only the great questions of the humanities nature versus nurture the history and meaning of human variation the sources of wealth and causes of revolution but also the major transformations in human history agriculture cities iron writing universal religions global trade industrialization popular government justice and equality In each conceptually rich chapter leading historian Kevin Reilly concentrates on a single important period and theme sustaining a focused narrative and analytical perspective Chapter 2 for example discusses the significance of bronze age urbanization and the advent of the Iron Age Chapter 3 examines the meaning and significance of the age of classical civilizations Chapter 4 explains the spread of universal religions and new technologies in the postclassical age of Eurasian integration But these examples also reveal a range of approaches to world history The first chapter is an example of current Big History the second of history as technological transformations the third of comparative history the fourth the history of connections that dominates and thus narrows so many texts Free of either a confined limiting focus or a mandatory laundry list of topics this book begins with our most important questions and searches all of our past for answers Well grounded in the latest scholarship this is not a fill in the blanks text but world history in a grand humanistic tradition

Improbable Journeys Robin Magowan, 2002-05-22 All writers risk their identities some with each sentence But abroad writing about a life that can't help but seem elusive the charlatan in oneself may feel all too exposed Limited to the surface to the most fortuitous of impressions how can a foreign pair of eyes hope to pen anything that can vie with something an insider born there carrying that landscape in his bones might write For more than four decades poet Robin Magowan has journeyed in search of ecstatic spiritual experiences Hitchhiking and walking by bus or boat or when necessary by horse he has explored lands as exotic as Nepal and New Guinea as classic as Italy or France and as forgotten as Persia and pre Castro Cuba All the while he has submerged himself whether in the mysteries of Haitian voodoo or the simple pleasures of Burgundian peasant life Known for the beauty wit and expressive power of his prose Magowan's writing vibrates with the intensity of an outsider who crawls into the skin of a country and emerges transformed

Australia and India: Mapping the Journey Meg Gurry, 2015-02-18 Only rarely has India home to one sixth of the world s people forced itself onto the maps constructed by Australian diplomats and politicians In this book Meg Gurry explores why this is so Australia and India Mapping the Journey 1944 2014 traces the evolution of Australia s role from outpost of a decolonising British empire and junior member of an American military alliance to engagement with the Asia Pacific without India and onto partnership in a newly mapped Indo Pacific region with India The story ends with the excitement and optimism engendered by the reciprocated prime ministerial state visits of Tony Abbott and Narendra Modi in 2014 which point some argue to a transformative moment for the bilateral relationship Along the way this study explores the obstacles personal political geopolitical to deeper relations Based on years of research the book provides a detailed study of the roles of key players in Australian diplomacy since the first High Commission was opened in New Delhi in 1944 Meg Gurry argues that the Australia India connection as well as having its own distinctive bilateral trajectory can best be explained by locating it within the wider context of Australia s understanding of its regional identity and by studying the changing maps that reflect the journey The paperback edition of this title is available through the Australia India Institute <http://www.aii.unimelb.edu.au/tgross.unimelb.edu.au>

Ritual Passage, Sacred Journey Richard P. Werbner, 1989 An Aviation Journey Peter Marosszéky FRAeS, 2023-07-19 From the end of the nineteenth century to the beginning of the twenty first century spanning a period of 168 years and growing the world has seen an incredible advancement in technology associated with man s efforts to conquer flight and ultimately space The first ascent of a hot air balloon powered by a propeller to the latest development in rocketry and the intervening discoveries and developments in between one has to be in awe of not only what has transpired but also the speed at which these occurred This book reflects a period of 60 years that the writer has experienced in that time the changes in technology and the way we have adapted to these changes is inspiring resulting in a world where the yoke of distance and time has been harnessed The greatest challenges that now face the aviation world is the ability to teach and understand the new and in some cases the old technologies to the young aviators Airlines and aircraft operators are faced with a constant challenge of not only obtaining the right people for the myriad of tasks but also to provide them with the appropriate levels of training regulatory compliance
