Role-play and the World as Stage in the Comedia Jonathan Thacker, 2002-01-01 The theatrum mundi metaphor was well known in the Golden Age and was often employed notably by Calder n in his religious theatre However little account has been given of the everyday exploitation of the idea of the world as stage in the mainstream drama of the Golden Age This study examines how and why playwrights of the period time and again created characters who dramatize themselves who re invent themselves by performing new roles and inventing new plots within the larger frame of the play The prevalence of metatheatrical techniques among Golden Age dramatists including Lope de Vega Tirso de Molina Calder n de la Barca and Guill n de Castro reveals a fascination with role playing and its implications Thacker argues that in comedy these playwrights saw role playing as a means by which they could comment on and criticize the society in which they lived and he reveals a drama far less supportive of the social status quo in Golden Age Spain than has been traditionally thought to be the case
