ABSTRACT

The present study aims to investigate the current initiative and practices of Non Government Organizations (NGOs) in sustainable socio-economic development of the rural poor people of Bangladesh. NGOs in Bangladesh have virtually grown in vast numbers since the independence. It has been observed that from the late seventies, NGOs have been playing an increasingly important role in the nation's development process. The study used both primary data and secondary information. Primary data have been collected for this study using random sampling from 10 villages of 2 districts of Bangladesh. A number of techniques have been utilized to collected data from the respondents such as household survey, focus group discussions, in depth interviews and observations. The final valid sample (Sample 1 and Sample 2) size of respondents stood to 819 (750+69) who are the beneficiaries and officials of different NGOs located on those 10 villages of 2 districts. Mostly descriptive statistics have been used to conduct data analysis in this

Role Of Ngos In Socioeconomic Development:

The Role of Ngos in African Socio-Economic Development Trudy Owens, Ronelle Burger, 2014-06-30 Non governmental organizations NGOs popularly known as charities are acknowledged to be pivotal to poverty alleviation especially in African countries where government capacity and revenues are often limited Despite their prominent role in poverty alleviation little is known about how these organizations function in developing countries This book charts a new path by considering the role of NGOs in African development and by using a number of new large scale representative data sets The book integrates a fragmented literature spanning many different disciplines by providing an overview of what is known about the sector This includes the growth and importance of the sector a cross country comparison of NGO sectors and various perspectives on the role of NGOs The book also looks at the shortcomings of the literature or what we do not know mapping and exploring the questions the literature has failed to answer such as what motivates NGOs how are they funded to whom are they accountable and what are the determinants of their growth and survival

Non-governmental Organizations in Strengthening Economic Integration Godwin D. Mjema, 2001 Civil Society in the Global South Palash Kamruzzaman, 2018-12-07 In recent years civil society has been seen as a key route for democracy promotion and solving development problems in low income countries. However the very concept of civil society is deeply rooted in European traditions and values. In pursuing civil society reform in non Western countries many scholars along with well meaning international agencies and donor organisations fail to account for non Western values and historical experiences. Civil Society in the Global South seeks to redress this balance by offering diverse accounts of civil society from the global South authored by scholars and researchers who are reflecting on their observations of civil society in their own countries. The countries studied in the volume range from across Africa Latin America Asia and the Middle East to give a rich account of how countries from the global south conceptualise and construct civil society. The book demonstrates how local conditions are often unsuited to the ideal type of civil society as delineated in Western values for instance in cases where numerous political racial and ethnic sub groups are fighting for autonomy. By disentangling local contexts of countries from across the global South this book demonstrates that it is important to view civil society through the lens of local conditions rather than viewing it as something that needs to be discovered or manufactured in non Western societies. Civil Society in the Global South will be particularly useful to high level students and scholars within development studies sociology anthropology social policy politics international relations and human geography. Grassroots Development, 1997

Comparative CSR and Sustainability Gabriel Donleavy, Carlos Noronha, 2022-12-30 This book breaks new ground by providing a structured and cohesive set of contributions on the actions developments problems and theories of corporate social responsibility CSR. With new case studies from the UN's Least Developed Countries LDCs contributors in this book investigate how firms in Eastern and Western countries are responding to and making use of evolving CSR guidelines. The book addresses the following questions: Is CSR simply greenwashing or an authentic commitment to responsible corporate citizenship? Has globalization drawn CSR conduct in LDCs closer to that of industrialized countries? Stakeholder theory actor network theory and a new orbital theory of accountability are applied to give coherence to the case studies. Other chapters address greenwashing in reports the impact of CSR in socially stigmatized occupations an analysis on what responsibility precisely entails in CSR and the interface between law and CSR. The book also considers the impact of COVID 19 on the hospitality industry and includes a contribution from Ukrainian scholars one written while their city of Kharkiv was under
