typically taboo subjects such as reincarnation drawing a distinction between Jesus and the Christ This dynamic first volume of The Wisdom Series is an initial outline of areas that demand ongoing exploration Buddhist and Christian? Rose Drew, 2013-07-03 The last century witnessed a gradual but profound transformation of the West's religious landscape In today's context of diversity people are often influenced by and sometimes even claim to belong to more than one religious tradition Buddhism and Christianity is a particularly prevalent and fascinating combination This book is the first detailed exploration of Buddhist Christian dual belonging engaging from both Buddhist and Christian perspectives the questions that arise and drawing on extensive interviews with well known individuals in the vanguard of this important and growing phenomenon The book looks at whether it is possible to be authentically Buddhist and authentically Christian given the differences in beliefs and practices It asks whether Buddhist Christians are irrational religiously schizophrenic or spiritually superficial or whether the thought and practice of Buddhism and Christianity can be reconciled in a way that makes possible deep commitment to both Finally the book considers whether the influence of Buddhist Christians on each of these traditions is something to be regretted or celebrated Understanding Faith Formation Mark A. Maddix, Jonathan H. Kim, James Riley Jr. Estep, 2020-10-27 Three leading Christian educators offer a survey of faith formation from various perspectives biblical theological pastoral practical and global They present a biblical theology of faith formation for individual and congregational life and show how faith can be formed through the life and mission of the local church through practices such as communal worship Bible study and mission They also explore the faces of faith formation in multicultural and global contexts The book includes practical exercises for those beginning in ministry and reflection questions The Moot Papers Keith Clements,2015-02-26 The Moot was the study and discussion group set by J H Oldham 1874 1969 following the 1937 Oxford conference on Church Community and State Its purpose was to continue in an informal but serious way exploration of the relation between church and society and the realization of Christian ethics in the public sphere The Moot met twice or three times a year from 1938 to 1947 21 times in all and was convened by Oldham with the conscious intention of responding to the grave crisis that was felt to be facing western society in Britain no less than on the continent of Europe Overall some 35 people attended the Moot at one time or another but its core comprised a small number of regular members who were representative of the highest levels in theology social science and public affairs In addition to Oldham himself they included T S Elliot H A Hodges Eleonora Iredale Adolf L we Karl Mannheim Walter Moberly John Middleton Murry and Alec Vidler Other participants included Kathleen Bliss Fred Clarke Christopher Dawson H H Farmer Hector Hetherington Walter Oakshott and Gilbert Shaw while notables such as Reinhold Niebuhr Melville Channing Pearce Donald McKinnon Philip Mairet Leslie Newbiggin William Paton Frank Pakenham later Lord Longford Michael Polanyi and Oliver Tomkins made occasional guest appearances Against the background of impending and then actual war the discussions in the Moot repeatedly focused on the planned nature of modern society and therewith the roles if any within it of moral choice and the Christian community Christian Education and the Emerging Church Wendi Sargeant,2015-07-24 All signs point to Christian education having lost its theological location and prominence in the life of the Western Protestant church The Emerging Church movement as an intentionally postmodern approach to ministry in the contemporary context may however offer insights to reinterpret Christian education This significant movement in today s church gives Christian education a new interpretive framework that is theologically located at an intersection of doxology and doctrine In her examination of postmodern faith formation Wendi Sargeant explores the importance of the Christian worshipping community as the most appropriate setting for Christian education Practitioners and students will benefit from the ready to use teaching and learning matrix and all those with interest in the formation of faith in themselves and others will draw much from the way Sargeant situates worship as the basis for enhancing Christian formation and ethos Christian Beliefs about Life after Death Paul Badham,1976-06-18 The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Religion and Ecology John Hart,2017-03-24 In the face of the current environmental crisis which clearly has moral and spiritual dimensions members of all the world s faiths have come to recognize the critical importance of religion s relationship to ecology The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Religion and Ecology offers a comprehensive overview of the history and the latest developments in religious engagement with environmental issues throughout the world Newly commissioned essays from noted scholars of diverse faiths and scientific traditions present the most cutting edge thinking on religion's relationship to the environment Initial readings explore the ways traditional concepts of nature in Christianity Judaism Islam Buddhism and other religious traditions have been shaped by the environmental crisis Readings then address the changing nature of theology and religious thought in response to the challenges of protecting the environment Various conceptual issues and themes that transcend individual traditions climate change bio ethics social justice ecofeminism and more are then analyzed before a final section examines some of the immediate challenges we face in caring for the Earth while looking to the future of religious environmentalism Timely and thought provoking Companion to Religion and Ecology offers illuminating insights into the role of religion in the ongoing struggle to secure the future well being of our natural world With a foreword by Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew I and an Afterword by John Cobb

Christian Faith as Religion Paul E. Capetz, 2011-05-26 Christian Faith as Religion investigates the theologies of John Calvin and Friedrich Schleiermacher with respect to the questions What is Religion and What is Christian Religion The author argues that the classical and liberal exemplars of Protestant theology are best compared when these two questions are thoroughly examined and calls into question the contention of neo orthodox theologians Karl Barth and Emil Brunner that Schleiermacher's theological use of the category religion signifies a departure from the tradition of the Reformation He offers a revised comparative framework that discloses the material and formal similarities between Calvin and Schleiermacher with respect to their employment of the categories religion and revelation and allows the historical theologian to delineate the trajectory that accounts for both continuity and discontinuity in the transition from classical to modern Protestant theology This allows the systematic hermeneutical question of a contemporary Protestant theology informed by the historical and philosophical study of religion to be taken up anew

