New Ideology Of Imperialism Renewing The Moral Imperative:

The New Ideology of Imperialism Frank Furedi, 1994 During the nineteenth century vast areas of the underdeveloped world were invaded and colonised under the justification of Anti Slavery and the Civilising Mission In this powerful analysis Furedi demonstrates how in the late twentieth century the major nations of the West are again intervening in the Third World this time legitimising their actions on new moral grounds Furedi s multidisciplinary study examines the language nature and origins of the new moral justification for such massive intervention Furedi argues that in the wake of the collapse of Soviet communism the West now presents the Third World as the major threat to international stability offering Western democracy and financial systems as the solution thus providing a new moral imperative for rebuilding a viable imperialist ideology Furedi examines this new anti Third World view and concludes that we are experiencing the rehabilitation of the imperialist ideas that are depriving post colonial societies of their own moral authority

Imperialism, Sovereignty and the Making of International Law Antony Anghie, 2007-04-26 Examines the relationship between imperialism and international law

Troubadours, Trumpeters, Troubled Makers Gregory B. Lee, 1996 Whether examining the globalized consumption of satellite broadcast pop music or the heroic efforts of little known poets on the margins of the Chinese diaspora he finds a questioning and contesting of both the Orientalist construction of a mythic monolithic China invented by the West and the Chinese obsession with ideas of authenticity and purity of nationhood

The War Against the Past Frank Furedi, 2024-08-20 A war is being waged against the Past Whether it s toppling statues decolonising the curriculum or erasing terms from our vocabulary a cultural crusade is underway designed to render the past toxic It is condemned as enemy territory and has become the target of venomous hate What is at stake in provoking such a strong sense of societal shame towards Western history In this book Frank Furedi mounts a fierce defence of the past and calls for a fight back against the delegitimization of its ideals and accomplishments Casting the past as a story of shame has become a taken for granted outlook permeating the educational and cultural life of western society from the top down Its advocates may see it as a cultural imperative but a society that loses touch with its past will face a permanent crisis of identity Squandering the wisdom provided by our historical inheritance means betraying humanity s positive achievements Challenging this great betrayal Furedi argues is one of the most important battles of our time

The Good Project Monika Krause, 2014-06-19 NGOs set out to save lives relieve suffering and service basic human needs They are committed to serving people across national borders and without regard to race ethnicity gender or religion and they offer crucial help during earthquakes tsunamis wars and pandemics But with so many ailing areas in need of assistance how do these organizations decide where to go and who gets the aid In The Good Project Monika Krause dives into the intricacies of the decision making process at NGOs and uncovers a basic truth It may be the case that relief agencies try to help people but in practical terms the main focus of their work is to produce projects Agencies sell projects to key institutional donors and in the process the project and its beneficiaries become commodities In an effort to guarantee a successful project organizations are incentivized to help those who are easy to help while those who are hardest to help often receive no assistance at all The poorest of the world are made to compete against each other to become projects and in exchange they offer legitimacy to aid agencies and donor governments Sure to be controversial The Good Project offers a provocative new perspective on how NGOs succeed and fail on a local and global level Decolonizing International Relations Branwen Gruffydd Jones,2006-09-20 The discipline of International Relations IR is concerned with the powerful states and actors in the global political economy and dominated by North American and European scholars This book exposes the ways in which IR has consistently ignored questions of colonialism imperialism race slavery and dispossession in the non European world The Postwar Rapprochement of Malaya and Japan 1945-61 J.

