Optics for Ophthalmologists Alfredo A. Sadun, James D. Brandt, 2012-12-06 This manual is written to assist the student of optics or the ophthalmology resident in reviewing optics It is particularly suitable as an optics Board review However it was not intended to accomplish the far greater task of encompassing the entire field of geometric optics or even of teaching

all that the ophthalmologist needs to know of visual optics or refraction This manual represents the distillation of lecture notes for an optics Board review course given at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary Harvard Medical School for the last seven years This optics lecture series which has also been given at Boston University and at the University of Southern California has traditionally taken place over a week with three two hour sessions Obviously this six hour lecture series could not possibly cover the entire field of optics for clinicians This optics Board review lecture series has customarily involved a few problems at the end of each lecture which then provided a basis for a review that was given at the beginning of the next lecture These problems have always proven a useful means of self testing as well as practice for becoming more comfortable and facile with the concepts involved The problems have not been taken from the American Board of Ophthalmology test materials either written or oral However they incorporate many of the concepts and computational manipulations which are frequently tested on the ophthalmology boards

Build Your Own Medical Optometry Practice: Part 1: Medical Knowledge Second Edition Jeffrey Sedgewick, O.D., M.D., 2017-02-03. Most Optometrists don't perform medical eye services, certainly not exclusively. You can develop a successful practice while providing a much needed service by bucking this trend. Jeffrey Sedgewick, O.D., M.D., spent 4 years as a practicing Optometrist prior to entering medical school. While practicing as an Optometrist and as an Ophthalmologist, he has seen many examples of poor medical care by Optometrists, himself included. He is convinced that it doesn't have to be this way. He believes Optometrists who start their own Medical Optometry Practice can fill an increasingly important function, but they need more knowledge and clinical experience, which he seeks to provide in this textbook.
