Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 2002 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on VA-HUD-Independent Agencies, 2002 Toward a Healthier Garden State Michael R. Greenberg, Dona Schneider, 2023-04-22 While New Jersey now frequently appears near the top in listings of America's healthiest states this has not always been the case The fluctuations in the state's overall levels of health have less to do with the lifestyle choices of individual residents and more to do with broader structural issues ranging from pollution to urban design to the consolidation of the health care industry This book uses the past fifty years of New Jersey history as a case study to illustrate just how much public policy decisions and other upstream factors can affect the health of a state's citizens It reveals how economic and racial disparities in health care were exacerbated by bad policies regarding everything from zoning to education to environmental regulation The study further chronicles how New Jersey struggled to deal with public health crises like the AIDS epidemic and the crack epidemic Yet it also explores how the state has developed some of the nation's most innovative responses to public health challenges and then provides policy suggestions for how we might build an even healthier New Jersey Environmental Cancer-- a Political Disease? S. Robert Lichter, Stanley Rothman, 1999-01-01 An examination of the controversies surrounding environmental cancer The authors draw on surveys by cancer researchers and environmental activists to reveal differences between the two groups' viewpoints They examine these opposing views and document how they are reflected in the media Environmental Policy Analysis and Practice Michael R. Greenberg, 2008-03-13 Pressing environmental challenges are frequently surrounded with stakeholders on all sides of the issues Opinions expressed by government agencies the private sector special interests nonprofit communities and the media among others can quickly cloud the dialogue leaving one to wonder how policy decisions actually come about In Environmental Policy Analysis and Practice Michael R. Greenberg cuts through the complicated layers of bureaucracy science and the public interest to show how all policy considerations can be broken down according to six specific factors 1 the reaction of elected government officials 2 the reactions of the public and special interests 3 knowledge developed by scientists and engineers 4 economics 5 ethical imperatives and 6 time pressure to make a decision The book is organized into two parts with the first part defining and illustrating each one of these criteria Greenberg draws on examples such as nuclear power pesticides brownfield redevelopment gasoline additives and environmental cancer but focuses on how these subjects can be analyzed rather than exclusively on the issues themselves Part two goes on to describe a set of over twenty tools that are used widely in policy analysis including risk assessment environmental impact analysis public opinion surveys cost benefit analysis and others These tools are described and then illustrated with examples from part one Weaving together an impressive combination of practical advice and engaging first person accounts from government officials administrators and leaders in the fields of public health and medicine this clearly written volume is poised to become a leading text in environmental policy Encyclopedia of New Jersey Maxine N. Lurie, Marc Mappen, 2004 Contains nearly original articles

along with illustrations and maps collecting a wealth of information about the state of New Jersey Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1999 United States.