Tomaru,2000-06-05 The author analyses the development of postwar Malayo Japanese rapprochement from the resumption of unofficial economic relations to establishment of formal diplomatic relations which happened along with the return of British administration in Malaya and Malayan decolonisation The focus is placed on the role of Britain as the suzerain of Malaya in facilitating Japanese return to Malaya The motivations behind the keen promotion of rapprochement by Malayan and Japanese leaders through the exchange of Prime Ministerial visits are also closely discussed Routledge Handbook of International Statebuilding David Chandler,Timothy D. Sisk,2013-09-02 This new Handbook offers a combination of theoretical thematic and empirical analyses of the statebuilding regime written by leading international scholars Over the past decade international statebuilding has become one of the most important and least understood areas of international policy making Today there are around one billion people living in some 50 60 conflict affected fragile states vulnerable to political violence and civil war The international community grapples with the core challenges and dilemmas of using outside force aid and persuasion to build states in the wake of conflict and to prevent such countries from lapsing into devastating violence The Routledge Handbook of International Statebuilding is a comprehensive resource for this emerging area in International Relations The volume is designed to guide the reader through the background and development of international statebuilding as a policy area as well as exploring in depth significant issues such as security development democracy and human rights Divided into three main parts this Handbook provides a single source overview of the key topics in international statebuilding Part One Concepts and Approaches Part Two Security Development and Democracy Part Three Policy Implementation This Handbook will be essential reading for students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention peacebuilding development war and conflict studies and IR Security Studies in general International News in the 21st Century Chris Paterson,Annabelle Sreberny,2004 In the aftermath of September 11 the nature of international news has resumed a central place in media debates and political analysis In the first collection of its kind influential journalists and scholars probe the future of international news Topics include the conglomerates ethnocentric imbalances in news reporting the rise of non Anglo news channels approaches for reconstructing the international news agenda the impacts of new technologies of production and diffusion international news rhetoric and audiences imagination of the global and their perceptions of international news coverage In a dialogue that is both descriptive and prescriptive this book begins an encounter between media practitioners activists and academics constituencies that have tended to talk past each other but are now beginning to find some shared concerns International Territorial Administration Ralph Wilde,2010-09-30 This is the first comprehensive treatment of the reasons why international organizations have engaged in territorial administration The book describes the role of international territorial administration and analyses the various purposes associated with this activity revealing the objectives which territorial administration seeks to achieve Decolonization in St. Lucia Tennyson S. D. Joseph,2011-08-16 Tennyson S D Joseph builds upon current research on the anticolonial and nationalist experience in the Caribbean He explores the impact of global transformation upon the independent experience of St Lucia and argues that the island s formal decolonization roughly coincided with the period of the rise of global neoliberalism hegemony Consequently the concept of limited sovereignty became the defining feature of St Lucia s understanding of the possibilities of independence Central to the analysis is the tension between the role of the state as a facilitator of domestic aspirations on one hand and a facilitator of global capital on the other Joseph examines six critical phases in the St Lucian experience The first is 1940 to 1970 when the early nationalist movement gradually occupied state power within a framework of limited self government The second period is 1970 to 1982 during which formal independence was attained and an attempt at socialist oriented radical nationalism was pursued by the St Lucia Labor Party The third distinctive period was the period of neoliberal hegemony 1982 1990 The fourth period 1990 1997 witnessed a heightened process of neoliberal adjustment in global trade which destroyed the banana industry and transformed the domestic political economy A later period 1997 2006 involved the SLP s return to political power resulting in tensions between an earlier radicalism and a new and contradictory accommodation to global neoliberalism The final period 2006 2010 coincides with the onset of a crisis in global neoliberalism during which a series of domestic conflicts reflected the contradictions of the dominant understanding of sovereignty in narrow materialist terms at the expense of its wider anti systematic progressive and emancipator connotations The Great Deception Mark Curtis,1998-04-20 An original and radically revised view of British and US foreign policy exposing the extent to which Anglo American interests have shaped and damaged the current world order Journalism and Conflict in Indonesia Steve Sharp,2013 This book examines through the case study of Indonesia over recent decades how the reporting of violence can drive the escalation of violence and how journalists can alter their reporting practices in order to have the opposite effect and promote peace It discusses the nature of press freedom in Indonesia from 1966 onwards considers the relationship between the