Rowing and Sculling (Classic Reprint) Walter Bradford Woodgate, 2017-12-14 Excerpt from Rowing and Sculling While it is intended here to discuss the whole art and its concomitants from first principles upwards it must not be supposed that these chapters are capable of or aspire to teaching rowing from first principles to a tyro who has never handled an oar Some writers on the subject have attempted such a style of education commencing even with an abstract definition of what rowing or sculling as the case may be consists of To economise time and Space we may as well premise that we do not here write to those who have never handled an oar That would be as hyperbolical as to teach swim ming by book work or by observation on dry land of the action of a frog in the water One lesson of a practical order from a most mediocre oarsman would be worth all the book work of every oarsman who had ever won a blue ribbon at Putney or gold medal at Henley We therefore premise that we write as More 34 8c that those who read these pages and seek to make any trial of the experiences that with all due deference are herein Offered have already had an oar in their hands and have to some extent mastered the rudiments of the art But though we do not write to the utter tyro we none the less write for him 11a to the coach who is to instruct him This especially must be borne in mind in reading the pages which relate to the first principles They are written not to teach the tyro himself but to suggest to his tutor the simplest plan of teaching him About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Against the Current Barry Strauss,2001-04-17 In the midst of the standard dreary midlife crisis complete with wine tasting courses yoga classes and a failed attempt at a first novel forty year old Barry Strauss falls unexpectedly and passionately in love with rowing a sport in which a twenty seven year old is a has been Strauss a professor of classics and history writes about the unanticipated delights of an affair that like so many others begins as a casual dalliance and develops into a full blown obsession Drawn to the sport in part because of his affinity for Greek antiquity he develops a love for old boathouses a longing for rivers at dawn a thirst to test himself and ultimately a renewed sense of self reliance as someone who had experienced sports humiliation as far back as Little League suddenly finds himself bursting into athleticism at an unlikely age From the awe inspiring feats of the war bound Greek triremes with their crews of 172 men rowing on three levels to the solitary pride of finishing a first race in which he gets stuck in the weeds and has to be fished out Barry Strauss shows us why there is nothing absolutely nothing half as much worth doing as simply messing about in boats The Complete Sculler
