Roger And The Elephant:

Roger and the Elephant John Kershaw,1976      The Elephant's Girl Celesta Rimington,2021-08-17 A magical adventure for fans of Katherine Applegate and Jennifer Holm about a girl with a mysterious connection to the elephant who saved her life An elephant never forgets but Lexington Willow can't remember her past Swept away by a tornado as a toddler she was dropped in a nearby Nebraska zoo where an elephant named Nyah protected her from the storm With no trace of her family Lex grew up at the zoo with her foster father Roger her best friend Fisher and the wind whispering in her ear Years later Nyah sends Lex a telepathic image of the woods outside the zoo Soon Lex is wrapped up in an adventure involving ghosts lost treasure and a puzzle that might be the key to finding her family Can Lex summon the courage to discover who she really is and why the tornado brought her here all those years ago      The Witch's Head H. Rider Haggard,2020-12-08 In The Witch's Head H Rider Haggard weaves a captivating tale that explores themes of love betrayal and the supernatural within a richly imagined African setting Employing a vivid narrative style characteristic of Victorian adventure literature Haggard combines intricate character development with lush descriptions of the landscape immersing readers in a world where ancient traditions clash with emerging colonial influences This tale of Duncan a man who navigates the dangerous waters of tribal politics and enchantment offers a critical reflection on the cultural tensions of its time encapsulating the fascination and fear that often accompanied Western perceptions of Africa in the late 19th century Haggard himself was deeply influenced by his experiences in Southern Africa as well as his interest in indigenous cultures and folklore His background as a British colonial administrator provided him with a unique perspective on the complexities of power dynamics and human emotions in colonial settings fostering a vivid imagination that is evident in this narrative Haggard's personal encounters with the continent's myths and rituals inspired him to examine the intersections of mysticism and reality making him one of the pioneering voices in fantasy adventure fiction The Witch's Head is a must read for anyone interested in historical fiction that thoughtfully examines societal dilemmas against a backdrop of magical realism Haggard's masterful storytelling will captivate both enthusiasts of classic literature and modern readers looking for profound insights into human nature power and the allure of the unknown      The Afterlives of Animals Samuel J. M. M. Alberti,2011 This collection of essays comprises short biographies of a number of famous taxidermied animals Each essay traces the life death and museum afterlife of a specific creature illuminating the overlooked role of the dead beast in the modern human animal encounter through practices as disparate as hunting and zookeeping      The Witch's Head Henry Rider Haggard,1887      The Witch's Head Haggard,1887      the witch's head h. rider haggard,1885      Menageries, Circuses and Theatres Edward Henry Bostock,1928      Sport in British Burmah, Assam, and the Cassyah and Jyntiah Hills Fitz William Thomas Pollok,1879      Battle for the President's Elephants Sharon Pincott,2012 Searching for something more than her high flying life as an information technology executive Sharon Pincott traded her privileged first world existence to start a new life with the

Presidential Elephants of Zimbabwe the country's flagship clan of over 450 wild elephants This biography follows the passionate wildlife conservationist from her home in Australia to the new one she discovers in Africa and chronicles her daily life from cherishing incredibly intimate encounters with these gentle giants to coping with accusations of being a spy Written with engaging humor warmth and a deep tangible love of Africa's wildlife this captivating collection of bush tales offers a further glimpse into the wonders and grim realities of choosing a life less ordinary Teaching and Hunting in East Africa Dan McNickle, 2007-06-29 Lati knew his stuff and before the sun was high we were on the trail of a small herd These elephant had fed into thick thorn scrub We could hear them up ahead close but we couldn't see them as visibility was close to nil I reached for some dirt to sift through my fingers and track the breezes The elephant were almost stationary languidly browsing Judging from the contented purring of their stomachs they had no idea we were there We inched closer the heat and the tension oppressive Twenty yards ten yards ten feet We could see them but couldn't make out one end from the other nor could we see any ivory Big gray slabs of wrinkled hide was all that was discernable and even that seemed to pulse and dance out of focus in the heat and thorn Lati touched my shoulder motioning to back off At mid day the breeze was bound to give us away We backpedaled guns ready The countries of East Africa were getting independence in the 1960's and the Teachers of East Africa Program run by Columbia University was one vehicle used to expand the staffing of the secondary schools so these countries could quickly muster the manpower necessary to run their own affairs I was fortunate enough to be selected as one of the teachers and this book is the story of my four years spent in Tanzania teaching hunting and touring In the process I had many wonderful experiences with the people some close calls with the elephants climbed an active volcano presided over a polling station in the first Presidential election in Tanzania and hunted with ear gatherers I tried to skim Dan's book after we returned from Africa But it's not the sort of piece you should skim I really enjoyed all of it but especially the writer's voice and consciousness young male enthusiastic brash reflective smart brave appreciative and oh so full of life I loved it Dr Rudy Martin retired Evergreen State College Olympia Washington I want to add that Dan's writing brought back for me the absolute beauty and wonder of East Africa Dr Gail Martin retired Antioch University Seattle Washington
