New Generic Technologies In Developing Countries:

New Generic Technologies in Developing Countries M.R. Bhagavan, 2016-07-27 An examination of developing countries ability to benefit from new generic technologies in the realms of information communication biotechnology and new materials The book demonstrates why some developing countries have made considerable progress in absorbing the new technologies while most are still at the starting blocks and draws on the international donor community s experience to analyse appropriate aid policies and strategies Arab Development Challenges of the New Millennium Belkacem Laabas, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002 In 2000 a major international conference was organized by the Arab Planning Institute to identify analyze and compare development challenges facing Arab countries at the dawn of the new millennium An interdisciplinary team of scholars were brought together from the fields of regional science development studies economics business and government policy and together they addressed global regional and domestic challenges and their impact on the Arab region This volume brings together the best papers presented at this conference In doing so it offers up to date insights into and a clearer understanding of this region It highlights issues including economic and social implications of globalization strategic alliances the implications for Arab countries of emerging technological patterns the impact of the European Monetary Union and the euro Arab regional integration education and the development of individual Arab country s economies Globalization of Technology Prasada Reddy, 2009-08-25 Globalization of Technology is a component of Encyclopedia of Technology Information and Systems Management Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias This book on Globalization of Technology provides the essential aspects and fundamentals of Issues in Technology Transfer and Technological Capability Building such as Techno Economic Paradigms and Latecomer Industrialization Knowledge Networks and the Internet Technology Transfer Vehicles Conditions Spillovers and Policy Challenges The Social Implications of Technological Development Industrialization and Innovation as a Collective Process This volume is aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs Issues in Web-Based Pedagogy Robert A. Cole, 2000-06-30 There has been an explosion of Web based courses in higher education Aiming at an interdisciplinary audience the contributors draw upon diverse philosophical and empirical backgrounds to make claims about Web based pedagogy Among the points they raise is the concern that education is more easily commodified through Internet technologies implying that traditional faculty roles in teaching and research are at risk Moreover current understandings of what it means to be a teacher or a student are undergoing redefinition as a result of these new distance learning technologies The contributors note that Web based pedagogy is associated with sound instruction when particular strategies are adopted As a corollary this form of teaching is least effective when attempts are made to directly translate traditional styles of teaching Political social and economic interests are competing to shape the direction that online education will take The authors argue that opportunities exist for administrators and faculty to define the terms under which Web based learning will occur in their institutions

Intellectual Property, Biogenetic Resources and Traditional Knowledge Graham Dutfield,2010-09-23 Biogenetic resources the critical biological and chemical materials that underpin so much of medicine both modern and traditional agriculture and wider economic activity in so many fields are at the centre of heated debate regarding their use development and ownership and the issues of ethics and equity that impinge on all of these factors This book is a comprehensive examination of the key issues institutions and ideologies in this area presenting definitions and explanations of the fundamentals of intellectual property rights IPRs biogenetic resources and traditional knowledge It uses the insights from this to build a picture of how these factors interact in practice bringing to the surface issues such as the conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity benefit sharing from the commercial use of biodiversity biotechnological innovation and the transfer of technology agriculture food security rural development health and international justice Part 1 describes the relevant international IPR laws highlights the extent to which modern commerce depends on such resources and traces the way in which modern IPR law has evolved to accommodate this dependence Part 2 shows how stronger IPR protection in the area of life science innovation has given rise to controversies such as biopiracy terminator genes and genetic uniformity Part 3 focuses on traditional knowledge its nature its importance and the applicability of IPR style protection Part 4 covers the international negotiation and policy making of the WTO WIPO and CBD and the legislative initiatives of national governments of Asia Africa and Latin America Finally Part 5 focuses on two developing country case studies of India and Kenya assessing whether they will be able to gain economic benefit from development of their natural resources within the current regulatory system and whether this will encourage the conservation and sustainable use of the resource base With its multidisciplinary approach and breadth of coverage this book will appeal both to those new to the subject and to those with professional and specialist interest including students academics legal practitioners government policy makers and the private sector

Proceedings of the International Conference on Environmental Management in Metallurgical Industries (EMMI-2000),2000 Bridging the Digital Divide Angathevar Baskaran,2006-01-31 The impressive advances of information and communication technologies ICT in some Asian countries have led some people to proclaim a fundamental change in the world economy It is essential still to study the experience of developing countries thoroughly and critically The authors and editors have made an admirable contribution to make such an evaluation and fill a big gap in our knowledge But it is still relatively difficult to find reliable information about the changes taking place in China or any other developing country One of the many good features of this evaluation is that it takes into account the specific relationship of ICT with the wider social and economic system and the national system of innovation of each country China's Transition to a Global Economy Michael Webber,2002-12-13 How has China approached the global economy Webber Wang and Zhu attempt to answer this question through analysis of the concepts of globalization transition and regionalization China's approach has been experimental stressing the liberalization of trade and investment flows and the development of a market economy By these indexes globalization in China has been gradual and uneven Integrating Western social science and Chinese research this book assesses the nature and effect of globalization in China and its implications The Globalization of Corporate R & D Prasada Reddy, 2000-08-24 In this study Prasada Reddy addresses several fundamental questions What are the driving forces behind this phenomenon Why are these new trends mainly visible among companies dealing with new science based technologies such as electronics or new materials And what are the implications of this trend for host countries The book presents important new research material in the form of detailed case studies of India and Singapore and offers an evolutionary theoretical basis for comprehending the processes at work As a result the book illuminates our understanding of both the behaviour of transnational corporations and the broader processes of globalization Globalization of Corporate R D will be of interest to those working in the fields of development studies economics or international business Jacket Global Innovation in Emerging Economies Prasada Reddy, 2011 This title examines the dynamics of the globalisation processes and the emergence of new locations for innovation and its implications Development Centre Seminars Technology and Poverty Reduction in Asia and the Pacific OECD, Asian Development Bank, 2002-06-05 Poverty reduction remains a major development challenge in much of Asia and the Pacific Historically technology has played a central role in raising living standards across the region including those of the poor The Green Revolution and various Inclusive Growth, Development and Welfare Policy Reza Hasmath, 2015-02-20 The recent global financial crisis has increased the scope of poverty and inequality The gap between the richest and poorest nations has become wider National income inequality has also been on the rise The prospect of a shift in designing and implementing development and welfare policies is strong in this new environment The neoliberal policies of the Washington Consensus are giving way to development models which look to a more active government role in both economic and social policies Meanwhile in the parallel universe of welfare policy a fundamental realignment is already taking place Faced with the current economic and social challenges policy communities have turned to a variety of instruments to ensure that growth and social inclusion go together This book offers a systematic analysis of the growing convergence on these matters in the development and welfare state literatures utilizing the experiences of a myriad of jurisdictions around the world Drawing upon the expertise of leading international policymakers practitioners and academics in the field this book critiques the theoretical underpinning of growth and development examine welfare state perspectives on inclusive growth and social economic development and presents lessons learned and best worst practices from the experiences of developing and developed nations Electronic Highways For World Trade Peter Robinson, 2019-04-11 This book explains the negotiations on an international framework for trade in services undertaken in the Group of Negotiations on Services of the Uruguay Round and the international discussions on transborder data flows and
