Rainbow Chronicles:

The Rainbow Chronicles Dave Pipitone, 2004-05 Rainbow's End Ellis Peters, 2015-12-22 When an antiques mogul is murdered in an English village there are many suspects and very few tears making it a difficult case for Superintendent Felse. The sleepy village of Middlehope is suddenly jerked into life by antiques mogul Arthur Rainbow. In a whirlwind of activity he extravagantly refurbishes the manor house, joins the golf club, angling society and arts council and in a ruthless coup dislodges the old church organist to take over the position himself. But for all his reforming zeal the Middlehope community rejects Rainbow. And when Rainbow's crushed body is found in the graveyard of Saint Eata's church there is very little surprise or sorrow but much speculation as to whom the murderer could be. After all there are so many candidates from his young beautiful flirtatious wife to the usurped organist and his mutinous choir. It falls upon Superintendent George Felse, newly promoted head of the Midshire CID, to solve this most perplexing murder case. Rainbow's End is the 13th book in the Felse Investigations but you may enjoy reading the series in any order.

Fiction in the Quantum Universe Susan Strehle, 2000-11-09 In this outstanding book Susan Strehle argues that a new fiction has developed from the influence of modern physics. She calls this new fiction actualism and within that framework she offers a critical analysis of major novels by Thomas Pynchon, Robert Coover, William Gaddis, John Barth, Margaret Atwood and Donald Barthelme. According to Strehle, the actualists balance attention to questions of art with an engaged meditation on the external actual world. While these actualist novels diverge markedly from realistic practice, Strehle claims that they do so in order to reflect more acutely what we now understand as real. Reality is no longer realistic in the new physical or quantum universe; reality is discontinuous, energetic, relative, statistically subjectively seen and uncertainly known. All terms taken from new physics. Actualist fiction is characterized by incompleteness, indeterminacy and open endings unsatisfying to the readerly wish for fulfilled promises and completed patterns. Gravity's Rainbow, for example, ends not with a period but with a dash. Strehle argues that such innovations in narrative reflect on twentieth-century history, politics, science and discourse.
