New Literacies In Action:

New Literacies in Action William Kist, 2005 This book examines the work of pioneer teachers who have transformed their classrooms in an effort to broaden the literacy of their students describing some of the most innovative examples of teaching and learning Handbook of Research on New Literacies Julie Coiro, Michele Knobel, Colin Lankshear, Donald J.

Leu, 2014-04-04 Situated at the intersection of two of the most important areas in educational research today literacy and technology this handbook draws on the potential of each while carving out important new territory It provides leadership for this newly emerging field directing scholars to the major issues theoretical perspectives and interdisciplinary research pertaining to new literacies Reviews of research are organized into six sections Methodologies Knowledge and Inquiry Communication Popular Culture Community and Citizenship Everyday Literacies Instructional Practices and Assessment Multiple Perspectives on New Literacies Research FEATURES Brings together a diverse international team of editors and chapter authors Provides an extensive collection of research reviews in a critical area of educational research Makes visible the multiple perspectives and theoretical frames that currently drive work in new literacies Establishes important space for the emerging field of new literacies research Includes a unique Commentary section The final section of the Handbook reprints five central research studies Each is reviewed by two prominent researchers from their individual and different theoretical position This provides the field with a sense of how diverse lenses can be brought to bear on research as well as the benefits that accrue from doing so It also provides models of critical review for new scholars and demonstrates how one might bring multiple perspectives to the study of an area as complex as new literacies research The Handbook of Research on New Literacies is intended for the literacy research community broadly conceived including scholars and students from the traditional reading and writing research communities in education and educational psychology as well as those from information science cognitive science psychology sociolinguistics computer mediated communication and other related areas that find literacy to be an important area of investigation New Literacies around the Globe Cathy Burnett, Julia

Davies, Guy Merchant, Jennifer Rowsell, 2014-07-11 The increasing popularity of digitally mediated communication is prompting us to radically rethink literacy and its role in education at the same time national policies have promulgated a view of literacy focused on the skills and classroom routines associated with print bolstered by regimes of accountability and assessments As a result teachers are caught between two competing discourses one upholding a traditional conception of literacy reiterated by politicians and policy makers and the other encouraging a more radical take on 21st century literacies driven by leading edge thinkers and researchers There is a pressing need for a book which engages researchers in international dialogue around new literacies their implications for policy and practice and how they might articulate across national boundaries Drawing on cutting edge research from the USA Canada UK Australia and South Africa this book is a pedagogical and policy driven call for change It explores studies of literacy practices in varied contexts through a refreshingly dialogic style interspersed with commentaries which comment on the significance of the work described for education The book concludes on the conversation developed to identify key recommendations for policy makers through a Charter for Literacy Education

Thinking Through New Literacies for Primary and Early Years Jayne Metcalfe, Debbie Simpson, Ian Todd, Mike Toyn, 2013-06-17 Thinking Through New Literacies for Primary and Early Years is an accessible text that encourages readers to consider deeply what is meant by literacy today It explores the many different ways in which teachers and children develop their own literacy Specifically written for education students in the later years of their course the text draws on research and practice to explore the challenges and opportunities involved while helping to develop the reader's own critical thinking skills The book begins by asking what's new about new literacies and goes on to explore some technological innovations designed to support the emergent reader and writer It considers verbal literacy speaking and listening and visual literacy Readers are encouraged to think through the issues surrounding inclusion and the legal and ethical issues raised by this post typographic age Throughout practical guidance runs alongside structured critical thinking exercises to help the reader reflect on both theory and practice About the Thinking Through Education Series Thinking Through Education is a series of texts designed and written specifically for those education students entering the second or final phase of their degree course Structured around sets of specific skills each chapter uses critical thinking and reflective exercises to develop greater subject knowledge and critical awareness Each book contains links to the Teachers Standards providing students with a clear transition from study to practice Jayne Metcalfe is a senior lecturer in the Faculty of Education at the University of Cumbria Jayne is involved in the safety training of student teachers Debbie Simpson is a senior lecturer in the Faculty of Education at the University of Cumbria She is currently the acting Programme Leader for the Primary PGCE course Ian Todd is a senior lecturer in the Faculty of Education at the University of Cumbria with a specialism in English and an interest in the teaching of ICT Mike Toyn is a senior lecturer in the Faculty of Education at the University of Cumbria where he also coordinates the teaching of primary ICT
