The Routledge Companion to Alternative Organization Martin Parker, George Cheney, Valérie Fournier, Chris Land, 2014-01-03 Despite the Great Recession slightly different forms of global capitalism are still portrayed as the only game in town by the vast majority of people in power in the world today Unbridled growth trade liberalisation and competition are advocated as the only or best ways of organizing the contemporary world Unemployment yawning gaps between rich and poor political disengagement and environmental devastation are too often seen as acceptable side effects of the dominance of neo liberalism But the reality is that capitalism has always been contested and that people have created many other ways of providing for themselves This book explores economic and organizational possibilities which extend far beyond the narrow imagination of economists and management theorists Chapters on co operatives community currencies the transition movement scrounging co housing and much more paints a rich picture of the ways in which another world is not only possible but already taking shape The aim of this companion is to move beyond complaining about the present and into exploring this diversity of organisational possibilities Our starting point is a critical analysis of contemporary global capitalism is merely the opening for thinking about organizing as a form of politics by other means and one that can be driven by the values of solidarity freedom and responsibility This comprehensive companion with an international cast of contributors gives voice to forms of organizing which remain unrepresented or marginalised in organizational studies and conventional politics yet which offer more promising grounds for social and environmental justice It is a valuable resource for students activists and researchers interested in alternative approaches to economy and society in a variety of disciplinary and interdisciplinary fields

Governance and the postcolony David Everatt, 2019-08-01 Civil society NGOs governments and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or good governance yet they seem to speak past one another Governance is in danger of losing all meaning precisely because it means many things to different people in varied locations This is especially true in sub Saharan Africa Here the postcolony takes many forms reflecting the imperial project with painful accuracy Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors crisis management water food security universities in different locales across sub Saharan Africa and from different theoretical approaches network to adversarial network governance this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern It steers away from offering a correct definition of governance or from promoting a particular position on postcoloniality It gives no neat conclusion but invites readers to draw their own conclusions based on these differing approaches to and analyses of governance in the postcolony As a robust critical assessment of power and accountability in the sub Saharan context Governance and the Postcolony Views from Africa brings together topical case studies that will be a valuable resource for those working in the field of African international relations public policy public management and administration