press and politicians and explores journalistse tm working methods It goes on to outline in detail the communal wars in eastern Indonesia in the period 1999 2000 arguing that communication as much as physical preparations for violence were key to bringing about the wars with journalistse tm rigid professional routines and newswriting conventions causing them to reproduce and enlarge the battle cries of those at war The book concludes by advocating a development communication approach to journalism in transitional settings in order to help journalists to counter the disintegrative tendencies of failing states and the communal strife that can result African Intellectuals and the State of the Continent Olayiwola Abegunrin, Sabella Abidde, 2018-07-26 This festschrift is composed in honor of a distinguished scholar and Pan Africanist Professor Sulayman S Nyang whose career and intellectual pursuits spans more than 45 years much of it at Howard University Nyang's contributions to African affairs transcend the scope of the academic world as he served as First Secretary and Head of Chancery of the Gambian Embassy in Saudi Arabia from 1975 to 1977 and consultant to the World Bank and United Nations agencies In addition Professor Nyang served as the President of the Interfaith Conference of Metropolitan Washington DC and a member of the boards of many academic journals and organizations of Islamic Studies in the USA He has published copiously on a variety of issues affecting continental Africans Africans in the Diaspora and beyond He has published and collaborated on dozens of books and book chapters and more than 100 articles in referred journals Arguing Development Policy Raymond Apthorpe, Des Gasper, 2014-06-23 This collection shows how policy discourses in the fields of national and international developments are constructed and operate and how they can be analysed Dominant discourses screen out certain aspects they frame issues to include some matters and typically exclude important others More generally different policy discourses construct the world in distinctive ways through language that requires deconstruction and careful review The Anti-Capitalist Dictionary David E Lowes, 2013-07-04 This dictionary is an alternative and a counter balance to the many political dictionaries that ignore or marginalize the history and influence of anti capitalist movements It paints a rich picture of the ideas and issues that inform today's anti capitalist activity The Anti Capitalist Dictionary is organised in an easily accessible alphabetical format with self contained cross referenced entries that introduce and explain concepts and issues that are integral to understanding today's global movement The Dictionary demonstrates how the meaning and relevance of some of these have evolved and illustrates a linkage between past and present activity that might be unfamiliar to people who are involved or interested in the movement's current manifestations This Dictionary has international coverage and will prove invaluable to students of politics as well as to activists and the general reader Recognizing Religion in a Secular Society Douglas Farrow, 2004 Setting aside popular myths about secularism this volume studies the perspectives of law politics religion morality and bioethics reconfiguring the debate about religion and public life Fighting for Britain David Killingray, 2012 Based mainly on oral evidence and soldiers letters tells the story of over half a million African troops who served with the British Army in campaigns in the Horn of Africa the Middle East Italy and Burma Looks at the impact of army life and travel on the men and their families and the role of ex servicemen in post war nationalist politics International Law and its Others Anne Orford, 2006-11-02 Institutional and political developments since the end of the Cold War have led to a revival of public interest in and anxiety about international law Liberal international law is appealed to as offering a means of constraining power and as representing universal values This book brings together scholars who draw on jurisprudence philosophy legal history and political theory to analyse the stakes of this turn towards international law Contributors explore the history of relations between international law and those it defines as other other traditions other logics other forces and other groups They explore the archive of international law as a record of attempts by scholars bureaucrats decision makers and legal professionals to think about what happens to law at the limits of modern political organisation The result is a rich array of responses to the question of what it means to speak and write about international law in our time Rethinking 'Mixed Race' David Parker, Miri Song, 2001-05-20 One of the fastest growing ethnic populations in many Western societies is that of people of mixed descent However when talking about multicultural societies or mixed race the discussion usually focuses on people of black and white heritage The contributors to this collection rectify this with a broad and pluralistic approach to the experiences of mixed race people in Britain and the USA The contributors argue that people of mixed descent reveal the arbitrary and contested logic of categorisation underpinning racial divisions Falling outside the prevailing definitions of racialised identities their histories and experiences illuminate the complexities of identity formation in the contemporary multicultural context The authors examine a range of issues These include gender transracial and intercountry adoptions in Britain and the US interracial partnering and marriage mixed race and family in the English African diaspora theorising of mixed race that transcends the black white binary and includes explorations of mixtures among non white minority groups and the social and political evolution of multiracial panethnicity
