Not All of Us Were Brave Stanley Scislowski, 1997-03-01 This is the story of a young man's journey through World War II It covers a wide cross section of the strengths and weaknesses of young men not attuned to killing and not mentally prepared to face the horror of seeing their close friends die violent deaths in battle The story is about the hopes the prayers the fears the daily miseries and even the lighter moments that the aspiring heroes of the Perth Regiment experienced on the Italian front as part of 11th Infantry Brigade 5th Canadian Armoured Division As the title suggests from his first battle inoculation Private Stan Scislowski realizes he is not destined for the heroic role to which he once aspired His fears affect him deeply his burning dream of returning home a national hero becomes more and more improbable and his attempts to come to terms with his unheroic nature make the war as much a mental battle as a physical one His story is much like that of the overwhelming number of Canadians who found themselves in the cauldron of war serving their country with all the strength they could find even when that strength was fading fast Not All of Us Were Brave focuses not on the heroes but on the ordinary soldiers who endured the mud the misery the ever present fear the inspiration and the degradation The narrative holds nothing back the dirty linen is aired along with the clean the light is shown alongside the dark It shows what war is all about
