Hilary M. Lips

New Male Female Relationship:

The New Male Female Relationship Herb Goldberg, 2000 In this ground breaking work Goldberg shows how traditional relationships are doomed to fail not because of personal inadequacies but because of the psychological defense mechanisms that program men to behave like machines and women like children Goldberg offers a total reevaluation of the war between the sexes in light of the enormous changes the woman's liberation movement has brought about in the last several decades Immensely hopeful in its outlook the book gives us a vision of just how good a relationship can be when men and women are friends and companions as well as lovers Book jacket New Horizon in Male-Female Relationships David Samuel Green, 2010-04-09 New Horizon in Male Female Relationships attempts to break new ground in the discourse on gender equality love happiness and marriage Author David Samuel Green succeeds admirably and wastes no time in tracing the evolution of human relationships But he also puts forward new theories regarding the state of relations between males and females across the globe including married couples What Green's new book further accomplishes lies in its no holds barred exploration of matters of the heart Specifically the author examines methods we can employ to eliminate problems that tend to hamper our relationships and shows us how best to get the most out of our unions with emphasis on how product thinking and egalitarianism assist remarkably Besides offering solutions for troubled marriages and other relationships the book also extols several concepts that go hand in hand with love and happiness At the same time it becomes clear that if we want our unions and partnerships to work we have to bring the right attitude to the table After all as we learn the ingredients for a successful relationship must include compassion forgiveness and understanding The New Male Herb Goldberg, 2001-07 African Women's Theology, Gender Relations, and Family Systems Theory Mpyana Fulgence Nyengele, 2004 African women theologians have written extensively about problems in gender relations in African contexts identifying oppressive elements and their effects on women's self concept and status in the church family and society This book provides much needed pastoral theological attention and a response to the psychospiritual relational and sociocultural effects of gender injustice and marginalization of women It critically examines concepts methods and principles of family systems theory analyzes gender relations in African families and churches and develops a theology of pastoral care based on the Trinitarian concept of perichoresis that offers pastoral guidelines for effective pastoral counseling with women and men as well as recommendations for corrective and preventative care grounded in educational strategies The paradigm of pastoral care that emerges attends both to women affected by gender injustice and to the sociocultural norms that cause distress and perpetuate gender oppression Feminist Approaches for Men in Family Therapy Michele Bograd, 2014-01-14 This book is the first of its kind to address the treatment of men in marital and family therapy from a political or feminist perspective Feminist Approaches for Men in Family Therapy is an important and provocative addition to the field of family therapy and psychotherapy and works to deepen the understanding of men by using more traditional approaches Timely and relevant to today's interest in men's issues this book develops and demonstrates applications of treatment methods in straightforward prose from a variety of family therapy models. These techniques and methods enable anyone working with men, beginning and advanced clinicians regardless of clinical preference or loyalty, to have a more effective practice with men. Truly reflecting its title, this provocative volume offers new ways of conceptualizing male development and the dilemmas of men in therapy while providing exemplars of the wide range of clinical work. This perspective enriches. Chapters concisely summarize the major benefits and limitations of conventional approaches to treating men and provide beginning conceptualizations of treatment issues with men that are grounded in social theory, sensitivity to power issues and the social context, and shifting cultural definitions of masculinity, femininity and the nature of marriage. Other chapters employ the exciting and germane concepts of social constructionism to analyze belief systems about men and how cultural ideals shape and limit the personal development of men. An ideal resource for all therapists striving for excellence in treating men. The Ethics of Interpersonal Relationships Joyce Catlett, Robert W. Firestone, 2018-03-28. Writing this book springs from a deep feeling for people and a grave concern that without a proper understanding of the reasons for their inhumanity in relation to one another and the development of a compassionate world view, it is likely that human beings may eventually destroy themselves and life on the planet. This work is an attempt to explain the source of destructive behaviour and how it manifests itself in personal relationships between men, women, couples and families and in the social arena. The author presents a position that offers a hope of altering the destiny of humankind's unethical behavior through better psychological understanding and education. Understanding the source of a person's aggressiveness in defending the fantasy bond and learning to cope with the voice process have strong implications for child rearing and better mental health practices.

