Travel and Space in Nineteenth-Century Europe Anna P.H. Geurts, 2024-06-27 This detailed study of eighty European journeys examines the everyday spatial concerns of nineteenth century travelers with a focus on travelers from the Netherlands and North Sea region From common soldiers in revolutionary Belgium to guests of the tsars in Russia many of their travel accounts are here examined for the first time Chapters analyze the different meanings of the home and homeliness travelers' desires for socializing but equally their intricate privacy norms their intense attachment to cleanliness order space and light and the discomforts of cold hot wet hard and cramped spaces Author Anna P H Geurts details what spatial characteristics travelers valued what measures they took to ensure them and what sensations emotions and thoughts this resulted in Geurts's careful attention to gender class and individual experience turns existing conceptions of industrial modernity on their head From Napoleonic stagecoaches and sailing boats to the steam powered journeys of the belle poque the continuities in travel experiences are surprising as are the commonalities between travelers of different social classes and genders Significant shifts in their spatial micropolitics should be sought less in the world of administration and industrial machinery and more in travelers increasingly flexible and egalitarian mindset and changing economic relations This book will be of value to students and researchers of cultural history as well as contemporary planning and design The French

Civil Wars, 1562-1598 R. J. Knecht, 2014-07-22 The French Wars of Religion tore the country apart for almost fifty years They were also part of the wider religious conflict between Catholics and Protestants which raged across Europe during the 16th century This new study by a major authority on French history explores the impact of these wars and sets them in their full European context Harper's Monthly Magazine Henry Mills Alden, Thomas Bucklin Wells, Lee Foster Hartman, 1903