Setting Jesus Free John Churcher, 2009-12-16 There is a new global spiritual movement that supports people to think outside of the traditional boxes of faith and their inherited understandings of God As part of this development this book is intended for those who are on the margins of the Christian Church

Transforming Vocation David Benson, Kara Martin, Andrew Sloane, 2021-05-12 There has been an explosion of publishing in the faith work movement in the last twenty years Work is increasingly seen as the new frontier for Christian mission However the church and theological colleges have failed to keep up with the interest among and needs of workplace Christians This book is the urgent corrective that is needed moving past Theology of Work 101 to much deeper encounters with God's word as it relates to daily work These twelve academic papers look at work through three different lenses the workplace the church and theological education It is prefaced by Mark Greene from the London Institute for Contemporary Christianity reflecting on what work church and theological education would look like if there was no sacred secular divide In the concluding remarks the editors imagine a future where each domain is transformed by the gospel working dynamically together for the life of the world While academic in terms of depth of thinking quality of research and referencing of crucial sources for further exploration this book is never dry Rather it's life giving and provocative for every vocation asking fundamental questions of the reader What is the work that God is calling you to do How can the gospel transform your work And how well positioned are churches and colleges to be at the forefront of transforming vocation With contributions from Mark Greene James Pietsch Peter White Peter Docherty Gordon Preece Keith Mitchell David Fagg Ian Hussey Colin Noble Andrew Matthews Sarah Bacaller Samuel Curkpatrick Maggie Kappelhoff A Companion to Wittgenstein Hans-Johann Glock, John Hyman, 2016-12-20 A COMPANION TO WITTGENSTEIN The most comprehensive survey of Wittgenstein's thought yet compiled this volume of fifty newly commissioned essays by leading interpreters of his philosophy is a keynote addition to the Blackwell Companions to Philosophy series Full of penetrating insights into the life and work of the most important philosopher of the twentieth century the collection explores the full range of Wittgenstein's contribution to philosophy It includes essays on his intellectual development his work in logic and mathematics philosophy of language philosophy of mind and action epistemology ethics philosophy of religion and much else As well as examining Wittgenstein's contribution to human understanding in detail the Companion features vital contextual analysis that traces the relationship between his ideas and those of other philosophers and schools of thought including the Aristotelian and continental philosophical traditions Authors also address prominent themes that remain current in today's philosophical debates explaining Wittgenstein's continuing legacy alongside his historical significance Essential reading for scholars of philosophy at all levels A Companion to Wittgenstein combines engaging commentary with unrivaled academic authority

Integrating Christian Faith and Work Sharlene G. Buszka, Timothy Ewest, 2019-10-21 Though the majority of Americans claim faith in God and adults spend the majority of their time working these two important dimensions of life are rarely effectively integrated It is important for people of every faith tradition to consider how when and if their faith and work are to be integrated This is especially true as research shows that the integration of faith and spirituality in the workplace results in numerous benefits for individuals organizations and society if done respectfully This book presents key research insights concerning integration influences and strategies for Christians who seek to integrate their faith and their work Specifically it discusses how individual occupational and organizational factors influence faith and work integration and suggests diverse ways to integrate the Christian faith at work The Faith and Work Integration Spheres of Influence Model is presented as a tool to guide individuals in better understanding how to develop their own personal plan for faith and work integration within the context of limiting or enabling occupational and organizational factors It also suggests areas for further research on this topic Readers will learn how Christian faith and work integration can be maximized based on individual attributes occupational characteristics and organizational factors Why Believe? John Cottingham, 2009-07-09 Why Believe? sees John Cottingham a philosopher of searing intellectual honesty examine our society's struggle with the concept of belief Cottingham's carefully reasoned yet impassioned account shows how the religious outlook connects with our deepest human longings how it links up with our moral and aesthetic experience how it is integrally involved in the quest for self

Since its invention by Renaissance humanists the myth of the Middle Ages has held a uniquely important place in the Western historical imagination Whether envisioned as an era of lost simplicity or a barbaric nightmare the medieval past has always served as a mirror for modernity This book gives an eye opening account of the ways various political and intellectual projects from nationalism to the discipline of anthropology have appropriated the Middle Ages for their own ends Deploying an interdisciplinary toolkit author K Patrick Fazioli grounds his analysis in contemporary struggles over power and identity in the Eastern Alps while also considering the broader implications for scholarly research and public memory Connecting Jesus to Social Justice Thomas Hughson, 2013-10-10 Many Christians see the societal dimension of their faith as a matter of biblical and social ethics Returning to classical Christology Connecting Jesus to Social Justice explores messianic potential in the Council of Chalcedon on the divine identity of Christ Who Jesus is makes all the difference to Christian entrance into the public sphere on behalf of a just society The Messiah's divinity bears on social mission directed toward a just social order Theological appropriation of Chalcedon overcomes a gap between the professing the Creed and interpreting social existence in light of a just social order Connecting Jesus to Social Justice argues a doctrinally traditional orthodox basis for Christian participation in the public sphere on behalf of social justice The book addresses a situation internal to churches in the U S from a Catholic perspective yet not without analogies in other churches and Christian movements Applying traditional Christology to contemporary social mission solidifies an answer to adversarial queries on the appropriateness of a social agenda Implications in the classical Christology also confirm churches and discipleship in commitment to social justice promoted through a subaltern counter public and then by word and deed in the public sphere
