New Directions in Nursing History Barbara Mortimer, Susan McGann, 2005 New Directions in the History of Nursing Barbara Mortimer, 2005 This collection of essays reflects the current interdisciplinary and international nature of the history of nursing scholarship Covering a range from the eighteenth to the twentieth century this book draws on research from eleven different countries to address the issues of professionalism within nursing the social and ethical issues which are woven into the relationship between the nurse midwife and her patient client the trans cultural dimensions nurses create when they move from one culture to another and the recent developments in historiography New Directions in

Organizational and Management History Sonia Coman, Andrea Casey, 2022-08-22 This book provides a valuable review of the disciplines of organizational and management history illuminating the interconnectedness of these disciplines identifying gaps in the literature and sketching a model for a unified field of research and study This co authored study is a long awaited theoretical re evaluation of organizational and management history The authors explore the disciplinary advantages of a joint approach to these related fields noting opportunities for future scholarship from the wider range of industries and case types to the richer theoretical toolbox Within this framework the book investigates interdisciplinary methodologies and surveys and analyzes the most promising of the newest theoretical lenses and empirical approaches in the field The authors address complex issues from a metacritical perspective from the emergent theorization of time in the context of organizational identity to the conundrum of case selection for empirical studies Clear and thorough the volume creates a compelling theoretical framework for future studies New Directions in Organizational and Management History inaugurates and sets the stage for the new series De Gruyter Studies in Organizational and Management History New Directions in Nursing

History Susan McGann, Barbara Mortimer, 2004 New Directions in Sport History Duncan Stone, John Hughson, Rob Ellis, 2017-10-02 Emerging from the history from below movement sport history was marginalised for decades by those working within more traditional historical fields and institutions Although a degree of ignorance still exists sport history has now acquired a level of credibility through the dedicated work of professional historians And yet as this authority has been established changes to UK higher education funding the removal of direct state funding the Research Excellence Framework and tuition fees and academic publishing open access have the potential to damage or even end sports research This book examines sport history from a variety of perspectives Do mainstream historians need to engage or play with sports historians Has the postmodernist cultural turn in sports history been helpful to the sub discipline How can the teaching of sports studies be more innovative and inspiring How can oral history and sport history be utilised in the study of other branches of historical interest Although changes are required in dealing with the current political reality of UK higher education sport history still has a great deal to offer students future employers and the public alike This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport New Directions in American Religious History Harry

S. Stout, D. G. Hart, 1998-01-01 The eighteen essays collected in this book had their origin in a conference of the same title held at the Wingspread Conference Center in October of 1993 Some of the most distinguished scholars in the field were invited to reflect on their specialities in American religious history in ways that summarized where the field is and where it ought to move in the decades to come Organized according to four general ways of looking at religious history places and regions universal themes transformative events and marginal groups and ethno cultural outsiders the essays address a wide range of topics including Puritanism religion and the Civil War Protestantism and economic behavior gender and sexuality in American Protestantism and the contemporary de Christianization of American culture Featuring contributions from David D Hall Donald G Matthews Allen C Guelzo Gordon S Wood Daniel Walker Howe Robert Wuthnow Jon Butler David A Hollinger and others this thought provoking and up to date collection will interest anyone involved in the study of American religion and history New Directions in Policy History Julian E. Zelizer, 2010-11-01 New Directions in African Military History Timothy J. Stapleton, 2025-06-02 New Directions in African Military History takes a thematic approach to the history of war and military structures in Africa and highlights the under researched areas African Military History represents a relatively new and fast growing sub field bridging the previously wide gap between the well established genres of African History and Military History Based on a synthesis of existing literature and aimed at a wide readership this book adopts a broad temporal range and uses select examples to highlight a series of points to cover the pre colonial to post colonial eras and offer examples from various parts of the continent This volume evaluates controversial academic debates examining evidence research methods approaches and changing historiographical contexts as well as pointing to potential new areas of research It comprises seven thematic chapters on ways of war weapons technology navies air power battles women combatants and genocide in African history This volume will be of value to students and scholars alike interested in Modern History Military History and African History The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith, 2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated womens daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune womens and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike

Asian-Canadian Exclusion and the Challenges of Identity Formation, 2021-09-06 Asian Canadians whether immigrant international students naturalized native born or other are hampered in their exploration and articulation of self by the dearth of critical writing both for them and by them Despite the influx of Asian students and their inflated tuition rates to Canadian postsecondary institutions they are strikingly underrepresented in the literature of the academy Critical theory focusing on Asian identity anti Asian racism and the Asian Canadian experience is limited or presented as an artifact of the past Across the globe but particularly in the English speaking West the internationalization of higher education continues its upward trend 2017 data from the Canadian Bureau for International Education positioned Canada as the fourth leading destination for international students seeking post secondary education The fact that the vast majority of international students at Canadian colleges and universities come from Asia has been well documented in domestic media but the lived experiences and perspectives of these transnational individuals have not This edited collection provides much needed theorizing of Asian Canadian lived experiences focusing on such themes as multiculturalism diversity race culture agency education community activism citizenship identity model minority myths gender colonization neoliberalism and others in Understanding Dementia and Alzheimer's Disease Taher Zandi, Richard J. Ham, 2012-12-06 The management of Alzheimer's Disease and the related dementias is one of the major challenges to health care professionals and American society at large for the coming decade and the coming millennium The rapid growth of the over eighty five population the group which as recent studies have confirmed and as many of us clinicians have long suspected has an even higher prevalence than previously quoted of dementing disorders is the major cause of this We are thus challenged by as Bernard

Issacs used to call it the survival of the unfittest as well as the optimistic approach of bringing life to years as John F Kennedy said The fact is that we as a society tend to confuse treatment and cure and prevention As the proceedings of the conference which this book represents emphasize there is considerable work going on about the potential prevention of or at least the reduction of symptomatology in these illnesses by interventions genetically chemically and so forth However the more we find out the more complicated it becomes and the more heterogeneous Alzheimer s and the related disorders appear to be not only in their manifestations as clinicians have long recognized but also in the individual initiating and underlying processes For these reasons absolute preventive techniques or the likelihood of an intervention which will reverse the process in a high proportion of patients do not appear to be just around the corner

Who cared for the carers? Deborah Palmer, 2015-11-01 This book compares the histories of psychiatric and voluntary hospital nurses health from the rise of the professional nurse in 1880 to the advent of the National Health Service in 1948 In the process it reveals the ways national ideas about the organisation of nursing impacted on the lives of ordinary nurses It explains why the management of nurses health changed over time and between places and sets these changes within a wider context of social political and economic history Today high rates of sickness absence in the nursing profession attract increasing criticism Nurses took more days off sick in 2011 than private sector employees and most other groups of public sector workers This book argues that the roots of today s problems are embedded in the ways nurses were managed in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries It offers insights not only into the history of women s work but also the history of disease and the ways changing scientific knowledge shaped the management of nurses health
