Macroeconomic Medium-Term Models in the Nordic Countries O. Bjerkholt,J. Rosted,2017-07-19 This is the first major joint presentation of macroeconomic models of Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden Its origin is a selection of the presentations at a seminar on macroeconomic modelling in the Nordic countries held in Lyngby Denmark 8 9 October 1984 sponsored by the Nordic Ministries of Finance The book is concentrated around a thorough presentation of the main macroeconomic medium term models used in government planning and policy making in each of the four countries These models are in Denmark ADAM developed by the Central Statistical Office in Finland KESSU developed within the Ministry of Finance in Norway MODAG developed by the Central Bureau of Statistics and in Sweden EMMA developed within the Ministry of Finance An introduction to Nordic macroeconomic models is provided as well as significant features of the institutional use of models within governments in these countries On the basis of the data presented in the book the effects of devaluation wage increases and fiscal policy in the Nordic economies can be compared with each other as well as with other small open economies IMF Staff papers, Volume 39 No. 1 International Monetary Fund. Research Dept.,1992-01-01 This paper focuses on exchange rate economics Two main views of exchange rate determination have evolved since the early 1970s the monetary approach to the exchange rate in flexible price sticky price and real interest differential formulations and the portfolio balance approach In this paper the literature on these views is surveyed followed by a discussion of the empirical evidence and likely future developments in the area of exchange rate determination The literature on foreign exchange market efficiency exchange rates and news and international parity conditions is also reviewed Flight Capital as a Portfolio Choice Ms.Catherine A. Pattillo,Mr.Paul Collier,Anke Hoeffler,1999-12-01 This paper sets flight capital in the context of portfolio choice focusing upon the proportion of private wealth that is held abroad There are large regional differences in this proportion ranging from 5 percent in South Asia to 40 percent in Africa We explain cross country differences in portfolio choice by variables that proxy differences in the risk adjusted rate of return on capital We apply the results to four policy questions how the East Asian crisis affected domestic capital outflows herd effects the effect of the IMF World Bank debt relief initiative for heavily indebted poor countries HIPC on capital repatriation and why so much of Africa s private wealth is held outside the continent Portfolio Management in Practice, Volume 1 CFA Institute,2020-11-24 Portfolio Management in Practice Volume 1 Investment Management delivers a comprehensive overview of investment management for students and industry professionals As the first volume in the CFA Institute s new Portfolio Management in Practice series Investment Management offers professionals looking to enhance their skillsets and students building foundational knowledge an essential understanding of key investment management concepts Designed to be an accessible resource for a wide range of learners this volume explores the full portfolio management process Inside readers will find detailed coverage of Forming capital market expectations Principles of the asset allocation process Determining investment strategies within each asset class Integrating considerations specific to high net worth individuals or institutions into chosen strategies And more To apply the concepts outlined in the Investment Management volume explore the accompanying Portfolio Management in Practice Volume 1 Investment Management Workbook The perfect companion resource this workbook aligns chapter by chapter with Investment Management for easy referencing so readers can draw connections between theoretical content and challenging practice problems Featuring contributions from the CFA Institute s subject

B. Johnston, Chris Ryan, 1994-07-01 This paper reports research on the impact of controls on capital movements on the private capital accounts of countries balance of payments using data drawn from 52 countries for the period 1985-92 The results indicate that 1 capital controls operated by developing countries have not been effective in insulating the private capital accounts of these countries balance of payments and 2 capital controls operated by industrial countries significantly affected the structure of their capital flows mainly by inhibiting net foreign direct and portfolio investment outflows The results which are consistent with other observations raise issues for the policy toward the maintenance and liberalization of controls on capital movements by developing countries Exchange Rate Economics

Peter Isard,1995-09-28 This book describes and evaluates the literature on exchange rate economics It provides a wide ranging survey with background on the history of international monetary regimes and the institutional characteristics of foreign exchange markets an overview of the development of conceptual and empirical models of exchange rate behavior and perspectives on the key issues that policymakers confront in deciding whether and how to try to stabilize exchange rates The treatment of most topics is reasonably compact with extensive references to the literature for those desiring to pursue individual topics further The level of exposition is relatively easy to comprehend the historical and institutional material part I and the discussion of policy issues part III contain no equations or technical notation while the chapters on models of exchange rate behavior part II are written at a level intelligible to first year graduate students or advanced undergraduates The book will enlighten both students and policymakers and should also serve as a valuable reference for many research economists

