Action Research Jean McNiff, 2002-01-22 Since the first edition of this established text was published in 1988, action research has gained ground as a popular method amongst educational researchers and in particular for practising teachers doing higher level courses. In this new edition, Jean McNiff provides updates on methodological discussions and includes new sections of case study material and information on supporting action research. The book raises issues about how action research is theorised, whether it is seen as a spectator discipline or as a real life practice, and how practitioners position themselves within the debate. It discusses the importance for educators of understanding their own work and showing how their educative influence can lead to the development of good orders in formal and informal learning settings and in the wider community. This second edition comes at a time when, after years of debate over what counts as action research, it is now considered an acceptable and useful part of mainstream research practice.

pupils difficult personal lives they feel under pressure to do the right thing and to do it in an informed and professional manner This book investigates how teachers can attempt to give good quality pastoral care whether as a form tutor in the first instance or in a managerial role further along in their development It uses practical case studies as examples of what can be achieved and explores the theory of this subject making it the perfect resource for teachers counsellors and undergraduates on PGCE BEd and BA courses

On the Production of Subjectivity S. O'Sullivan, 2012-09-24 This book offers a series of critical commentaries on and forced encounters between different thinkers At stake in this philosophical and psychoanalytical enquiry is the drawing of a series of diagrams of the finite infinite relation and the mapping out of the contours for a speculative and pragmatic production of subjectivity

Ethics and Children's Literature Claudia Mills, 2016-05-13 Exploring the ethical questions posed by in and about children's literature this collection examines the way texts intended for children raise questions of value depict the moral development of their characters and call into attention shared moral presuppositions The essays in Part I look at various past attempts at conveying moral messages to children and interrogate their underlying assumptions What visions of childhood were conveyed by explicit attempts to cultivate specific virtues in children What unstated cultural assumptions were expressed by growing resistance to didacticism How should we prepare children to respond to racism in their books and in their society Part II takes up the ethical orientations of various classic and contemporary texts including prosaic ethics in the Hundred Acre Wood moral discernment in Narnia ethical recognition in the distant worlds traversed by L. Engle and virtuous transgression in recent Anglo American children's literature and in the emerging children's literature of 1960s Taiwan Part III's essays engage in ethical criticism of arguably problematic messages about our relationship to nonhuman animals about war and about prejudice The final section considers how we respond to children's literature with ethically focused essays exploring a range of ways in which child readers and adult authorities react to children's literature Even as children's literature has evolved in opposition to its origins in didactic Sunday school tracts and moralizing fables authors parents librarians and scholars remain sensitive to the values conveyed to children through the texts they choose to share with them

Life After Death Alan Segal, 2010-06-23 A magisterial work of social history Life After Death illuminates the many different ways ancient civilizations grappled with the question of what exactly happens to us after we die In a masterful exploration of how Western civilizations have defined the afterlife Alan F Segal weaves together biblical and literary scholarship sociology history and philosophy A renowned scholar Segal examines the maps of the afterlife found in Western religious texts and reveals not only what various cultures believed but how their notions reflected their societies realities and ideals and why those beliefs changed over time He maintains that the afterlife is the mirror in which a society arranges its concept of the self The composition process for Judaism Christianity and Islam begins in grief and ends in the victory of the self over death Arguing that in every religious tradition the afterlife represents the ultimate reward for the good Segal combines historical and anthropological data with insights gleaned from religious and philosophical writings to explain the following mysteries why the Egyptians insisted on an afterlife in heaven while the body was embalmed in a tomb on earth why the Babylonians viewed the dead as living in underground prisons why the Hebrews remained silent about life after death during the period of the First Temple yet embraced it in the Second Temple period 534 B C E 70 C E and why Christianity placed the afterlife in the center of its belief system He discusses the inner dialogues and arguments within Judaism and Christianity showing the underlying dynamic behind them as well as the ideas that mark the differences between the two religions In a thoughtful examination of the influence of biblical views of heaven and martyrdom on Islamic beliefs he offers a fascinating perspective on the current troubling rise of Islamic fundamentalism In tracing the organic historical relationships between sacred texts and communities of belief and comparing the visions of life after death that have emerged throughout history Segal sheds a bright revealing light on the intimate connections between notions of the afterlife the societies that produced them and the individual s search for the ultimate meaning of life on earth Stories NeverEnding Jan Irving,2004-02-28 Children will delight in creating their very own art museum participating in a storytelling festival holding a yummy dinner theatre creating a keen jeans book bag and much more In addition each chapter contains a list of ideas that serve as springboards for activities that you can develop on your own With writing projects wordplay arts and crafts dramatics math problems history lessons and more this guide makes it easy to engage young learners while building literacy and reading skills along with a love of books and reading Grades K 6 Evolution Equals Genesis Dr. Guillermo Escamilla,2022-11-03 I imagine that from the moment humans were able to communicate they have contemplated their place in Creation in this universe Stories handed down from parents to children elders to tribes teachers to pupils and civilization to civilization about the story of Creation Countless versions throughout human history all try to explain our place in existence Two such versions are in Genesis and the Theory of Evolution These have been the most hotly debated versions in recent history It is the purpose of this book to show the reader how the seven days of Creation written in the book of Genesis can be matched to the sequence of events in evolution It is my hope that a new debate can be born of this The debate of how Genesis and evolution are more similar than they are different Similarly it is my wish to create a sense of wonderment and curiosity to things spiritual and science Paul and the Person Susan Grove Eastman,2017 In this book Susan Grove Eastman presents a fresh and innovative exploration of Paul s participatory theology in conversation with both ancient and contemporary conceptions of the self Juxtaposing Paul ancient philosophers and modern theorists of the person Eastman opens up a conversation that illuminates Paul s thought in new ways and brings his voice into current debates about personhood The Big Earth Book Lonely Planet,Mark Brake,2017-11-01 Planet Earth Four elements One incredible story Lonely Planet Kids The Big Earth Book takes children on a rollercoaster ride through history geography science and more to show how four elements earth fire air and water created the world and everything that exists today Amazing facts photography and illustrations bring our planet and its past to life in an exciting engaging way Written by Mark Brake a science writer and broadcaster who s worked for NASA the BBC and the National Science Museum of Thailand and created in consultation with Dr Mike Goldsmith a research scientist and writer with a PhD in astrophysics from Keele University in the UK Highlights include Earth How the Earth was formed The structure of the Earth Plate tectonics and rocks Earthquakes and volcanoes Humans in the stone age Hunter gatherers and farming Fossils and digging for treasure DNA the code of life Fire Ingredients for fire Fire and humans The history of fire The dangers of wildfire The Great Fire of London Gunpowder and fireworks The combustion engine Carbon and global warming Air What s air made of The Northern Lights How animals learned to fly Dinosaurs in the air Birds and bats The history of flight Speech and language Music and instruments Weather and climate Water The origins of water Rivers and oceans The water cycle The Hanging Gardens of Babylon Canals bridges and dams Exploring the seas The age of
