Near A Thousand Tables A History Of Food:

Near a Thousand Tables Felipe Fernandez-Armesto, 2002-06-04 In Near a Thousand Tables acclaimed food historian Felipe Fernandez Armesto tells the fascinating story of food as cultural as well as culinary history a window on the history of mankind In this appetizingly provocative Los Angeles Times book he guides readers through the eight great revolutions in the world history of food the origins of cooking which set humankind on a course apart from other species the ritualization of eating which brought magic and meaning into people's relationship with what they ate the inception of herding and the invention of agriculture perhaps the two greatest revolutions of all the rise of inequality which led to the development of haute cuisine the long range trade in food which practically alone broke down cultural barriers the ecological exchanges which revolutionized the global distribution of plants and livestock and finally the industrialization and globalization of mass produced food From prehistoric snail herding to Roman banquets to Big Macs to genetically modified tomatoes Near a Thousand Tables is a full course meal of extraordinary narrative brilliant insight and fascinating explorations that will satisfy the hungriest of readers

Near a Thousand Tables Felipe Fernández-Armesto, 2002 Every ingredient of our past and present can be read off our plates our identity our place in society and the place of our society in the world In Near a Thousand Tables Oxford historian Felipe Fernandez Armesto author of Civilizations tells the fascinating story of food as cultural as well as culinary history ecology as well as gastronomy Because cuisine is a perhaps the defining characteristic of a culture Near a Thousand Tables is a sampler of civilizations even more it is an exploration in historical ecology and even of the history of science Above all perhaps because food is universally appealing this is always even at its most instructive unashamedly a book about the pleasures of eating pleasures that have been immortalized by everyone from Homer to M F K Fisher

Interpreting Food at Museums and Historic Sites Michelle Moon, 2015-11-19 Food is such a friendly topic that it's often thought of as a hook for engaging visitors a familiar way into other topics or a sensory element to round out a living history interpretation But it's more than just a hook it's a topic all its own with its own history and its own uncertain future deserving of a central place in historic interpretation With audiences more interested in food than ever before and new research in food studies bringing interdisciplinary approaches to this complicated but compelling subject museums and historic sites have an opportunity to draw new audiences and infuse new meaning into their food presentations You'll find A comprehensive thematic framework of key concepts that will help you contextualize food history interpretations A concise evaluative review of the historiography of food interpretation Case studies featuring the expression of these themes in the real world of museum interpretation and Best practices for interpreting food Interpreting Food at Museums and Historic Sites offers a framework for understanding the big ideas in food history suggesting best practices for linking objects exhibits and demonstrations with the larger story of change in food production and consumption over the past two centuries a story in which your visitors can see themselves and explore their own relationships to food This book can help you develop food interpretation with depth and significance making relevant connections to contemporary issues and visitor interests

The Aesthetics of Taste: Eating within the Realm of Art Dorota Koczanowicz, 2023-02-17 When does eating become art The Aesthetics of Taste answers this question by exploring the position of taste in contemporary culture and the manner in which taste meanders its way into the realm of art The argument identifies aesthetic values not only in artistic practices where they are naturally expected but also in the spaces of everydayness that seem far removed from the domain of fine arts As such it seeks to grasp what artists who offer aesthetic as well as culinary experiences actually try to communicate while also pondering whether a cook can be an artist

Compound Remedies Paula S. DeVos, 2020-12-22 Compound Remedies examines the equipment books and remedies of colonial Mexico City's Herrera pharmacy natural substances with known healing powers that formed part of the basis for modern day healing traditions and home remedies in Mexico Paula S De Vos traces the evolution of the Galenic pharmaceutical tradition from its foundations in ancient Greece to the physician philosophers of medieval Islamic empires and the Latin West and eventually through the Spanish Empire to Mexico offering a global history of the transmission of these materials knowledges and techniques Her detailed inventory of the Herrera pharmacy reveals the many layers of this tradition and how it developed over centuries providing new perspectives and insight into the development of Western science and medicine its varied origins its engagement with and inclusion of multiple knowledge traditions the ways in which these traditions moved and circulated in relation to imperialism and its long term continuities and dramatic transformations De Vos ultimately reveals the great significance of pharmacy and of artisanal pursuits more generally as a cornerstone of ancient medieval and early modern epistemologies and philosophies of nature

Encyclopedia of World Trade: From Ancient Times to the Present Cynthia Clark Northrup, Jerry H. Bentley, Alfred E. Eckes, Jr, Patrick Manning, Kenneth Pomeranz, Steven Topik, 2015-04-10 Written for high school or beginning undergraduate students this four volume reference valiantly attempts to provide a historical framework for the perhaps overly broad concept of world trade Entry topics were selected on trade organizations influential people commodities events that affected trade trade routes navigation religion communica
