Etulain, 2017-09-14 Western fans today may not recognize the name Ernest Haycox 1899 1950 but they know his work John Ford turned one of his stories into the iconic film Stagecoach and the whole Western literary genre still follows conventions that Haycox deftly mastered and reshaped In this new book about Haycox's literary career Richard W Etulain tells the engrossing story of his rise through the ranks of popular magazine and serial fiction to become one of the Western's most successful creators. After graduating from the University of Oregon in 1923 with a degree in journalism, Haycox began his quest to break into New York's pulp magazine scene, submitting dozens of stories before he began to make a living from his writing. By the end of the 1920s, he had become a top writer for Western Story, Short Stories, and Adventure, among other popular weeklies and monthlies. Ernest Haycox and the Western traces Haycox's path from rank beginner to crack pulp writer to regular contributor to Collier's and the Saturday Evening Post. Etulain shows how Haycox experimented with techniques to deepen and broaden his Westerns, creating more introspective protagonists, Hamlet heroes, introducing new types of heroines, the brunette vixen, the blonde Puritan, and weaving greater historical realism into his plots. After reaching the height of success with his best-selling Custer novel Bugles in the Afternoon (1944), Haycox moved away from the financially rewarding but artistically constricting Western formula only to achieve his final coup with The Earthbreakers, a historical novel about the end of the Oregon Trail, published posthumously in 1952.

Reconstructing the career of a popular literary giant, Ernest Haycox and the Western restores Haycox to his rightful place in the history of Western literature. Max Brand Max Brand, 1982 Updating the Literary West, 1997 Western writers say Thomas J. Lyon in his epilogue to Updating the Literary West have grown up with the frontier myth but now find themselves in the early stages of creating a new western myth. The editors of the Literary History of the American West (TCU Press, 1987) hoped that the first volume would begin not conclude their exploration of the West's literary heritage. Out of this hope comes Updating the Literary West, a comprehensive reference anthology including essays by over one hundred scholars. A selected bibliography is included with each piece. In the ten years since publication of LHAW, western writing has developed a significantly larger presence in the national literary stream. A variety of cultural viewpoints have developed along with new tactics for literary study. New authors have risen to prominence and the range of subjects has changed and widened. Updating the Literary West looks at topics ranging from western classics to cowboys and Cadillacs and considers children's literature, ethnicity, environmental writing, gender issues, and other topics in which change has been rapid since publication of LHAW. This volume again affirms the West's literary legitimacy, status hard earned by the Western Literary Association and the lasting place of popular western writing as part of the growing and changing literary and American experience. An excellent reference for a wide range of readers and an invaluable resource for scholars and libraries. Selected list of contributors: James Maguire, Fred Erisman, Susan J. Rosowski, Gerald Haslam, Tom Pilkington, A. Carl Bredahl, Richard Slotkin, John G. Cawelti, Robert F. Gish, Ann Ronald, Mick McAllister.
