New Conversations With An Old Landscape:

New Conversations With an Old Landscape Catherin Jane Bull, 2002 This book explores the work of landscape architects in Australia since the 1960s It describes how landscape architects are as contemporary Australians listening more closely to the language of the landscape and how they are designing new landscapes in Exploring the Boundaries of Landscape Architecture Simon Bell, Ingrid Herlin, Richard Stiles, 2011-02-20 What have cultural anthropologists historical geographers landscape ecologists and environmental artists got in common Along with eight other disciplines from domains as diverse as planning and design the arts and humanities as well as the social and natural sciences they are all fields of importance to the theory and practice of landscape architecture In the context of the EU funded LE NOTRE Project carried out under the auspices of ECLAS the European Council of Landscape Architecture Schools international experts from a wide range of related fields were asked to reflect each from their own perspective on the interface between their discipline and landscape architecture The resulting insights presented in this book represent an important contribution to the development the discipline of landscape architecture as well as suggesting new ways in which future collaboration can help to create a greater interdisciplinary richness at a time when the awareness of the importance of the landscape is growing across a wide range of disciplines Exploring the Boundaries of Landscape Architecture is the first systematic attempt to explore the territory at the boundaries of landscape architecture It addresses academics professionals and students not just from landscape architecture but also from its neighbouring discipline all of whom will benefit from a better understanding their areas of shared interest and the chance to develop a common language with which to converse Hybrid Modernity Mary Padua, 2020-07-26 This book provides a detailed historical and design analysis of the development of parks and modern landscape architecture in late 20th century China It questions whether the fusion of international influences with the local Chinese design vocabulary in late 20th century China has created a distinctive and novel approach to the design of public parks Hybrid Modernity proposes a new theory for examining the design of public parks built in post Mao China since the reforms and sets the various processes for China's late 20th century socio cultural context Drawing on modernization theory research on China's modernity local and global cultural trends it illustrates through a range of case studies ways hybrid modernity defines a new design genre and language for the spatial forms of parks that emerged in China's secondary cities Featured case studies include the Living Water Park in Chengdu Sichuan province Zhongshan Shipyard Park in Guangdong Province Jinji Lake Landscape Master Plan in Suzhou Jiangsu province and the West Lake Southern Scenic Area Master Plan in Hangzhou Zhejiang province This book argues that these forms represent a new stage in China's history of landscape architecture The work reveals that as a new profession landscape architecture has greatly contributed to China's massive urban experiment This book is an ideal read for students enrolled in landscape architecture architecture fine arts and urban planning programs who are engaged in learning the arts and international design education Future Park Amalie Wright, 2013-09-19 The first public parks were created on urban greenfields Once these designated sites had been used cities looked towards post industrial sites and built parks in places that had suffered from environmental degradation neglect abandonment and conflict With finite stocks of urban post industrial land now also approaching exhaustion more ways of making parks are required to create inclusive accessible and resilient urban places Future Park invites Australian built environment professionals and policymakers to consider the future of parks in our cities Including spectacular images of public spaces throughout the world the book describes the economic social and environmental benefits of urban parks and then outlines the threats and challenges facing cities and communities in an age when more than half the world s population are urban dwellers Future Park introduces the need to embrace new public park thinking to ensure that benefits continue to be realised Future Park illustrates imaginative and resourceful responses to real challenges by highlighting recent proposals and projects These projects coalesce around four broad themes linkages obsolescences co locations and installations responding to contemporary urban paradoxes and ensuring parks continue to play a vital role in the lives of our cities Australian

Conversations With Landscape Karl Benediktsson, Katrín Anna Lund, 2016-05-13

Conversations With Landscape moves beyond the conventional dualisms associated with landscape exploring notions of landscape and its relation with humans through the metaphor of conversation Such an approach conceives of landscape as an actor in the ongoing communication that is inherent in any perception recognising the often ignored mutuality of encounters between human and non human actors With contributions drawn from a variety of disciplines including anthropology geography archaeology philosophy literature and the visual arts this book explores the affects and emotions engendered in the conversations between landscape and humans Offering scope for an original and coherent approach to the study of landscape this book will appeal to scholars and researchers across a range of social sciences and humanities Urban

Nation Robert Freestone, 2010 Provides the first national account of the historical impact of urban planning and design on the Australian landscape It defines and documents hundreds of places parks public spaces redeveloped precincts neighbourhoods suburbs up to whole towns that contribute to the character of urban and suburban Australia Landscape