Portfolio Theory and Management H. Kent Baker,Greg Filbeck,2013-01-07 Portfolio management is an ongoing process of constructing portfolios that balances an investor s objectives with the portfolio manager s expectations about the future This dynamic process provides the payoff for investors Portfolio management evaluates individual assets or investments by their contribution to the risk and return of an investor s portfolio rather than in isolation This is called the portfolio perspective Thus by constructing a diversified portfolio a portfolio manager can reduce risk for a given level of expected return compared to investing in an individual asset or security According to modern portfolio theory MPT investors who do not follow a portfolio perspective bear risk that is not rewarded with greater expected return Portfolio diversification works best when financial markets are operating normally compared to periods of market turmoil such as the 2007 2008 financial crisis During periods of turmoil correlations tend to increase thus reducing the benefits of diversification Portfolio management today emerges as a dynamic process which continues to evolve at a rapid pace The purpose of Portfolio Theory and Management is to take readers from the foundations of portfolio management with the contributions of financial pioneers up to the latest trends emerging within the context of special topics The book includes discussions of portfolio theory and management both before and after the 2007 2008 financial crisis This volume provides a critical reflection of what worked and what did not work viewed from the perspective of the recent financial crisis Further the book is not restricted to the U S market but takes a more global focus by highlighting cross country differences and practices This 30 chapter book consists of seven sections These chapters are 1 portfolio theory and asset pricing 2 the investment policy statement and fiduciary duties 3 asset allocation and portfolio construction 4 risk management V portfolio execution monitoring and rebalancing 6 evaluating and reporting portfolio performance and 7 special topics Economic Modeling in the Nordic Countries L. Bergman, Ø. Olsen, 2014-06-28 A selection of macroeconomic models used or intended for economic forecasting or policy analysis in the four Nordic countries Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden is presented in this volume New features and model applications are discussed and the models used by the Ministries of Finance are evaluated with special attention to the role of relative prices and their treatment of the supply side In addition there is a systematic comparison of results from model simulations on the main macroeconomic models in the four Nordic countries The papers fall naturally into two sections In Part One the focus is on the short to medium term models in Part Two the focus switches to a presentation of three models that may all be classified as applied general equilibrium AGE models Modern Portfolio Theory and Financial Institutions David G Mayes, 1983-10-27 Foundations of Modern Macroeconomics Ben J. Heijdra, 2017-08-25 The study of macroeconomics can seem a daunting project The field is complex and sometimes poorly defined and there are a variety of competing approaches It is easy for the senior bachelor and starting master student to get lost in the forest of macroeconomics and the mathematics it uses extensively Foundations of Modern Macroeconomics is a guide book for the interested and ambitious student Non partisan in its approach it deals with all the major topics summarising the important approaches and providing the reader with a coherent angle on all aspects of macroeconomic thought Each chapter deals with a separate area of macroeconomics and each contains a summary section of key points and a further reading list Using nothing more than undergraduate mathematical skills it takes the student from basic IS LM style macro models to the state of the art literature on Dynamic Stochastic General Equilibrium explaining the mathematical tricks used where they are first introduced Fully updated and substantially revised this third edition of Foundations of Modern Macroeconomics now includes brand new chapters covering highly topical subjects such as dynamic programming competitive risk sharing equilibria and the New Keynesian DSGE approach Globalization and the International Financial System Peter Isard, 2005 Economic globalization has given rise to frequent and severe financial crises in emerging market economies Other countries are also unsuccessful in their efforts to generate economic growth and reduce poverty This book provides perspectives on various aspects of the international financial system that contribute to financial crises and growth failures and discusses the remedies that economists have proposed for addressing the underlying problems It also sheds light on a central feature of the international financial system that remains mysterious to many economists and most non economists the activities of the International Monetary Fund and the factors that influence its effectiveness Dr Isard offers policy perspectives on what countries can do to reduce their vulnerabilities to financial crises and growth failures and a number of general directions for systemic reform The breadth of the agenda provides grounds for optimism that the international financial system can be strengthened considerably without revolutionary change

Applied General Equilibrium and Economic Development Jean Mercenier, T. N. Srinivasan, 1994 Traditional tools of analysis that focus on particular commodities or sectors a particular time frame and aggregate diverse socioeconomic groups are ill suited to analyze the consequences of the economic reforms of the last ten years This volume shows the greater power and relevance of applied general equilibrium methods Through discussion of several major policy issues agricultural and food policy economies of scale in production and the associated market imperfections macrostabilization programs and modeling intertemporal tradeoffs the contributors present work representative of the major trends in applied general equilibrium modeling of developing country issues Policy analysis using a rich variety of static recursive and intertemporal dynamic models is illustrated with problems from a number of developing countries in Africa Asia and Latin America The countries studied range widely in their institutional features stages of development and economic size
