New Icons The Art Of Television Advertising:

The New Icons? Paul Rutherford, 1994 The author surveyed roughly six thousand commercials spanning the years between 1948 and 1992 and covering much of the globe from Sweden to Hong Kong Canada to Ecuador France to South Africa to tell the story of one form of cultural power how it was generated and stored articulated and exercised resisted as well as maintained He encompasses findings on production distribution consumption and the form and content of television advertisements He focuses on the best exemplars looking at the most celebrated pieces of work to understand what was so creative so significant about this art Paper edition unseen 19 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

A World Made Sexy Paul Rutherford, 2007-01-01 Eroticism is a constant presence in modern society encompassing almost every aspect of our daily lives It is a product of one of the major commercial and political enterprises of the twentieth and twenty first centuries the cultivation of desire desire for sex desire for wealth desire for entertainment Paul Rutherford's A World Made Sexy looks at modern civilization's ongoing project to manufacture and encourage public wants building a utopia where just about everyone who is affluent dreams plays and of course shops A World Made Sexy uses museum exhibitions art books magazines films and television to examine the rise and purpose of eroticism first in America but soon across the affluent world Starting with a brief foray into the representation of history as past pornography Rutherford explores a sexual liberation movement shaped by the ideas of Marx and Freud the erotic styles of Salvador Dali and pop art the pioneering use of publicity as erotica by Playboy and other products and the growing concerns of cultural critics over the emergence of a regime of stimulation In one case study Rutherford pairs James Bond and Madonna in order to examine the link between eroticism and aggression He further details how television advertising after 1980 constructed a theatre of the libido to entice the buying public and concludes by situating the Eros project in the wider context of Michel Foucault's account of the administration of life and specifically sexuality during the modern era A World Made Sexy is about power and pleasure emancipation and domination and the relationship between the personal passions and social controls that have crafted desire

Communicating in Canada's Past Gene Allen, Daniel Robinson, 2009-11-14 Communicating in Canada's Past evolved out of essays presented at the inaugural Conference on Media History in Canada of 2006 which brought together media historians from across the disciplines and from both French and English Canada The first collection of its kind this volume assembles both well established and up and coming scholars to address sizable gaps in the literature on media history in Canada Communicating in Canada's Past includes a substantial introduction to media history as a field of study historiographical essays by senior scholars Mary Vipond Paul Rutherford and Fernande Roy and original research essays on a range of subjects including print journalism radio television and advertising Editors Gene Allen and Daniel J Robinson have provided a sophisticated wide ranging introduction for those who are new to media history while also assembling a valuable collection of new research and theory for those already familiar with the field

Cross-Cultural Consumption David

Howes,2002-11-01 Goods are imbued with meanings and uses by their producers When they are exported they can act as a means of communication or domination However there is no guarantee that the intentions of the producer will be recognized much less respected by the consumer from another culture Cross Cultural Consumption is a fascinating guide to the cultural implications of the globalization of a consumer society The chapters address topics ranging from the clothing of colonial subjects in South Africa and the rise of the hypermarket in Argentina to the presentation of culture in international tourist hotels Through their examination of cultural imperialism and cultural appropriation of the representation of otherness and identity Howes and his contributors show how the increasingly global flow of goods and images challenges the very idea of the cultural border and creates new spaces for cultural invention Marian Bredin Concordia University Constance Classen Jean Comaroff University of Chicago Mary Crain University of Barcelona Carol Handrickson Marlboro Colleg American Culture, American Tastes Michael Kammen,2012-10-03 Americans have a long history of public arguments about taste the uses of leisure and what is culturally appropriate in a democracy that has a strong work ethic Michael Kammen surveys these debates as well as our changing taste preferences especially in the past century and the shifting perceptions that have accompanied them Professor Kammen shows how the post traditional popular culture that flourished after the 1880s became full blown mass culture after World War II in an era of unprecedented affluence and travel He charts the influence of advertising and opinion polling the development of standardized products shopping centers and mass marketing the separation of youth and adult culture the gradual repudiation of the genteel tradition and the commercialization of organized entertainment He stresses the significance of television in the shaping of mass culture and of consumerism in its reconfiguration over the past two decades Focusing on our own time Kammen discusses the use of the fluid nature of cultural taste to enlarge audiences and increase revenues and reveals how the public role of intellectuals and cultural critics has declined as the power of corporate sponsors and promoters has risen As a result of this diminution of cultural authority he says definitive pronouncements have been replaced by divergent points of view and there is as well a tendency to blur fact and fiction reality and illusion An important commentary on the often conflicting ways Americans have understood defined and talked about their changing culture in the twentieth century Rational Ritual Michael Suk-Young Chwe,2013-04-28 Why do beer commercials dominate Super Bowl advertising How do political ceremonies establish authority Why were circular forms favored for public festivals during the French Revolution This book answers these questions using a single concept common knowledge Game theory shows that in order to coordinate its actions a group of people must form common knowledge Each person wants to participate only if others also participate Members must have knowledge of each other knowledge of that knowledge and so on Michael Chwe applies this insight with striking erudition to analyze a range of rituals across history and cultures He shows that public ceremonies are powerful not simply because they transmit meaning from a central source to each audience member but because they let audience members know what other members know In a new