Individuals, Relationships and Culture Robert A. Hinde, 1987. This book offers an original way of bridging the gap between what biologists and social scientists have to say about human behaviour. Gender and Couple Relationships Susan M. McHale, Valarie King, Jennifer Van Hook, Alan Booth, 2015-10-27. This provocative volume is comprised of psychological, socioeconomic and cultural perspectives on couple dynamics, particularly gender dynamics and the future of marriage. Featuring data on married, cohabitating, male, female and same sex couples, the authors of the book's chapters analyze the changing impacts of work, parenting and the health benefits of marriage for men and women. Trajectories in the evolution toward gender equality provide the backdrop for discussions of women and men as partners, parents and workers in contemporary society. Contributors also keep a sharp focus on the complexities of gender issues as they intersect with crucial contexts of cohort, class, race, ethnicity and sexual orientation. Among the topics covered: Gender equality and economic inequality impacts on marriage. Expansionist theory expanded integrating sociological and psychological perspectives on gender work and family change. Gender work and family action in the interactions. Changes in U.S. mothers and fathers' time use causes and consequences. A case for gay fathers. Gender marriage and health for same sex and different sex couples.

Gender and Couple Relationships documents social roles and social change with fascinating insight to advance research in fields of psychology sociology demography and economics and to the benefit of work organizations policy makers family and couple therapists and other mental health professionals Men in Therapy Richard L. Meth,Robert S. Pasick,1991-10-18

Men have long been considered difficult to engage in psychotherapy often being described as resistant unworkable and unfeeling The few available books that deal specifically with men s issues tend to lack a central theoretical focus are highly psychoanalytic in content or simply do not provide specific guidelines for working with men This unique and timely volume fills an important gap in the literature by demonstrating why change is often so difficult for them It provides detailed guidelines for helping men initiate and sustain change in their personal familial and professional lives Black

Male/female Relationships ,1981 Women, Television and Everyday Life in Korea Youna Kim,2005 Korea is currently witnessing huge social change with unprecedented divorce rates and the disintegration of the traditional family system Fusing audience research and ethnography Women Television and Everyday Life in Korea presents a compelling account of women s changing lives and identities in relation to the impact of the most popular media culture in everyday life television Within the historically specific social conditions of Korean modernization Kim analyses how Korean women of varying age and class groups cope with the new environment of changing economical structures and social relations The central arguments presented revolve around the revelatory and self reflexive nature of TV talk and its function as a form of empowerment The book argues that television is an important resource for women stimulating them to research their own lives and identities Kim reveals Korean women as creative energetic and critical audiences in their responses to evolving modernity and the impact of the West Publisher description Gender and Society in the New Guinea Highlands Marilyn G.

Gelber,2019-03-13 The societies of the New Guinea Highlands are among the last contacted horticulturalist peoples of the world Endemic warfare elaborate systems of exchange flamboyant personality styles and exaggerated forms of antagonism between the sexes have made them a subject of interest to anthropologists for three decades This book examines the relationship between the sexes especially the attitudes and behavior of men toward women as a result of the economic political and structural constraints of Highland social organization Hostility toward women which is evident in a high level of violence toward women and an articulated fear of association with them is given special attention Dr Gelber s study is unique not only because it treats gender relations in the entire culture area of the Highlands but also because a broad array of types of anthropological analysis ecosystemic population regulatory economic sociopolitical psychological and ideational are considered for their relevance to the phenomenon of intersexual hostility The author s emphasis on underlying problems of explanation and theory as well as the treatment of attitudes and beliefs as a function of socioeconomic constraints is a departure from previous modes of analysis and raises new issues in anthropological theory and in the study of gender
