Morreale, Nicholas L. Paul, 2018-04-10 The establishment of feudal principalities in the Levant in the wake of the First Crusade 1095 1099 saw the beginning of a centuries long process of conquest and colonization of lands in the eastern Mediterranean by French speaking Europeans This book examines different aspects of the life and literary culture associated with this French speaking society It is the first study of the crusades to bring questions of language and culture so intimately into conversation Taking an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the crusader settlements in the Levant this book emphasizes hybridity and innovation the movement of words and people across boundaries seas and continents and the negotiation of identity in a world tied partly to Europe but thoroughly embedded in the Mediterranean and Levantine context Outre-Mer - A Pilgrimage Beyond The Sea Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 2012 This first major work of the famous author is a travelogue of his journeys to Europe It is a form which as every reader knows has been recommended by the high example and success of Mr Irving and in recording only such circumstances as suit his fancy an accomplished traveller is certainly more likely to preserve the proper measure of spirit and freshness than when he enters on the task of preparing an elaborate and formal narrative It must not be supposed that in adopting the form of Mr Irving Longfellow has been guilty of any other imitation They have both entered on the same field in different directions The Pays Outre Mer was the name by which the Holy Land was known to the pilgrims and crusaders and the author describes himself as a pilgrim of the Land beyond the Sea This land filled the visions of his youthful fancy and when he first beheld its shores it was with the same emotions with which the wandering palmer used to hail the bounds of Palestine It does not appear however that in roaming over classic ground he felt as if he were undergoing penance on the contrary he seems to have pursued his journey with a tolerably cheerful spirit and when it was fairly over to have sat down to embody and preserve the recollection of the scenes he had passed through Outre-mer. Drift-wood Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1885

Outre-mer Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1856 The Works of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow: Outre-mer, and Driftwood Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1886 Crusader Art in the Holy Land, From the Third Crusade to the Fall of Acre Jaroslav Folda, 2005-09-05 Publisher Description Outre-mer Longfellow, 1886 Outre-mer and Drift-wood Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1890 Crusading in the Age of Joinville Caroline Smith, 2006 Crusading in the Age of Joinville provides a detailed examination of the ideas and experiences of those who promoted and participated in the crusades of Louis IX of France in the mid thirteenth century It assesses the possibilities and problems associated with the source material highlighting the unique value of John of Joinville s Life of Saint Louis Two distinct approaches are taken to the analysis of these sources The first is thematic to reveal contrasts between the idealised images of crusading depicted by its promoters and the experiences of those who responded Secondly the careers of Joinville and his close contemporary Oliver of Termes provide extended case studies demonstrating that involvement with crusading could have very different origins and expressions
