Life's Ratchet Peter M Hoffmann,2012-10-30 Life is an enduring mystery Yet science tells us that living beings are merely sophisticated structures of lifeless molecules If this view is correct where do the seemingly purposeful motions of cells and organisms originate In Life s Ratchet physicist Peter M Hoffmann locates the answer to this age old question at the nanoscale Below the calm ordered exterior of a living organism lies microscopic chaos or what Hoffmann calls the molecular storm specialized molecules immersed in a whirlwind of colliding water molecules Our cells are filled with molecular machines which like tiny ratchets transform random motion into ordered activity and create the purpose that is the hallmark of life Tiny electrical motors turn electrical voltage into motion nanoscale factories custom build other molecular machines and mechanical machines twist untwist separate and package strands of DNA The cell is like a city an unfathomable complex collection of molecular workers working together to create something greater than themselves Life Hoffman argues emerges from the random motions of atoms filtered through these sophisticated structures of our evolved machinery We are

agglomerations of interacting nanoscale machines more amazing than anything in science fiction Rather than relying on some mysterious life force to drive them as people believed for centuries life's ratchets harness instead the second law of thermodynamics and the disorder of the molecular storm Grounded in Hoffmann's own cutting edge research Life's Ratchet reveals the incredible findings of modern nanotechnology to tell the story of how the noisy world of atoms gives rise to life itself

How We Decide Jonah Lehrer, 2010-01-14 The first book to use the unexpected discoveries of neuroscience to help us make the best decisions Since Plato philosophers have described the decision making process as either rational or emotional we carefully deliberate or we blink and go with our gut But as scientists break open the mind's black box with the latest tools of neuroscience they're discovering that this is not how the mind works Our best decisions are a finely tuned blend of both feeling and reason and the precise mix depends on the situation When buying a house for example it's best to let our unconscious mull over the many variables But when we're picking a stock intuition often leads us astray The trick is to determine when to use the different parts of the brain and to do this we need to think harder and smarter about how we think Jonah Lehrer arms us with the tools we need drawing on cutting edge research as well as the real world experiences of a wide range of deciders from airplane pilots and hedge fund investors to serial killers and poker players Lehrer shows how people are taking advantage of the new science to make better television shows win more football games and improve military intelligence His goal is to answer two questions that are of interest to just about anyone from CEOs to firefighters How does the human mind make decisions And how can we make those decisions better
