supported the cause for the abolition of slavery in Britain as well as in its colonies it is in fact a non anti slavery text The author does not touch the pressing issue of slavery as such because she presents us with a rare and exceptional kind of slave Nevertheless the book clearly illustrates through the depiction of its hero the injustice cruelty and arbitrariness of slavery that has been brought upon the African peoples by European Colonialism In this paper I will show Behn's unusual presentation of a royal slave in order to criticize British Colonialism first by giving a brief overview on Transatlantic African slavery that is portrayed in early modern literature second by analyzing the depiction of slaves in Behn's narrative with a special focus on Oroonoko the royal slave and finally by illustrating Behn's necessity for choosing a tragic hero who could have never been protected from the depths of slavery by his royal status

Oroonoko Aphra Behn, 2017-01-13 Aphra Behn was a British writer during the Restoration era in the 17th century Behn was one of the first women in history to earn a writing through living and she would inspire many of the great female authors that followed Virginia Woolf famously wrote in A Room of One's Own that all women should lay flowers on the tomb of Aphra Behn because she earned them the right to speak their minds Oroonoko Or the History of the Royal Slave is one of Behn's most famous works The action centers around an African prince who is tricked into slavery and sold to British colonists

Oroonoko: Or, the Royal Slave Illustrated Aphra Behn, 2020-12-26 Oroonoko or the Royal Slave is a relatively short novel set in a narrative frame The narrator opens with an account of the colony of Surinam and its inhabitants Within this is a historical tale concerning the Coramantien grandson of an African king Prince Oroonoko At a very young age Prince Oroonoko was trained for battle and became an expert Captain by the age of seventeen During a battle the best general sacrifices himself for the Prince by taking an arrow for him In sight of this event the Prince takes the place of General Oroonoko decides to honorably visit the daughter of the deceased general to offer the Trophies of her Father's Victories but he immediately falls in love with Imoinda and later asks for her hand in marriage Portrait of woman with shoulder length curly black hair and pearl necklace Portrait of Aphra Behn aged approximately 30 by Mary Beale The king hears Imoinda described as the most beautiful and charming in the land and he also falls in love Despite his intelligence saying she had been claimed by Oroonoko the king gives Imoinda a sacred veil thus forcing her to become one of his wives even though she is already promised to Oroonoko Imoinda unwillingly but dutifully enters the king's harem the Otan and Oroonoko is comforted by his assumption that the king is too old to ravish her Over time the Prince plans a tryst with the help of the sympathetic Onahal one of the king's wives and Aboan a friend to the prince The Prince and Imoinda are reunited for a short time and consummate their marriage but are eventually discovered Imoinda and Onahal are punished for their actions by being sold as slaves The king's guilt however leads him to lie to Oroonoko that Imoinda has instead been executed since death was thought to be better than slavery The Prince grieves Later after winning another tribal war Oroonoko and his men go to visit an European slave trader on his ship and are tricked and shackled after drinking The slave trader plans to sell the Prince and his men as slaves and carries them to Surinam in the West Indies Oroonoko is purchased by a Cornish man named Trefry but given special treatment due to his education and ability to speak French and English which he learned from his own French slave Trefry mentions that he came to own a most beautiful enslaved woman and had to stop himself from forcing her into sex Unbeknownst to Oroonoko Trefry is speaking of Imoinda who is at the same plantation The two lovers are reunited under the slave names of Caesar and Clemene

Oroonoko: the Royal Slave Aphra Behn, 2016-05-26 Abducted into Slavery Separated from His Love Forever Oroonoko or the Royal Slave is a short work of prose fiction by Aphra Behn 1640 1689 published in 1688 by William Canning and reissued with two other fictions later that year The eponymous hero is an African prince from Coramantien who is tricked into slavery and sold to British colonists in Surinam where he meets the narrator Behn s text is a first person account of his life love rebellion and execution This short novel was based on the author s own experiences in the new South American colony It is one of the earliest English novels Interest in it has increased since the 1970s critics arguing that Behn is the foremother of British women writers and that Oroonoko is a crucial text in the history of the novel Aphra Behn baptised 14 December 1640 16 April 1689 was a prolific dramatist of the English Restoration the first English professional female literary writer Oroonoko; or, The Royal Slave Aphra Behn, 2021-11-09 In Oroonoko or The Royal Slave Aphra Behn weaves a complex narrative that explores themes of race slavery and loyalty through the tragic tale of an African prince enslaved in the Caribbean The novella s prose is marked by Behn s distinctive voice blending realism with allegory fashioning a profound critique of colonialism that resonates with the era s growing awareness of human rights As one of the first English novels it ventures beyond mere entertainment challenging contemporary ideologies surrounding race and identity while drawing from Behn s vivid experiences in Suriname where the story is set Aphra Behn a pioneering figure in literature broke through the gender barriers of the 17th century as one of the first professional female writers Her personal history as a traveler and potentially an indentured servant informs much of the raw authenticity in her portrayal of the enslaved hero Oroonoko Her commitment to depicting the lived realities of oppression and her historical context as a woman navigating a male dominated literary world shaped her narrative style and themes Oroonoko or The Royal Slave is essential reading for those interested in the foundations of the novel as a form offering rich insights into early feminist thought and the stark realities of colonialism Behn s poignant storytelling invites readers to engage with complex characters and moral dilemmas making it a compelling exploration of the human condition The Royal Slave Illustrated Aphra Behn, 2021-03-25 Oroonoko or the Royal Slave is a short work of prose fiction by Aphra Behn 1640 1689 published in 1688 by William Canning and reissued with two other fictions later that year The eponymous hero is an African prince from Coramantien who is tricked into slavery and sold to British colonists in Surinam where he meets the narrator Behn s text is a first person account of his life love rebellion and execution Behn often cited as the first known professional female writer 1 was a successful playwright poet translator and essayist She began writing prose fiction in the 1680s probably in response to the consolidation of theatres that led to a reduced need for new plays 2 Published less than a year before she died Oroonoko is sometimes described as one of the earliest English novels Interest in it has increased since the 1970s with critics arguing that Behn is the foremother of British women writers and that Oroonoko is a crucial text in the history of the novel Oroonoko the Royal Slave EasyRead

Character symbolisation in the book "Oroonoko or the Royal Slave" by Aphra Behn (1688) Kim Gloria Burk, 2020-12-14 Seminar paper from the year 2019 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1.0 Justus Liebig University Giessen language English abstract The paper asks who are the main characters in Aphra Behn's Oroonoko or the Royal Slave and what are their traits How do they interact with each other and what do they represent As the novel gives little evidence what each of them stands for this term paper will give a detailed analysis about their occurrence appearance introduction and importance during narration In the beginning the focus will be on the role of Oroonoko who gives the novel its name and fails to gain his freedom as a royal slave What makes him different than the other slaves and how is it visually presented An important point to consider is his European behaviour that he has acquired and how he shows it within interactions between other characters Nevertheless his character symbolises much more than these aspects and therefore it is essential to focus on his attitude towards love and religion in order to highlight his individuality and unique nature Furthermore the presence of the narrator within the novel will be analysed in order to see if Aphra Behn creates a narrative that reflects her own impressions during her stay in Surinam or if the story is complete fiction
