Pilgrimage Of Hope One Hundred Years Of Global Interfaith Dialogue:

Pilgrimage of Hope Marcus Braybrooke, 1992      Religious Imaginations James Walters, 2018-12-15 Market globalization technology climate change and postcolonial political forces are together forging a new more modern world However caught up in the mix are some powerful religious narratives that are galvanizing peoples and reimagining and sometimes stifling the political and social order Some are repressive fundamentalist imaginations such as the so called Islamic Caliphate Others could be described as post religious such as the evolution of universal human rights out of the European Christian tradition But the question of the compatibility of these religious worldviews particularly those that have emerged out of the Abrahamic faith traditions is perhaps the most pressing issue in global stability today What scope for dialogue is there between the Jewish Muslim and Christian ways of imagining the future How can we engage with these multiple imaginations to create a shared and peaceful global society Religious Imaginations is an interdisciplinary volume of both new and well known scholars exploring how religious narratives interact with the contemporary geopolitical climate

Christian Imaginations of the Religious Other Marianne Moyaert, 2024-01-31 Explores how Christians created used and adapted religionized categories of non Christians through the centuries Christian Imaginations of the Religious Other traces the genealogy of religionization the various ways Christians throughout history have created a sense of religious normativity while simultaneously producing various categories of non Christian otherness Covering a broad expanse of processes practices and socio political contexts this innovative volume analyzes the complex intersections of patterns of religionization in different eras while investigating their entanglements with racialization sexualization and ethnicization With a readable and accessible style Marianne Moyaert offers a nuanced and well balanced critical analysis of how and why Christianity's others were named, categorized, essentialized, and governed by those exemplifying Christian normativity in Western European society. The author takes a long-term perspective on history that extends past human memory and the archaeological record that integrates different case studies and a variety of ecclesial, theological, and literary documents. Throughout the text, Moyaert demonstrates how religionization shaped the ways Christians classified people, organized Christian societies, interacted with different Christian and non-Christian groups, and more. Surveys the relationship between shifts in Christian normativity and the way non-Christians are imagined. Helps readers connect the lasting effects of patterns of religionization with their everyday experiences. Discusses the role of Christian expansion in the differential and unequal treatment of Christianity's others. Examines legal regulations and disciplinary practices that were established to define the boundaries between Christians and non-Christians. Incorporates a wide range of scholarly resources, cutting-edge research, and the most recent insights and issues in the field. Includes textboxes with helpful summaries, illustrations, and commentary in each chapter.

Christian Imaginations of the Religious Other: A History of Religionization is an excellent textbook for undergraduate and graduate courses in interreligious studies, comparative theology, theological approaches to religious diversity, Christian-Jewish-Muslim relations, race and religion, and theorizing religion. Professor Moyaert is one of the world's best scholars of comparative theology. In this magisterial new work, she helps scholars of religion to better learn how religious images, whether drawn with pictures or words, are crucial to how we understand ourselves and each other.

Amir Hussain, President, American Academy of Religion: Breathtaking in scope and detail, Moyaert offers an original history of the ways Christians have projected distorted images of their religious others with devastating material consequences. Her illuminating story of the past is a searchlight for our present.

Jeannine Hill Fletcher, Professor of Theology, Fordham University: Christian Imaginations is a superb study of the role that Western political programs play in the historical construction of identity boundaries. Analytically erudite and socially committed, Moyaert's book powerfully interrogates what counts as religion-making; this text is a must-read for anyone interested in interreligious studies.

Santiago Slabodsky, Florence and Robert Kaufman Professor in Jewish Studies, Hofstra University: Raising the historical formation of religious identities to the level of contemporary treatments of gender and racialization, Christian Imaginations of the Religious Other is essential reading for students of religion.

Michelle Voss, Professor of Theology and Past Principal, Emmanuel College of Victoria University in the University of Toronto: Crafting a Western European mosaic of religionization's turbulent history, Moyaert unveils how religious identities are constructed, hierarchies function, and their relevance for engaging diverse societies today worldwide.

Hans Gustafson, Adjunct Professor of Theology, University of St. Thomas: Global Ethic Hans Kng, Karl-Josef Kuschel, 1993-12-01. Presents the text of the Declaration and a commentary on its evolution and significance. The message of this book is very timely.

The Leading Edge Explorations In Global Ethics Sumner B Twiss, 2018-03-08. Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the World's Religions, this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue The contributors draw from both communities of discourse in addressing questions of method and theory and global moral issues such as human rights distributive justice politics of war international business the environment and genocide in a cross cultural context Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the World's Religions this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue Its design is premised on two important insights First interreligious dialogue offers to comparative religious ethics a new more persuasive rationale agenda of issues and practical orientation Second comparative religious ethics offers to interreligious dialogue an arsenal of critical tools and methods which will enhance the sophistication of its practical work In this way both theory a dominant concern and strength of comparative religious ethics and praxis a dominant concern and strength of interreligious moral dialogue are joined together in mutual effort each contributing to the benefit of the other The volumes contributors share this vision of collaboration drawing explicitly from both communities of discourse in a manner that crosses disciplinary and professional boundaries to deal creatively and constructively with important methodological and global moral issue Although theory and practice cannot easily be separated in such a collaborative project for the purpose of clarity the volume is divided into two main parts The first specifically engages questions of method theory and the social role of the public intellectual the second on substantive moral themes and issues many of which were raised at the 1993 Parliament Taken together the volumes essays articulate and illustrate new ways of approaching contemporary moral concerns cross culturally yet with a rigor appropriate to our complex and pluralistic world

The Interfaith Movement John Fahy, Jan-Jonathan Bock, 2019-09-05 Although its beginnings can be traced back to the late 19th century the interfaith movement has only recently begun to attract mainstream attention with governments religious leaders and grassroots activists around the world increasingly turning to interfaith dialogue and collective action to address the challenges posed and explore the opportunities presented by religious diversity in a globalising world This volume explores the history and development of the interfaith movement by engaging with new theoretical perspectives and a diverse range of case studies from around the world The first book to bring together experts in the fields of religion politics and social movement theory to offer an in depth social analysis of the interfaith movement it not only sheds new light on the movement itself but challenges the longstanding academic division of labour that confines religious and social movements to separate spheres of inquiry     The Idea of Tradition in the Late Modern World Thomas Albert Howard, 2020-02-10 Our late modern era is marked by the rapidity of change waxing pluralism focus on the future not the past the elevation of personal choice over communal obligation and for some a sense of spiritual and intellectual disorientation that can lead to resentment fear nostalgia and or a disordered desire for absolute certainty and rigid authority How can religious traditions be maintained and even thrive in such an environment How do they negotiate the fluidity of it all and transmit their beliefs and practices to future generations What should be the role of academic authorities vis a vis religious authorities in this process Finally what can different religious traditions learn from one another on the general topic of tradition This volume invites readers to participate in a candid ecumenical and interreligious conversation involving Christian Jewish and Muslim voices The editor and contributors alike contend that the Abrahamic faiths while having honest differences face common challenges from contemporary culture which often fosters incomprehension about the depth breadth and intellectual rigor of religious traditions At the same time traditions can become disengaged and moribund without attending to them with careful reflection discernment and conversation with others who hold different points of view     The Good News of The Kingdom Charles E.