afterword Chwe delves into new applications of common knowledge both in the real world and in experiments and considers how generating common knowledge has become easier in the digital age From the jacket The Brand and Its History Patricio Sáiz,Rafael Castro,2022-03-16 This book delves into the origins and evolution of trademark and branding practices in a wide range of geographical areas and periods providing key knowledge for academics professionals and general audiences on the complex world of brands The volume compiles the work of twenty five prominent worldwide scholars studying the origins and evolution of trademarks and branding practices from medieval times to present days and from distinct European countries to the USA New Zealand Canada Latin America and the Soviet Union The first part of the book provides new insights on pre modern craft marks on the emergence of trademark legal regimes during the nineteenth century and on the evolution of trademark and business strategies in distinct regions sectors and contexts As industrialisation and globalisation spread during the twentieth century trademarking led to modern branding and international marketing a process driven by new economic but also cultural factors The second part of the book explores the cultural side of the brand and offers challenging studies on how luxury fashion culture associations and the consolidation of national identities played a key role in nowadays branding This edited volume will not only be of great value to scholars students and policymakers interested in trademark branding research but to marketing and legal practitioners as well aiming to delve into the origins of modern brand strategies The chapters in this book were originally published as two special issues of the journal Business History

Roughing it in the Suburbs Valerie J. Korinek,2000-01-01 Korinek shows that rather than promoting domestic perfection Chatelaine did not cling to the stereotypes of the era but instead forged ahead providing women with a variety of images ideas and critiques of women s role in society Pink Globalization Christine R. Yano,2013-04-29 In Pink Globalization Christine R Yano examines the creation and rise of Hello Kitty as a part of Japanese Cute Cool culture Yano argues that the international popularity of Hello Kitty is one aspect of what she calls pink globalization the spread of goods and images labeled cute kawaii from Japan to other parts of the industrial world The concept of pink globalization connects the expansion of Japanese companies to overseas markets the enhanced distribution of Japanese products and the rise of Japan s national cool as suggested by the spread of manga and anime Yano analyzes the changing complex of relations and identities surrounding the global reach of Hello Kitty s cute culture discussing the responses of both ardent fans and virulent detractors Through interviews Yano shows how consumers use this iconic cat to negotiate gender nostalgia and national identity She demonstrates that pink globalization allows the foreign to become familiar as it brings together the intimacy of cute and the distance of cool Hello Kitty and her entourage of marketers and consumers wink giddily suggesting innocence sexuality irony sophistication and even sheer happiness Yano reveals the edgy power in this wink and the ways it can overturn or at least challenge power structures Sex and Race in the Black Atlantic Daniel McNeil,2010-01-27 This is the first book to place the self fashioning of mixed race individuals in the context of a Black Atlantic Drawing on a wide range of sources and a diverse cast of characters from the diaries letters novels and plays of femme fatales in Congo and the United States to the advertisements dissertations oral histories and political speeches of Black Power activists in Canada and the United Kingdom it gives particular attention to the construction of mixed race femininity and masculinity during the twentieth century Its broad scope and historical approach provides readers with a timely rejoinder to academics artists journalists and politicians who only use the mixed race label to depict prophets or delinquents as new national icons for the twenty first century

Weapons of Mass Persuasion Paul Rutherford, 2004-12-15 With nearly sixty percent of Americans initially against a pre emptive war without sanction from the United Nations and even higher anti war numbers in most other nations of the world the 2003 war against Iraq quickly became an enormous public relations challenge for the George W Bush administration The subject of Weapons of Mass Persuasion is a war in which American patriotism became so mired in commercial jingoism that the demarcations between entertainment and political conduct disappeared completely In this engaging and disturbing book Paul Rutherford shows how the marketing campaign for the war against Iraq was constructed and carried out He argues that not only was the campaign a new chapter in the presentation of real time war as pop culture but that its deeper implications have now come to constitute part of the history of modern democracy Situating the war against Iraq within an existing tradition of war as narrative spectacle and more broadly commodity Rutherford offers a brief overview of the history of civic advertising and propaganda then examines in detail the different dimensions of three weeks of war presented to North Americans as it became a branded conflict processed and cleansed to appeal to the well established tastes of veteran consumers of popular culture Including incisive analyses of visual material speeches editorial cartoons and media political commentary but particularly news reports of such sound bite events as the bombing of Baghdad the toppling of the Hussein statue and the rescue of captured soldier Private Jessica Lynch as well as extensive polling data from around the world and interviews with the actual consumers of war Weapons of Mass Persuasion chronicles the making of a Hollywood war fast paced and heroic pitting the forces of good against the forces of evil to achieve a triumphant sanitized and commodified outcome Not since Naomi Klein s No Logo have the gods of marketing and the art of commercialism been so thoroughly disrobed Electronic Format Disclaimer Images removed at the request of the rights holder

