Writing and Victorianism asks the fundamental question what is Victorianism and offers a number of answers taken from methods and approaches which have been developed over the last ten years This collection of essays written by both new and established scholars from Britain and the U S A develops many of the themes of nineteenth century studies which have lately come to the fore touching upon issues such as drugs class power and gender Some essays reflect the interaction of word and image in the nineteenth century and the notion of the city as spectacle others look at Victorian science finding a connection between writing and the growth of psychology and psychiatry on the one hand and with the power of scientific materialism on the other As well as key figures such as Dickens Tennyson and Wilde a host of new names are introduced including working class writers attempting to define themselves and writers in the Periodical press who once anonymous exercised a great influence over Victorian politics taste and social ideals From these observations there emerges a need for self definition in Victorian writing History ancestry and the past all play their part in figuring the present in the nineteenth century and many of these studies foreground the problem of literary social and psychological identity Document Boston (Mass.),1907

The Pre-Raphaelite Body J. B. Bullen,1998 Pre Raphaelitism was the first avant garde movement in Britain It shocked its first audience and as it modulated into Aestheticism it continued to disturb the British public In this fresh and original study Professor Bullen traces the sources of that shock to the representation of the human body By examining the discourses which were developed to denounce or to explain the new art forms he shows that the distorted maimed or eroticized body formed the principal focus of anxiety in nineteenth century criticism Using a truly interdisciplinary method he relates the painting of Millais and other early Pre Raphaelites to fears about cholera and Catholicism he demonstrates how the body of the sexualized female became an object of obsessive fascination in the painting and poetry of Dante Gabriel Rossetti and William Morris he locates the writing of Swinburne and Prater in the context of the debate over the Woman Question and he shows how the responses to the Aesthetic painting of Burne Jones were conditioned by the sexual psychopathology of mid nineteenth century mental science
