The Other Side of the River Alex Kotlowitz, 2012-01-04 Bestselling author Alex Kotlowitz is one of this country's foremost writers on the ever explosive issue of race In this gripping and ultimately profound book Kotlowitz takes us to two towns in southern Michigan St Joseph and Benton Harbor separated by the St Joseph River Geographically close but worlds apart they are a living metaphor for America's racial divisions St Joseph is a prosperous lakeshore community and ninety five percent white while Benton Harbor is impoverished and ninety two percent black When the body of a black teenaged boy from Benton Harbor is found in the river unhealed wounds and suspicions between the two towns populations surface as well The investigation into the young man's death becomes inevitably a screen on which each town projects their resentments and fears The Other Side of the River sensitively portrays the lives and hopes of the towns citizens as they wrestle with this mystery and reveals the attitudes and misperceptions that undermine race relations throughout America

The Trail of the Old Ones Raymond Drake Forehand, 2012-06 In the Ice Age mountains of ice grew where the ice did not melt as more ice formed from the rains Cave men had to compete with all animals for shelter and food He depended on the ability of other creatures to survive This made him one of the deadliest of animals He showed no mercy He killed to borrow what he could not produce Animals produce fur to keep them warm Man had to take the furs from animals to survive He also had to take their meat bones and innards In Spring wild green things sprouted and grew Man learned to sort and use these Some leery more careful people began to notice medical properties of these plants They remembered these properties Soon others of the clan became dependent on these people who could remember what to use for this or that ailment They became the Shaman Their job became as important as the hunter Salt became an important commodity in the later Ice Age Man craved it If you had salt you could trade it for meat furs and weapons But if they had nothing to trade then they would revert to borrowing

Learning to Learn Ingrid Pramling, 2012-12-06 For eight years since I began my research my main concern has been to understand children and their world The first step towards understanding how children think was taken in connection with my thesis which I presented five years ago This was a description of how children in the age group three to eight years conceive their own learning The thesis was published in the same series as the present monograph and is entitled The child's conception of learning The main emphasis in this study was on developmental psychology As I have worked as a preschool teacher myself I am extremely anxious that my research will be of benefit to my former colleagues I have therefore devoted a great deal of time to writing and collaborating in numerous books of popular science These have always been based on my own research Now however the time is ripe for taking a new step based on new research towards understanding children and helping others to understand them this time by publishing Learning to learn which is a description of how children have actually been taught to learn in preschool In this type of study it is not a question of first obtaining results of the nature of basic research and then applying them in the educational setting but both aspects are integrated in that the starting point is the phenomena that are of importance to children in their everyday life Proceedings at the ...