Brewed in the North Matthew J. Bellamy, 2019-10-10 For decades the name Labatt was synonymous with beer in Canada but no longer Brewed in the North traces the birth growth and demise of one of the nation s oldest and most successful breweries Opening a window into Canada s complicated relationship with beer Matthew Bellamy examines the strategic decisions taken by a long line of Labatt family members and professional managers from the 1840s when John Kinder Labatt entered the business of brewing in the Upper Canadian town of London to the globalization of the industry in the 1990s Spotlighting the challenges involved as Labatt executives adjusted to external shocks the advent of the railway Prohibition war the Great Depression new forms of competition and free trade Bellamy offers a case study of success and failure in business Through Labatt's lively history from 1847 to 1995 this book explores the wider spirit of Canadian capitalism the interplay between the state's moral economy and enterprise and the difficulties of creating popular beer brands in a country that is regionally linguistically and culturally diverse A comprehensive look at one of the industry's most iconic firms Brewed in the North sheds light on what it takes to succeed in the business of Canadian brewing

Conspiracies and Conspiracy Theories in American History Christopher R. Fee, Jeffrey B. Webb, 2019-05-24 This up to date introduction to the complex world of conspiracies and conspiracy theories provides insight into why millions of people are so ready to believe the worst about our political legal religious and financial institutions Unsupported theories provide simple explanations for catastrophes that are otherwise difficult to understand from the U S Civil War to the Stock Market Crash of 1929 to the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in New York Ideas about shadowy networks that operate behind a cloak of secrecy including real organizations like the CIA and the Mafia and imagined ones like the Illuminati additionally provide a way for people to criticize prevailing political and economic arrangements while for society's disadvantaged and forgotten groups conspiracy theories make their suffering and alienation comprehensible and provide a focal point for their economic or political frustrations These volumes detail the highly controversial and influential phenomena of conspiracies and conspiracy theories in American society Through interpretive essays and factual accounts of various people organizations and ideas the reader will gain a much greater appreciation for a set of beliefs about political scheming covert intelligence gathering and criminal rings that has held its grip on the minds of millions of American citizens and encouraged them to believe that the conspiracies may run deeper and with a global reach

Mediated Ideologies: Nordic Views on the History of the Press and Media Cultures Jukka Kortti, Heidi Kurvinen, 2024-07-16 Ideologies have not been a focus of interest in the field of humanities and social sciences in recent decades but rethinking the power of ideologies in the media sphere has recently returned to the scholarly discussion The compilation book Mediated Ideologies: Nordic Views on the History of the Press and Media Cultures participates in this by providing selected yet justified approaches to media history from the point of view of ideological uses of media in the Nordic region In this book the role of media comprising both popular media and news journalism as a forum for ideologies and their circulation will be analyzed by focusing on the Nordic region The perceived similarities in the media systems of the Nordic countries constitute a perfect extent for a regional media history against not only a European but also a global backdrop This does not mean that there have not been many national differences The book does not provide a chronological narrative of Nordic media history Still the ideology of media is approached not only from the standpoints of different media forms film television newspapers magazines and periodicals but also from several historical periods from the mid 19th century to the late 20th century The chapters show the multidimensional role that the media has in transmitting ideologies to their audiences and the public sphere They also demonstrate that analyzing the role of different ideologies such as modernization nationalism solidarity feminism and peace movement in media history provides wider perspectives in understanding past and present media landscapes and people's mediated experiences that are fostered by them Mediated Ideologies Nordic Views on the History of the Press and Media Cultures can be used both as a reference book and as a classroom adaption in the field of media communication and history studies Canadian Content Ryan Edwardson,2008-01-01 Canadian Content looks at Canada as an ongoing postcolonial process of not one but a series of radically different nationhoods each with its own valued but tentative set of cultural criteria for orchestrating and implementing a Canadian national experience Canadian Books in Print. Television George Comstock,Erica Scharrer,1999-04-15 Television What's On Who's Watching and What It Means presents a comprehensive examination of the role of television in one's life The emphasis is on data collected over the past two decades pointing to an increasing and in some instances a surprising influence of the medium Television is not only watched but its messages are attended to and well understood There is no shame in spending hours in front of the set in fact people over estimate the time they spend viewing Television advertising no longer persuades it sells by creating a burst of emotional liking for the commercial The emphases of television news determine not only what voters think about but also the presidential candidate they expect to support on election day Children and teenagers who watch a great deal of television perform poorly on standardized achievement tests and among the reasons are the usurpation of time spent learning to read and the discouragement of book reading Television violence frightens some children and excites others but its foremost effect is to increase aggressive behavior that sometimes spills over into seriously harmful antisocial behavior Incorporates social psychology political science sociology child development and the growing field of communications Presents tables and graphs clarifying theories and linking sets of data Paints concise portraits of the role of television in entertainment politics and child rearing Contains background for dozens of lectures and articles Contains a comprehensive bibliography of more than 1000 citations many recent
